Happy New Year!

HERE'S real delight in being sentimental now and then; in opening one's heart; in anointing one's soul with the oil of kindness; in passing along a part of the happiness one feels.

It is good to be alive at the holiday season; to share our joys with others; to increase our happiness by giving a part to those who may have less.

In this joyous holiday season we hope your cup may be filled, and that prosperity, happiness, and good cheer may be yours throughout the coming year.
