There's warmth, health and comfort with a Green COLONIAL Furnace

Every part of your house is made warm and livable, even in the coldest weather. Comfort and enjoyment are added to each room, supplying them with pure, fresh, warm, ever changing air—free from dust, gas or smoke. A COLONIAL requires very little care—nothing to get out of order—everything plain, simple, easily and quickly understood. In the COLONIAL, every part is perfected—not one weakness—not one experiment—all "risks" and "chances" and "uncertainties" are eliminated.

No furnace is better built—none built with greater care and knowledge than the COLONIAL. This, we prove to you, in our guarantee—the strongest guarantee that has ever been given on a furnace. Every part of the COLONIAL, except the grates, is guaranteed not to crack or burn out within five years, or to ever break from a defect. There is a COLONIAL for you, which can be so installed that you will receive good value for your furnace money.

Some of the good things about a Colonial—

- Few parts—making it simple and easy to operate.
- Castings tough and elastic—insuring durability and service.
- Fire pot slotted and one piece—burning the gases and smoke.
- Four separate grate bars—preventing the loss of fuel.
- Double feed doors—giving greater convenience.
- Ash pit high and roomy—so the grates will not burn out.
- The base in one piece—to prevent furnace settling.
