BUT EIGHT DEATHS REPORTED IN CITY DESPITE CONTINUED BOMBARDMENT.

1000 TURKS REPORTED TAKEN

65,000 Turks and Arabs Battling Bulgars in Peninsula of Gallipoli

—Grand Vizier to Front.

Sofia, Feb. 6.—A news dispatch from the front tonight said that the Turks made a sortie from Adrianople and 1,000 of them were captured by the Bulgarian forces, who drove the rest back into the fortress.

Sharp Engagement On. London.—A sharp engagement began late yesterday on the Tchatalja lines, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. The roar of the cannon is said to be plainly audible in the Turkish capital.

A report that the Bulgarians had decided to suspend operations for twenty-four hours so as to give the Turkish garrison an opportunity to surrender appears to be with foundation as are many of the stories spread broadcast in reference to conditions around and in the beleaguered fortress.

Only Eight Deaths in City. Constantinople.—The forty-eight-hour bombardment of Adrianople by the Bulgarians and Servians has thus far resulted in only eight deaths within the city, according to the war office's official statement. Fifty private houses have been set on fire.

Shukri Pasha, commander-in-chief of Adrianople, reported by wireless telegraph to the war office here today: "The enemy is bombarding us. One hundred and thirty-eight common shells and eleven shrapnel have fallen in the city, killing eight people and wounding ten. Several houses are in flames. The bombardment continues." Mahmoud Shekhet Pasha, Turkish grand vizier and minister of war, left for the front at noon today. His departure is taken to indicate that some forward action is contemplated by the army at Tchatalja.

45,000 Turks and Arabs in Battle. Vienna.—The desperate battle between the Turks and Bulgars in the peninsula of Gallipoli was resumed at sunrise and heavy losses were reported on both sides. Turks and Arabs from Asia Minor to the number of 45,000 are engaged. The object of Bulgaria's flank movement in Gallipoli is to capture the Dardanelles fortifications and open the way for the bombardment of Constantinople by the Greek fleet. A Sofia dispatch said that all foreigners and non-combatants have left Adrianople.

Scutari Not Taken. London.—Dispatches stating that Scutari had fallen have been officially denied today in Constantinople.

Vienna.—The Neu Freie Presse's Constantinople correspondent says that the Turkish cabinet has agreed in principle to the cessation of hostilities. The Neu Freie Presse is regarded as the channel of Young Turkish communications.

Wilson Likes Wisconsin Primary Law. Princeton, Feb. 6.—President-elect Wilson declared himself in favor of a radical change in the primary laws of New Jersey to be applied not only to the nominations for United States senator, but the governorship as well. A bill is being prepared, he said, modeled after the Wisconsin system, which was championed by Senator La Follette. It will be amended to permit second choice voting. SHOE MACHINERY TRUST WINS

U. S. LOSES POINT IN THE CASE AGAINST ALLEGED COMBINE.

Court Declares Combination of Non-Competitors Not Violation of Law.

Washington, Feb. 4.—For the first time the supreme court of the United States held in effect in the "shoe machinery trust" case that the Sherman anti-trust law does not forbid the mere combining of non-competitors in an industry. Solicitor General Bullitt, for the government, had contended that if the combination brought into one hand "undue proportion" of the trade it was forbidden by the anti-trust law.

"The disintegration aimed at by the statute does not extend to reducing all manufacture to isolated units of the lowest degree," declared Justice Holmes in announcing the unanimous decision of the court that the mere organization of the United Shoe Machinery company by the heads of several non-competing groups of shoe manufacturers had not been a violation of the law.

The justice continued to say that it is as lawful for one corporation to make "every part" of a steam engine and to put the machine together as it would be for one to make the boilers and another to make the wheels.

In explanation of this concise statement of law, he referred to the court's recent Minnesota creamery decision, and the older Swift and company decision in which it was held that an "intent" is necessary as an element of attempting to monopolize. The bringing of non-competing branches of a trade into just a position alone by means of a corporation, he said, in substance, did not furnish sufficient "intent" to raise the conduct to the dignity of an attempt to monopolize.

Despite the decision officials of the department of justice declare that the United States Shoe Machinery company will be prosecuted for the alleged violation of the Sherman law under the one remaining count of the indictments returned against the company, the validity of which was sustained by the lower court.

That count, which was not before the supreme court, charged that the company was monopolizing the industry by combination, by trying the various shoe machines together, by the destruction of competition and by the acquisition of competitors' business. Officials vigorously maintained that the decision did not affect the government's case on this count.

Kocian Brilliant Young Violinist.

The young Bohemian music master, Jaroslav Kocian, and his accompanist, Maurice Eisner, who is a star of scarcely less magnitude than himself, held a medium-sized crowd at the Lyceum theater in rapt attention with their exquisite renditions for nearly two hours last night. Kocian has been heralded from European countries as a violinist with the genius and skill of Paganini, and his selections at the Lyceum bore out the reputation that had preceded him.

He and his companion met with one of the most cordial receptions that Duluth music lovers have given in some time. His every appearance was the signal for prolonged applause, and the audience was loath to let him cease at the conclusion of his numbers. Mr. Eisner encountered a similar fate, being compelled to play several encores on the piano before his hearers were satisfied.

Paganini's "I Palpiti," as rendered by Kocian, found the heartiest response in his audience, and, although this was the last number on the program, they would not let curtain drop until an encore was played. Kocian's "Humoresque" proved a sprightly and delightful conception, which after an encore, was followed by Ries' "Adagio" and Hubays' "Zephyr."

The young violinist draws a beautiful tone from his instrument, and reveals the pronounced individuality that has put him in the front rank among the musicians of the world. His technical finish was particularly apparent in the unaccompanied numbers.

Mr. Eisner showed to excellent advantage in all his piano numbers, but received the most liberal applause for his rendition of MacDowell's "Etude," his execution in this piece being solely with the left hand. He also gave a very fine account of Chopin's "Nocturno, op. 15, No. 2," and Rameau's "Serauade and Rigaudon."—The Duluth News Tribune, Nov. 15, 1910.

Kocian will be at Protivin Sunday afternoon, March 30th, 1913.

COUNTY NEWS

LIME SPRINGS.

The high school held their first county fair Friday night, and to say it was a great success, would hardly place us in the Ananias club. The attractions advertised were of such a nature as would draw crowds from a great distance, and if it had not been for the inclemency of the weather the school house would not have held the people. As it was a large crowd was present and patronized the different attractions. There was the Egyptian princess, who could tell all about the past, present and future. There was a merry-go-round to take a ride on, and it would remind one of the bucking of the Woodman goat. There was an animal show that would make Barnum's show look tame. Teddy bears, hounds and a select variety of cats that can only only be found in Lime Springs. There was a brass band worthy of a place in the procession with President Wilson March 4th, a farce that everyone present said to be worth the money. These are but a few of the many attractions. I ought to have mentioned the fat lady, as she certainly had the fat right and when one considers that she walks about eight miles a day, five days a week, it is no wonder she has lots of muscle. The teachers and the members of the high school are well pleased over the outcome of their first county fair. The net receipts were about $45.
