Our Washington Letter.

Within a week the Democratic tariff bill will be a law. The bill represents an average reduction of 28 per cent. from the rates of the existing Payne-Aldrich law, and as it passed the Senate carried reductions of more than 4 per cent. below the House bill. President Wilson has expressed heartiest approval of the bill as it passed Congress and went to conference for final action. He expressed his approval in the following statement:

"A fight for the people and for free business which has lasted a long generation through has at last been won, handsomely and completely. A leadership and a steadfastness in counsel has been shown in both Houses, of which the Democratic party has reason to be very proud. There has been no weakness or confusion or drawing back, but a statesman-like directness and command of circumstances. I am happy to have been connected with the government of the nation at a time when such things could happen and to have worked in association with men who could do them."

Supplementary statements also were issued by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin (Republican), and Senator Poindexter of Washington (Progressive), who supported the bill.

"I realize what I did was a political sacrifice, but that within me compelled me to vote for the bill," Senator La-Follette said. "The tariff act of 1909 was but little short of a crime." Senator Poindexter explaining his vote said: "I voted for the Senate tariff bill because it is, as a whole, a better bill than the Payne-Aldrich law, now in force. Furthermore, it contains an income tax, which we have been trying to get for twenty years."

Senator Simmons of the Senate committee in charge of the bill expressed the belief that there will be an immediate stimulus to business, and that in the end we will have better times in this country.

Coincident with the passing of the tariff bill was the reporting to the House of the currency bill, and the debate was begun on that bill to proceed until its passage.

With the tariff and currency out of the way at the special session, an aggressive program of general legislation will be taken up at the regular session beginning in December. Anti-trust legislation is expected to be the chief item of consideration. President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds will take up the whole trust situation within the next few weeks and later will confer with Senate and House leaders on the forthcoming legislative program.

One of the important bills to be considered at the regular session will be one which has been introduced by Congressman Pepper, of Iowa, providing for "pure wool" and "pure shoe" regulations similar to those provided by the present pure food law. His bill, which has attracted widespread, favorable comment, provides against adulteration of wool, cotton, silk and leather. Any mixture of shoddy will not be permitted to pass off as wool, but will have to be labeled "adulterated." Leather in shoes will not be mixed with paper and treated with chemicals and then be permitted to pass as leather shoes. A tag on each pair of shoes will show the form of adulteration. This bill, which it is believed will receive favorable consideration, will protect the consuming public from frauds in the purchase of staple articles of wearing apparel.

Know Iowa.

The Iowa corn crop is greater in value than the wheat crop of Canada or Argentine Republic.

The annual corn crop of Iowa is worth more than the annual yield of either iron ore, anthracite coal, petroleum products, or the products of all the gold, silver or copper mines of the United States.

Iowa has more bearing apple trees than any two Pacific Coast or mountain states.

Iowa's annual apple crop is worth more than that of any of the Pacific Coast or mountain states. Iowa's apple crop is exceeded in value only by the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Missouri.

The orchard products of Iowa are greater in value than the orchard products of any Pacific Coast state, excluding citrus fruits.

The berry crop of Iowa is greater in value than that of any state west of the Mississippi river, except Missouri and California.

The swine of Iowa are worth more than all the farm crops of any of the eleven mountain and Pacific Coast states, except California.

The Tariff Bill Passes.

The Underwood tariff bill has passed the senate with certain amendments. Next in order will be a conference between senate and house to agree upon the final form of the measure. The bill as accepted by the conference committee doubtless will be passed at once by both houses, and will become law on receiving the signature of President Wilson.

None of the senate amendments are radical in character, and no difficulty in reaching an agreement between house and senate is to be expected.

The crucial points of the bill were not changed in the senate at all. Sugar and wool formed the bloody angle of the tariff battle. The tariff barons who have looted the nation so long made their chief stand behind the wool-sack and sugarbag redoubt, and met decisive defeat. Raw wool goes on the free list at once, with sweeping reductions in duties on woollen goods. The tariff on sugar is cut heavily now, and will be abolished in three years.

Seldom in recent times have the "interests" and the people met in sharper conflict than in the fight on these two schedules, and never have the people won a more clear-cut victory. The Louisiana senators, nominally democratic, deserted to the enemy at once—but they went alone. With this exception, President Wilson and Senator Kern have kept their party ranks intact, and the deserters have gone down deserved and dishonored defeat.

The new law—when it becomes a law—must be judged by its fruits. It must lower the price of commodities, the duties on which have been reduced or abolished, and to that extent it must lower the cost of living—or be declared a failure. The test is a just one when rightly applied; and The Journal has no doubts, either as to the value of the bill or the fairness of the American people.

It will take time for the new schedules to show their effect, and no amount of tariff revision at home can compensate for the waste of capital in war or the destruction of credit in panic abroad. But the The Journal believes the bill just passed will save American consumers hundreds of millions of dollars every year.—Chicago Journal.

Iowa's Senators on the Tariff.

Senator Kenyon said that if he was satisfied, at the conclusion of the debate, that the Democratic tariff bill was a better measure than the Payne-Aldrich bill, he would vote for the former. He voted against it. What a conscienceless plunderer measure the new tariff must be to be worse than Payne-Aldrich infamy! And yet Senator Kenyon dare not assert that the Democratic measure is not better for the consumer and producers of the country than the law that it repeals and succeeds.

That Senator Cummins voted against the bill is not in the least surprising. He said a couple of years ago in Chicago that he would rather trust the worst Republican in office than the best Democrat. He voted against and denounced the Payne-Aldrich law as the worst legislation ever enacted in the name of the Republican party. But he would rather retain that law than adopt the best Democratic legislation possible.

Senator Cummins is flirting with the hope that if he gets the Republican primary nomination for senator he will win in the election, notwithstanding stand pat defection, through the aid of progressive Democrats. Any person styling himself a democrat who should vote for Cummins for senator after his vote against the tariff bill, should be publicly drummed out of the party. The Democratic party has no higher duty in this state in the immediate future than to revere Albert B. Cummins to private life.—Telegraph-Herald.

As was expected, Wall Street and some of the very large banks of the country are making a desperate fight on the currency bill. What they want is a central bank after the system established long ago by the bank of England. They would have one bank the entire system, with power to issue currency and all other banks subsidiary to it. We doubt if the people of this country are prepared for that kind of a monopoly. The bankers of our town do not care to be subservient to any central bank, nor do the people of this community feel that they are ready to ask a bank in New York City if they can borrow a little money that they may need to use in their various business undertakings. It looks as if Congress will win out in its fight with Wall Street and it seems as if it is time that the people of this country should know whether Washington or a group of New York and Chicago bankers are running the finances of the United States.—Clear Lake Mirror.

Minister Praises this Laxative.

Rev. H. Stubenvoll of Allison, Iowa, in praising Dr. King's New Life Pills for constipation, writes: "Dr. King's New Life Pills are such perfect pills no home should be without them." No better regulator for the liver and bowels. Every pill guaranteed. Try them. Price 25c. at P. A. Clemmer's.

Capitol Extension As An Issue.

The Knoxville Express says that the act of the last Republican legislature in authorizing an extension of the capitol grounds at a cost of some $2,000,000, "will be an issue in next year's campaign, and a good many members who voted for it will not have another chance to be smarter than their constituents. * * * If some fellow wants to be beaten for senator or representative, just let him run on a platform demanding capitol enlargement. It doesn't matter much what the Supreme Court may do with these cases if the people can get a chance at the matter."

The appropriation for capitol grounds illustrates the extent to which Des Moines boosters have been able to induce legislators to forget their duty to their own constituents. There is no excuse at all for surrounding the capitol with a 60-acre field. To do so would be a wilful waste and an abuse of the state's taxing power.

When the Des Moines Tribune expresses doubt that the Democratic party will take a critical attitude toward the gross extravagance proposed in the extension, it speaks from the wells of hope rather than from knowledge born of faith. The Iowa Democratic party, if it have the political sagacity we credit it with, will use the capitol extension issue to instance the truth of what it has been saying all along, that the Republican administration of this state is wasteful and extravagant.

Equal Rights.

Women demand equal rights with men. What does a woman have to wear during the oppressive dog days of 1913?

- One low-necked sleeveless mosquito netting gown slit up to the knee.
- One pair silk stockings.
- One pair slippers.
- That's all.
- What does a man wear during the said dog days?
- One coat.
- One vest.
- One pair of trousers.
- One shirt with starched collar.
- One pair socks.
- One pair shoes.
- One union suit.
- One hat.
- One pair suspenders.
- One belt.
- One necktie.

If he takes off his coat in a hot restaurant he is thrown out. If he takes his tight collar off he's a rube. If he wore his trousers slit up to the knee he would be sent to the insane asylum. Equal rights? Huh!—Ex.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mills, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by Fred Lowry.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Having Onions.

Onion harvest is on in full blast in St. Ansgar, and all the available men, women and children in this section are finding easy and profitable employment picking the odoriferous vegetable. It is estimated that sixty carloads of onions will be shipped out of St. Ansgar this year. While the yield is not as heavy as last year, some of the crop is making 600 bushels to the acre, and the onions are bringing better prices than a year ago.

No Age Limit.

I used to slam those gay slit-skirts, which showed of calf a yard, I thought they were the limit and I dealt in language hard.

I used to see 'em on the street And shameless things they were; I put on blinders like a horse And turned aside. Yes, sir.

I cannot roast them any more. Their use I must allow. My lips are sealed. I am resigned, For mother wears one now.

IN CRESCO.

The Evidence Is Supplied by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Cresco, what can it be?

Mrs. Mary Pecoy, Cresco, Iowa, says: "I suffered for years from kidney trouble, so severely that I could not do anything. I tried every remedy that came to my attention but did not get much benefit. Sometimes by back was so painful that I could not stoop or stand erect. I was nervous and at night could not sleep well on account of the dull backache. In the morning when I got up, I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly move. My sight was affected and I suffered intensely from headache. At last I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at the Milz Drug Co. They gave me prompt relief, and in a short time I was free from every sign of the trouble. I have never had a bad attack since."

For Sale by all Dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Diagonal Holds Drag Record.

The little town of Diagonal in Ringold county broke all records for number of road drags in town when on the recent state drag day they had by actual count one hundred and sixty-six outfits on the streets at one time. Some were drawn by two horses, most of them by three and a few by four. The prize for the first man to arrive was awarded to an enthusiastic citizen who was camping on his drag on Main street a few minutes after one A. M. Thirty-two drags from one township arrived in a body.

A Michigan Road Bee.

Eight thousand business and professional men and farmers in northwestern Michigan with two thousand teams and seven hundred and fifty automobiles spent a day recently improving the road from Bay City to Mackinaw. Twenty-five hundred women were engaged in preparing and serving the meals for the busy workmen.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriola, Pa. That is not unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by Fred Lowry.

Smaller Coal Pile will heat your home!

If You burn it in the 5-Year Guaranteed Green Colonial Furnace

Blizzards and coal men will have no terror for you if you install the COLONIAL.

Every room in your house will be kept at an even temperature from floor to ceiling, because your coal money doesn't go to the flues in smoke.

A constant current of fresh, warm air goes direct to every nook and cranny of your home, insuring perfect ventilation and comfort, no matter what the weather.

The Green COLONIAL is built different from any other furnace. It is distinctive in design and construction—the result of over a quarter of a century of progressive furnace building.

Its smoke consuming fire pot and its extra large combustion chamber, turn all your coal money into heat, instead of sending a big part of it up the flue in smoke and gases. This saves you from one-third to one-half your fuel bill.

Be careful about the heating when you build, buy or rent a house—The Green COLONIAL is repair and trouble proof, simple in design and operation, easily and quickly regulated.

With the COLONIAL the saving in your fuel bill will go a long way toward paying the rent or the price of the house.

The COLONIAL is guaranteed stronger than any other furnace made. Every part of it, except the grates, is guaranteed not to break or burn out within five years, and every piece of it is guaranteed never to break from a defect.

If you want full value for your furnace and coal money install a Green COLONIAL. We would be pleased to give you an estimate any time.
