IOWA.
IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 2.—A $20,000 structure, the Phi Psi fraternity's forthcoming chapter house, is being reared here, on the crest of a hill overlooking Iowa river—with a view miles and miles along the stream granted from the tip of the gabled roof—sixty-five feet above the street level, and the latter at the top of an even higher bluff.

WATERLOO, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Prompted by "safety first," C. E. Wright, agent of the Chicago Great Western railway, has announced that shippers would be prohibited from selling products from cars standing in the yards. The enforcement of this rule will mean the public will not be permitted to buy vegetables and apples from the cars. Mr. Wright says the railroad yards are no place for shoppers.

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Women jitney bus drivers are to operate the jitney line between Iowa State college and the city of Ames. The cab line, which in the past has had no competition in a portion of the college district, now is forced to compete with a new street car extension recently completed which forms a loop through the college vicinity. Women chauffeurs are being adopted with a view of attracting the college boy patronage.

Average 109 Miles an Hour.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, the New York Times aviator, who is attempting a non-stop flight between Chicago and New York, passed over Geneva, Ohio, forty-five miles east of Cleveland, at 9:52 a. m. This is nearly half way in the journey.

Carlstrom has covered 400 miles of his trip in three hours and forty-five minutes, an average of 109 miles an hour.

He should reach Governor's Island, New York City, between 3:30 and 4 o'clock p. m.

If Carlstrom succeeds in reaching New York without making a stop, he will have established a new record for continuous flight in an aeroplane. The previous record was made June 20-21 of this year, by Sub-Lieutenant Marshall of the French service, when he flew from Nancy over Berlin and landed in Austrian Poland. He covered more than 800 miles. He came from New York to Chicago by Carlstrom's route is approximately 900 miles. The flight between the two cities has been attempted before, when Eugene B. Ely made an effort to win the New York Times and the Chicago Evening Post prize of $25,000 and $5,000 offered by Clifford B. Harmon. He was forced to descend after covering about 32 miles. Ely was killed some time later.

On May 21 of this year, Carlstrom established an American record for a non-stop flight, traveling from Newport News to New York, a distance of 416 miles.

When Carlstrom passed over Kearsarge, just south of Erie, he was flying so high he could scarcely be seen. He already has broken his own American record for a non-stop flight.

Forced to Land.
ERIE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, the New York Times aviator, was forced to land here at 11:25 on his flight from Chicago to New York on account of engine trouble. He descended in the outskirts of the city, but was expected to take to the air again soon. Carlstrom's actual flying time was four hours and sixteen minutes from Chicago, covering the distance of approximately 450 miles in the average time of 109 miles an hour.

Despite the fact that he descended, he established a new American non-stop record, the previous best being his own flight of 416 miles from Newport News to New York.

Carlstrom had passed six miles south of the city when he discovered that his gasoline tank had been leaking. He turned and made the landing at Erie.

Carlstrom said he has given up hope of reaching New York City before night. He had traveled 400 miles before he was forced to land. He had a hundred gallons of gasoline would be enough to carry him through, but when he discovered the leak, he did not know how much further he could go so decided to turn back and land.

Through Ohio.
TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Carlstrom passed Swanton, Ohio, at 8:10; Maumee at 8:22; Port Clinton at 8:40; south of Sandusky at 8:50, and Huron at 8:55, central time.

LORAIN, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Carlstrom passed Lorain at 10:10, eastern time.

GENEVA, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Carlstrom passed Geneva, Ohio, at 10:52.

Over Pennsylvania.

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Carlstrom flew over North Girard, eighteen miles west of here, at 11:13 a. m., eastern time.

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Carlstrom landed on the outskirts of this city, the Bell telephone reported at 11:40 a. m.

Duty on Imports.
JUAREZ, Mexico, Nov. 2.—A new scale of duties on imports into Mexico went into effect today, under a decree issued recently by First Chief Carranza. Duties on many staples, including food and clothing, have been raised to almost prohibitive figures and it was predicted today importation of some articles would be stopped altogether.

The duty on oats, of which large quantities are being shipped to the American expedition, is raised to $7.50 per ton. Wheat, corn and hay, however, are free.

The heaviest duties have been placed on milk at 20 cents per kilo (2 1/2 pounds); 10 cents per kilo on flour and 20 cents per kilo on canned meats.

border when the wires were reopened today.

Bandit Chiefs Murga and Guesado, allied with Villa and noted for their cruelty, were in command of the Villista detachment.

The train which left Juarez Monday was heavily loaded with passengers. All were ordered from the cars, lined up and robbed of their valuables and in some cases of their clothing and shoes.

Dr. Haefner, a German physician of Chihuahua City, was returned from El Paso to his home. One bandit struck him over the head with a rifle butt, rendering him unconscious, according to announcement received at the Carranza consulate. Few other passengers were harmed, unless they resisted. The armed escort of twenty-eight men from Juarez garrison were taken by the bandits. The passengers were then held under guard while another party looted the express car and carried away everything of value. As soon as information of the slaughter reached Chihuahua City, a military train with 400 federal soldiers aboard was hurried north to Samaj in an attempt to strike the raiders. The consulate announcement tacitly admitted that the railway line is still severed at several points and Chihuahua City still isolated. No trains are leaving Juarez today.

The official bulletin continues: "The main column of General Matineo reached the border about eight miles south of Chihuahua City on their way to Santa Rosalia, San Buenaventura and Namiquipa, reoccupied by government troops.

"Three bands" executed at Namiquipa."

Roosevelt on the Stump.

(By J. P. Yoder, United Press Staff [By J. P. Yoder, United Press Staff])
TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Why President Wilson should not be re-elected—his pet theme—was the subject of Colonel Roosevelt's speech here at noon today, when he invaded the Buckeye state for Hughes rallies here and at Cleveland.

He spoke at Cleveland tonight.

"The man who told us yesterday in speeches at Buffalo," said Roosevelt, "that questions involving human lives should not be dragged into politics." Very true. Fine words. They why has he done it?

"Let me give you a homely example. Suppose a municipal administration throws a city wide open to the murderers, vice and burglars. The colonel has no remedy for such a situation except through politics. Such administration forces other citizens who want decent government to resort to politics and that is what Mr. Wilson's administration has forced us to do."

As a sub-topic the colonel emphasized "True Americanism." He quoted from "The True Faith and Allegiance" written by a German-American, Gustav Ohlinger at Toledo, with an introduction by Owen Wister. The book is a vigorous denunciation of the foreigner who comes here to reap the benefits of America's free government, but fails to give his full allegiance to the stars and stripes.

The colonel got big reception here. He was paraded in state to the hall where he spoke.

Hallowe'en Party on Train.

ON BOARD HUGHES SPECIAL, BATAVIA, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Resting from arduous campaigning, Candidate Hughes and his wife last night attended a Hallowe'en party given by newspaper staff correspondents on board the Hughes special. Both entered into the spirit of the festivities, wore fancy caps and blew horns.

Hughes introduced Mrs. Hughes as the principal speaker of the evening and she got back by remarking that her only claim to oratorical ability lay in her last name.

The newspaper men staged a burlesque on heckling and the governor entered into this skit by hurling some formidable questions at his hosts.

Parade Saturday Night.
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Civil war veterans carrying banners with the slogan, "We were not too proud to fight," will march with 35,000 (Republican estimate) other Chicagoans in the Hughes parade to be staged here Saturday.

Long Commission Co. Grain Letter.
(Furnished by Long Commission Co., 403 Main St. Telephone No. 100.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Wheat—The tables were reversed today in wheat, due to heavy absorption on the way down by export interests and foreigners. There was also help on the bull-side from the Argentine where rains were insufficient and from Australia, where rust is said to be spreading. Export sales the last four days have been very large, and this has counteracted the bearish effect of the difficulty in securing insurance and the general liquidation, which this situation has caused in the December delivery Northwest market and Winnipeg which have been inclined to drag, followed our advance today. The technical condition of the market has been much improved by the decline. On moderate setbacks, therefore, from this level, the buying side seems safer.

Corn—Became oversold, local bears pressing the selling side on a weak opening this morning. The market quickly recovered today after a heavy turned strong. Late reports indicate that rains in the Argentine have been insufficient. Export demand is said to be showing some improvement. While prevailing prices should not encourage investment buying, it is not to be expected that cereal prices will be very low this year under prevailing world's conditions.

Oats—Oats followed the advance in other grains. Export demand is of such proportions as to hold the market firm on breaks. There is however, a large long interest which will prove a serious handicap to bull operations on bulges.

Grain Review.
[United Press Leased Wire Service]
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Wheat showed a sharp recovery today after a heavy decline yesterday, due chiefly to closing out sales. Buying again became general when the market opened at yesterday's prices and steady gains were made despite reports of rain in Argentine and indications that some Australian wheat would be marketed in the United States. December was up over today's opening 2 1/4 at 185 1/4. May up 3/4 at 185 1/4 and July up 2/4 at 149 1/4.

Corn had a good recovery on general commission house buying. December up 2 1/4 at 86 1/4 and May up 1 1/4 at 88 1/4.

Oats were easy and failed to show the gains along with the other grains. December was up 1/4 at 54 1/4 and May up 1/4 at 54 1/4.

Provisions were lower on a fair amount of stop loss orders.

St. Louis Horses and Mules.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—Horses—The auction was held by the Campbell Reid and Western Sale Stables company and in the neighborhood of 500 horses were offered to buyers. The bulk of the demand was from the south and early rounds of selling showed a steady range of prices.

Mules—On good quality cotton mules extra fat, it was a steady market, but mediums could be purchased cheaper than a week ago. Strictly choice mules sold about steady, but demand was limited and nothing aside from strictly choice stuff found buyers. There was some demand for good sugar mules, and a load or two of these were shipped out to Louisiana. For war mules there was little or no demand. This class is still making a great deal of money for the shipper, as the stock has to be just right to sell, and as there is no competition, the seller to get rid of them has to let them go pretty cheap. The trade cleared up a good deal of stock.

dispatches from the Verdun front Saturday night declared that Fort Vaux was surrounded on three sides by French whose artillery was cutting off supplies to the Germans.

"North of the Somme, artillery activity was renewed in local actions. An English advance north of Courcellette was easily repulsed.

"French attacks in the sector of Les Bouffes and Ranocourt brought small advantages for the enemy. Northeast of Morval and on the northwest edge of Perdey, the French, the enemy attacks were repulsed, repulsed with sanguinary losses. Our troops, in spite of tenacious French resistance made an advance in the north part of Sully.

"In the eastern war theatre, Prince Leopold's front, in the army group of General Von Linsingen, West Flanders and East Prussian troops under command, General Von Dittfurth's command, stormed Russian advanced positions near and south of Vitonoz, on the left bank of the Stochod. Besides suffering heavy losses, the enemy left twenty-two officers and 1,500 men in our hands. We captured ten machine guns and three mine throwers. Our losses were small.
