Corn 20c, oats 15c, wheat 65@70c, hogs $3.35@3.50.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stender are State Fair visitors this week.

Will Hoegh and Jens Christoffersen are attending the State Fair.

Mrs. A. W. Brown was at Stuart this week visiting with her sister.

Uncle Thomas McGuire was not feeling very skittish the whole of last week.

Uncle Mark Herth had his house reshipped this week. His son, Del, did the work.

Mrs. Stoneking's baby was so ill on last Tuesday morning that they had to go for the doctor.

Owen Ide and J. C. Hardman got together Monday and "swapped" some of their flock of sheep.

Jake Bendixen was busy putting some tin work on Eli Hansen's barn and buildings, last Tuesday.

Nels Polsson is building a new house 16by24 feet with an "L" 14by14 feet, on his fine farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Peterson are the parents of a fine boy baby, that was born to them last Monday.

Rasmus Rasmussen is renovating and rebuilding his house on his fine farm a short way west of Bryton.

Roscoe Essington was at Exira last Saturday and bought one of George Henshaw's best Schuttler wagons.

P. P. Kilgore shipped J. H. Johnson's goods from Brayton to Greenville, Michigan, last Tuesday noon.

Mrs. B. F. Simpson attended the State Fair and visited with her relatives, Will Chambers and wife, this week.

They told us that Sam and his girl had a solemn time going to the tent meetings on Troublsome, last Sunday night.

John T. Jenkins was attacked by his old army trouble and the first of the week was obliged to keep his room.

Lou Miller reports grain coming to Brayton in large quantities and is well satisfied with the amount he receives.

The merchants of Oakfield and Brayton are buying lots of poultry these days and are paying the top market price.

Mr. Nels Sornson will occupy the pulpit of the Brayton Baptist church next Sunday evening and his subject will be "Hell."

Walter Faulkner was at the State Fair until Wednesday and that evening Mrs. Faulkner went down to the Fair for a day or two.

Thomas Kelley and Tom McGovern went the north part of the county, in vicinity of Gray, the first of the week to buy feeding cattle.

Charley Bisom is building a sheep house, on his farm, fifty feet long in which his flock can hover on cold in the winter time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hawk came home from their western trip last Saturday and were much pleased with the country 'round about York.

Charlie Jenkins' work team became frightened and ran away the other day and before they were stopped one of the horses was terribly out in a barb wire fence.

Charlie Milliman and family bid their Oakfield relatives and friends good-bye, last Tuesday, and moved back to Exira where they will occupy the Will Brinkerhoff new cottage.

Owen Ide and Ernie Cotton rode up to Audubon one night this week and brought home a fine flock of sheep. They purchased thirty-eight head of B. H. Oelke; eighteen of Jake Mashing and fifteen head of Wm. Clark. These together with the eighty head that Owen had makes him a nice sized flock.

Last Sunday Misses Mary Cotton, Blösson Brinkerhoff, Gussie Brown, Adele Marshall, Estie Simpson, Christine Thompson, Anna and Elsie Stender, Irene Jenkins, Roscoe Essington, Frank Devine and Willis Jenkins all drove to Atlantic in a lumber wagon last Sunday and attended the Baptist meeting.

Last Sunday while Peter Miller, of Oakfield township, and his sister, Miss Amalie, were driving to the Hoegh celebration, they escaped what might have been a very serious runaway. They were going down a hill when the neck yoke broke and the horses proceeded to disengage themselves from the buggy but not injured. Mr. Miller finally got the horses stopped and everything repaired.

Andrew Jensen, of Atlantic, who has relatives in Oakfield township, ended his own life last Wednesday morning. Despondency brought on by financial reverses is said to have caused the desperate act. He was 35 years old and leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his untimely death. He carried life insurance amounting to $3,000, which will come as a God send to the bereaved family.

Last Sunday, Sept. 12th, 1897, was the 50th birthday of Supervisor Nels P. Hoegh and in honor of the event his friends gathered at his pleasant home in Oakfield township in large numbers. Many of the guests arrived early and partook of the splendid mid-day repast. By 2 o'clock nearly 300 people had assembled on the shady lawn and then came the event of the day. The guests were quietly called together in a group and then Mr. Hoegh was presented with an elegant gold watch and chain. The watch bore this inscription neatly engraved in Danish, which translated in English reads: "Presented by friends to Nels P. Hoegh, on his 50th birthday, 1897." Rev. Gravengaard made the presentation speech. The gift came as a total surprise to Mr. Hoegh and he responded with thanks. The rest of the afternoon was spent in a social meeting and to say that the guests were highly entertained in putting it mildly. Coffee, cake, ice cream and various other refreshments were served and in the evening a bounteous supper was spread. The Oak Hill band was present and filled the air with delightful music. All enjoyed themselves immensely and it was an occasion that will never be forgotten. "This only men like Mr. Hoegh who receive such tokens of friendship and good will as was presented to him Sunday and well does he deserve it. If there is any man in Audubon county who has merited the credit and honor bestowed upon him that man is Nels P. Hoegh. He has lived here for many years and has always proved himself a grand good man for the community. While he has enjoyed much prosperity he has always been a friend to the needy. It is a proud day for Mr. Hoegh."

A letter from Hayde Jenkins, who was then at Galveston, Texas, says that he had submitted to a surgical operation, and that he had to go to see the doctor every day. There was no yellow fever there when he wrote and Hayde said he was ready to flee to the mountains at the first approach of that dreaded disease.

The other moonlight night Meandering Dick concluded to invade a neighboring melon patch for the purpose of "jayhawking" some melons. It was too funny to keep to himself and so he let two boon companions into the secret but they, Judas like, went over to the enemy and shot him when he was in the act of putting one of the four large melons into his pocket. Two of the good and lay off in mortal agony.

Dave Carpenter is wielding the paint brush for Jens Hansen.

Miss Liza Hawk is stopping with the McGuire family, at Oakfield.

L. D. Pearson and his son L. D. were State Fair visitors Tuesday.

Joe Smith and Ben Clark attended campmeeting at Lewis last Sunday.

Elmer Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Green, is very ill of typhoid fever.

Jens Hansen soon goes to Council Bluffs to decorate Mrs. Ballard's residence.

John McConnell was so ill this week that Doctor Riley, of Exira, was called.

Lawyer Theo. F. Myers, of Audubon, was a guest of P. F. Howell on Monday evening.

Jake Gwilliams is preparing to move to Des Moines where he will work in the coal mines.

Frank Greer and Theo Ordway flung dull care to the dogs and visited the State fair this week.

Charlie Doner and family will move to John Lora's house and Ben Shirey will occupy the McGuire cottage.

I. P. Hallock has enlarged his deer park and now they have the free use of the whole yard north of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rattenborg, of Oakfield township, are the proud parents of a sweet girl baby, born last week.

Mrs. Nettie Bruner was too ill to teach a part of the past week and her sister, Blossom Brinkerhoff, taught in her stead.

Mrs. I. H. Jenkins, S. B. Clark and Del Heath were among those who attended the Baptist meeting, at Atlantic, last Sunday.

Jens C. Hansen, the big stock feeder of Oakfield township, is now feeding a nice bunch of cattle for the December market.

The Three Smiths have added to the beauty of interior of their store, at Oakfield, by placing new show cases upon their counters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hawk came home from their western trip last Saturday and were much pleased with the country 'round about York.

Charlie Jenkins' work team became frightened and ran away the other day and before they were stopped one of the horses was terribly out in a barb wire fence.

DIETZ Crystal Lantern

A high-grade Tubular Lantern with a securely guarded glass found in place of the ordinary in one. This feature permits the amount of oil to be seen at a glance, and of course, renders leakage impossible. This Lantern has our improved side light and while the lantern is so shielded as to render its breakage impossible, if broken it can easily be replaced.

We make a vast assortment of Lanterns, and have a highly suggestive little Catalogue, illustrating many favorite styles—a copy of which may be had for the asking.

This lantern, and indeed any other one of our make, can be had of your dealer—often without insistence, but always with it.

Your Cough,

like a dog's bark, is a sign that there is something foreign around which shouldn't be there. You can quiet the noise, but the danger may be there just the same. SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil is not a cough specific; it does not merely allay the symptoms but it does give such strength to the body that it is able to throw off the disease.

You know the old proverb of "the ounce of prevention?" Don't neglect your cough. A book which will tell you more on the subject sent free on request.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. Put up in 50 cts. and $1.00 sizes.

Kimballton and Elkhorn.

Joe Larsen is sick of intestine troubles.

Jorgen Marcussen marketed a dozen fat hogs at Audubon today.

Peter Nielsen and Erik Hansen go to the Omaha fair this week.

Geo. Marcussen lost a good calf Sunday by drowning in a spring.

J. C. Christensen, west of Kimballton, lost an old family horse one day last week.

Soren Mortensen and J. C. Christensen are having a hot time over a line fence.

BORN.—To Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lange, of north Sharon, on last Thursday, a boy.

Chris Marcussen marketed some fine light hogs at Audubon Wednesday. He got $3.50 per cwt.

Andrew H. Andersen is a very sick man. A. Berggren is in charge of the Esbeck establishment.

The fall term at the Elkhorn college begins Oct. 15. Rev. P. L. C. Hansen is the new president.

Mr. and Mrs. Niels Hansen are to be congratulated on the arrival of a boy baby at their home last week.

Mrs. N. B. Andersen is home from Harlan and is rapidly recovering from a successful surgical operation.

P. Andersen, the Kimballton photographer, was at Elkhorn Tuesday trying to rent rooms preparatory to putting in a gallery at that place.

The Kimballton creamery company meets Saturday, Sept. 25th, to elect officers for the ensuing year and to let the milk routes to the lowest bidder.

Lorentz Jensen and family drove over to Shelby county last Sunday to help Mr. Jorgen Lorentzen celebrate his 60th birthday. These two and old boys are brothers-in-law.

Jens Kjer, of Atlantic, came up to Kimballton Saturday evening and took the degree of the Prince of the Orient. The same degree was also conferred on Jens Sorensen.

N. C. Jensen has his Elkhorn furniture store nearly completed and by next week will have the same ready to receive the stock of furniture and carpets which will arrive here soon.

While Christoffersen Bros. were threshing at C. L. Hansen's Wednesday, Joe Elmquist came along and took a large sized photograph of the big machine and all hands that were present.

Rasmus Hansen, John and Chris Peterson, attended the state fair this week. While in the Capitol City the Elkhorn merchants bought some new clothing and other stock for the big store.

Hamlet Lodge, K. of P. will hold their annual picnic at Peter Madsen's place, east of Kimballton next Sunday. The Kimballton band will furnish music and all expect a good time.

Martin Esbeck, C. W. Boyesen, A. C. Nelson and wife and Mads Walters will join the big excursion next Tuesday and go to southeastern Texas to visit relatives and look after land interests.

Willas Rattenborg last week sold his house on the southwest corner of Sec. 1, Clay township, to A. Berggren for the sum of $450. Mr. Berggren and family moved into the same last week.

Jens Hansen, the little Brayton painter, is artistically decorating the Bethania church, north of Kimballton, inside and out. Next week he will paint Chris N. Christensen's house. Jens' work shows up well and he does lots of it.

Last Friday while Jens Larsen, near the West Hamlin creamery, was away from home, his barn caught fire and was burned to the ground. Fifty tons of hay and considerable other stuff was also burned. It was the same old story—a small boy, a match and some straw did the business.

C. E. Kringle, who is well and favorably known among the Danish people of Audubon and Shelby counties through his connection with the Danish paper published at Atlantic some years ago, and later as a salesman at Christensen Bros. store, has accepted a position as salesman at J. H. Marshall's store at Atlantic where he will be pleased to see all of his old friends as well as new ones.

One day last week while Chris Olsen's little girl was at school in Oakfield township she ate her luncheon and in some way got a bone stuck in her throat. It was soon found impossible to remove it without surgical skill and the child was brought home. Several surgeons were hastily summoned and the painful operation of cutting the substance out was performed. The poor little girl is now slowly recovering.

The West Hamlin creamery company held a meeting Tuesday for the purpose of hiring a buttermaker for the next year. The proposed rate of salary was fixed at 5 1/2 per cent. The present buttermaker—Hans Petersen—refused to accept this offer and after a heated discussion a committee of five was appointed to employ a buttermaker at the above terms. We understand that they have engaged Julius Andersen, of the Kimballton creamery, to take Mr. Petersen's place after November 1st.

Nis Hjulter, who lives on the Ridge road sustained a severe loss by fire last week. Early last Thursday morning fire broke out in his barn and in a few minutes it was burned to the ground. Mr. Hjulter managed to get one of his horses out but the other two perished in the flames. A corn crib containing 450 bushels of 1895 corn and a new set of harness also went up in smoke. Several of the neighbors rushed to the scene but arrived too late to extinguish the Mythical Creatures.

Now that the cold light of science has thrown its ray upon the most remote parts of our globe, there is no longer room for legendary creatures—save the sea serpent—and we are told that the mermaid is nothing more than a dugong, a unicorn either a rhinoceros or a Tibetan antelope, while the cockatrice, the phoenix and the roo appear to be pure imaginations.

But in the Elizabethan age—an age when the gods had but recently been discovered—these, and many other mythical creatures were, if not living, at all events actual realities to the ordinary public, and as such were referred to in the works of the great dramatist and other contemporary writers. We meet, for instance, in the "Winter's Tale" the line, "Make me not sighted like the basilisk," and in "The Tempest," "Now I will believe that there are unicorns." But not only was more or less of credulity given to the existence of these and such like fabulous monsters, but a web of mystic lore encircled the most common and best known of beasts, birds and fishes. Who, for instance, is forgetful of the popular superstitions connected with the salamander, the newt and the blindworm, and who fails to remember White's account of the "shrewwash" at Selborne? And if such superstitions still survive among uneducated peasants of the present day we may be assured that two centuries ago they were fully believed by the higher classes.—Nature.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schell, with Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis, Missouri. "I dressed the wound and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or preparation equal to it. I consider it a household necessity. The 25c and 50c sizes for sale by C. W. Houston, Exira; A. H. Roberts, Audubon.

"I suffered with heart disease. First a slight palpitation, gradually growing worse. Then shortness of breath, sleeplessness, smothering sensations and much pain in the region of the heart alarmed me and I consulted a physician. Receiving no benefit I tried others and a number of remedies, spending a large amount of money, but finally became so bad that it was unsafe for me to leave home. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure two years ago. Although 72 years of age I can go where I wish and I sleep all night and wake up as cheerful as a babe and completely restored."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first-class benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

Painful Eruptions

Continued to Spread and Discharge Until Blood Was Purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My sister was afflicted with eruptions around her ears which kept getting worse and spreading until they became very painful. The sores would discharge and were exceedingly disagreeable. We made up our minds we must do something for her and we procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She continued taking it until she was entirely cured." NADIA DUNNING, Concord, Wisconsin.

"After having tumors removed I was very weak. I had a headache all the time and a dreadful tired feeling. My daughter urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I did so, and after taking three bottles I was relieved of these troubles." E. V. ASTLE, Merrimack, Wisconsin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5.

It is prompt, efficient and easy in effect. 25 cents.
