

Farmers Must Stand Increases Given To Rail Men--Wilson

"Tama Jim" Wilson Says Roads Must Look to the Farmer to Make Up Increase

New York, N. Y., September 28-- was to fix the eight hours for a "That the farmer foots the bill" day's work on the railroads, but for the increased cost of railway others worthy of credence, assure operation due to the Adamson bill us that the proposal was merely one forced thru congress by President Wilson at the demand of the railway brotherhoods, is the contention of the Hon. James Wilson, formerly secretary of agriculture. Ex-Secretary Wilson says:

"Much is being said these days regarding increased pay for railroad men. Four of the railway brotherhoods went to the chief executive and demanded ten hours' pay for eight hours' work, fixing a day in the immediate future when they would strike and tie up the business of the country if their demands were not complied with. This is the kernel of the proposition being discussed thruout the length and breadth of the land. We hear from some sources that the movement clerks, signal men, trackmen, telegraphers and others who are paid very moderate wages, but the operators whose pay runs up to and over two hundred dollars a month. Eight hours a day may be long enough for those engaged in some lines of exacting work. Should this number of hours be comfortable in all occupations the farm included, the prices of food would rise still higher than those current at the present time.

THE FARMER PAYS.

"Where will the money come from to pay these increases? The railroads get money from the shippers. The large majority of the shippers are the farmers. The board having authority to raise or lower rates gave that authority to make increases, stating to the country that certain roads did not have sufficient incomes to pay necessary expenses. If this proposed reduction of hours for a few employes decided by congress under pressure from the president, is sustained by the court, what will follow?"

"The city of New York is dealing now with the first fruits of action without consideration, something new for congress, something new for a president to ask of congress. Where will this end? Four men represented a class a limited class, a well paid class, a much better paid class than many others in the carrying business. Congress did not consider, and it has set a dangerous precedent without knowledge of all the facts. Fifty millions of dollars added to freight and fares for a few railway employes and those already the best paid, without a word about facts--the farmers to pay the bills.

"Who comes next to try this new holdup game on congress? Four men did it this time. What a wraith now stalks in the land. Roosevelt settled a coal strike by appointment of a committee to get the facts and find where justice would rest. Then arbitrate, a committee from several walks of life but of broad-minded men whose decision satisfied the country and the interests affected. That is old-fashioned.

MORE PAY FOR FEW

"The new method is to threaten the president with anarchy, hold a watch on congress, scout such things as facts and arbitration, hoist freights and fares and snap your fingers at the people. Who comes next? And for how much.

"The eight-hour day for all the railway men is not what was demanded. It was more pay for well-paid few. The railway division are already established and can only be changed at great expense. The trainmen have in many instances purchased homes at division points and a change would entail great expense to them. The law enacted will increase the compensation of members of the brotherhoods about twenty-five per cent. About twenty per cent of all the railway employes will come within the scope of this law. It is a demand on the part by the brotherhood chiefs for the privilege of fixing their own pay at the expense of the lower salaried employes, the shippers and the producers of the country." -- The Des Moines Capital, 9-29-16.

How Catarrh is Contracted

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. For sale by T. T. Kearney.

STILL BIGGER.

Washington, D. C., Sept 28-- Battleships equipped with eighteen-inch guns, three inches bigger than any now afloat and two inches greater than the largest guns projected for the new battleships and battle cruisers to be added to the American navy, are now under construction in Great Britain according to un-official advices which are given credence by naval officials here. The big weapons are designed primarily, officials believe for use against land fortifications.
