Harry Miller, Brayton, Ia.

One lone and lonesome virtue can never make a well rounded man. It's not special features that make the Ford a great car—but the perfection of all its parts. Not one virtue, but the happy combination of an endless list of virtues makes the Ford "the universal car."

Seventy-five thousand new Fords go into service this season—proof of their unequalled merit. The price is $590. for the roadster, $690. for the five passenger car, and $700. for the delivery car—complete with all equipment, f. o. b. Detroit. Latest catalogue from Powell & Harvey, Exira, Iowa, or direct from Detroit factory.
