Today the Plain Dealer publishes a list of all those nominated in its great Automobile Contest. Nominations are open for some to come yet and the list should be larger than it is today.

One familiar with this section has but to read through the list of names to be convinced of the high plane upon which this contest has been pitched. While the list today is a long one, it must be remembered that it takes a large number of nominations to develop but a few active workers, and a very small percentage of those nominated to date will become active workers. For this reason the Plain Dealer invites more nominations. It feels that it is offering a prize list that should attract the attention of a large number of contestants and should cause a great deal of competition and it wants as many as feel like working for a valuable prize to nominate themselves and become active workers. Probably very few of the people already nominated intend to become active workers.

There are no obligations attached to entering this contest. Nominations cost nothing. A contestant can not possibly lose anything in this contest as a cash commission of 10 per cent will be paid to all who work and do not win a prize. It is a friendly struggle that the Plain Dealer has inaugurated with handsome rewards to the winners and no obligations whatever.

In making up today's list for publication every effort was made to prepare it with accuracy and the names of those who have declined to enter for various reasons have been eliminated. If however, errors of any kind are called to the attention of the contest manager they will be promptly corrected.

Fill out one of the nomination blanks printed in this paper and boost for yourself or for some worthy candidate in the Plain Dealer's campaign for new subscribers.

Nominations have been received from wide awake people in a number of sections in which the Plain Dealer is generally circulated and from a large percentage of the towns in this section. The Plain Dealer is pleased beyond measure at the manner in which its campaign has been received but, aware that it takes many nominations to make a very few live contestants, it invites more nominations. It invites every eligible person within its territory, who thinks well of the opportunity offered to send in a nomination and enter the race.

In this contest the Plain Dealer is offering the opportunity of a lifetime to some energetic candidate who will enter and win the automobile. A $580 Ford touring car for only a few weeks work among your friends is not an opportunity that comes your way every day.

It will not be found a difficult matter to win one of the prizes offered. The principle requirements of a wide-awake candidate are energy and determination more than anything else that counts—the determination to enter, surmount all obstacles and stick to the last. Many candidates lose interest in the race after a short while and it is the ones who do a little work at every opportunity offered and keep everlastingly at it who succeed in the end.

It is this kind the Plain Dealer wants in its campaign. It wants a successful campaign, naturally, and it knows that it takes this kind to make one. It must have at least a sufficient number of working, determined candidates to win the numerous prizes it is offering and for this reason it presses its invitation for more nominations.

The prize list is big enough and selected with sufficient care to attract almost anyone who can spare a few hours to the contest.

The territory has been divided into five districts and into each district at least two prizes must be awarded.

In addition to the district prizes there is an automobile that can go to any part of the territory—to the contestant standing highest at the close of the contest, regardless of the district in which she lives.

There are but two ways of securing votes, one by clipping and sending in the ballots that appear in each issue of the Plain Dealer. These count 50 votes each, and you can send in as many as you and your friends can secure. Then votes are issued on pre-paid subscriptions to the Plain Dealer. This is by far the most effective way of securing votes.

Those considering entering the contest are advised to act promptly. The advantage to be gained by getting an early start costs nothing and is important. In sending in nomination use the regular blank which will be found in this issue of the paper.

Contestants can secure subscription from any one anywhere in the United States. You are not confined to the district in which you live to get subscriptions.

Contestants should send or bring in new subscriptions to the contest manager as soon as convenient after securing them, as the paper will not be started until after the subscriptions have been turned in, and then you will have the advantage of having the subscriber save the 50 vote coupons for you.

Fraises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be cured. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered their health. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the freshest air, eating well-cooked, wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and holding the tonic quality of Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles. Investigate this case:—

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4. "Gentlemen: The spring of 1908 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got tired. I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's alternative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage."

(Adapted from A. C. BETTERBORTH. Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most effective for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in unbinding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick? Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Ask Your Neighbor About his DE LAVAL

All the farmers to whom we have sold De Laval's are boosters. The De Laval satisfies, pleases and makes money for its more than a million and a half owners the world over.

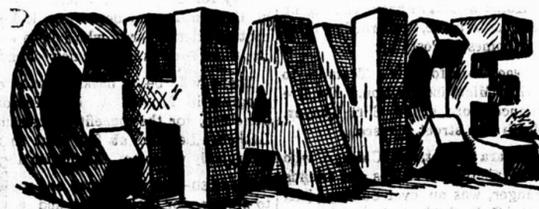

If you expect to buy a separator it will be worth your while to find out what some of your neighbors who use De Laval's think of their machines. If the evidence of your neighbors who use and recommend the De Laval is not enough to convince you of De Laval's superiority we will put one in on trial for you and you can try any other machine you want to alongside of it. Then you can see for yourself which machine you like the best.

We have an arrangement whereby you can make a partial payment at time of purchase, and pay the balance on such liberal terms that your De Laval will more than save its own cost while you are paying for it.
