

Madam—Is Your Underwear Form-Fitting or Straight Lines?

The illustrations above tell their own story.

One—the usual form of knit underwear for women—cut on straight lines at shoulders, sleeves and armholes, stretched into shape by the wearer.

The other—Athena Underwear—tailored into shape by the maker. The slanting downward of the shoulder and sleeves shapes the garment to the correct lines of the wearer. Full bust and tapering back.

SEVEN SPECIAL FEATURES ASK TO SEE THEM

THREE-CORNERED GUSSET—Relieves strain in garment at thigh. Insures greater comfort, longer wear.

PATENTED SEAT—Most notable improvement ever made in underwear designing, so shaped that it clings to the figure in any position.

PERFECTED SHOULDER-STAY—Keeps garment from stretching across shoulder, and holds sleeve in place.

CURVED-CUT ARMHOLE—Brings the garment snugly to the body, without unnecessary cloth, causing uncomfortable perspiration and tearing the armhole of one's best frock.

FITTED SHOULDER AND SLEEVE—Give natural form to bust and proper tapering to back.

EXTRA-ELASTIC CUFF—Holds the sleeve in place and keeps it from slipping up on the arm.

ATHENA LOW-NECK SLEEVELESS GARMENT is narrowed at back, with extra-full bust—lower in front than at back. No slipping of shoulder-straps down over arms.

And Athena Underwear costs no more than ordinary underwear
