

You've hit the right tobacco

when you fire-up some Prince Albert in your old jimmy pipe or in a makin's cigarette. And you know it! Can't get in wrong with P. A. for it is made right; made to spread-smoke-sunshine among men who have suffered with scorched tongues and parched throats! The patented process fixes that—and cuts out bite and parch. All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

It's an easy job to change the shape and color of unsalable brands to imitate the Prince Albert red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

W. S. HAMMOND DIES IN SOUTH

Governor of Minnesota Is Victim of Apoplexy.

END COMES VERY SUDDENLY

Executive Had Been Suffering From Attack of Ptomaine Poisoning, but Was Not Seriously Ill.

Clinton, La., Dec. 31.—Governor Winfield Scott Hammond of Minnesota died suddenly in a hotel here from a stroke of apoplexy, which physicians said apparently had been superinduced by a recent attack of ptomaine poisoning. He died before physicians could arrive.

Governor Hammond, accompanied by J. A. Nowell, arrived here three days ago to inspect his extensive land and lumber interests in East Feliciana parish. He had not been well for several days, but was able to go about the town and parish and did not consider his condition sufficiently serious to consult a physician.

Death occurred in the Going hotel at Clinton. The attack of ptomaine poisoning was acquired supposedly on the dining car between St. Paul and Chicago.

The governor spent Christmas day in New Orleans and was ill at that time. Mr. Nowell urged him to wait in that city until he had recovered his full health, but Sunday the governor insisted that he was thoroughly himself and able to complete his trip to Clinton.

BRIEF SKETCH OF CAREER

Governor Hammond Came From Old New England Stock.

Winfield Scott Hammond was born in Southboro, Mass., Nov. 17, 1863, of old New England stock.

Received a common school education, was graduated from Peters' high school in Southboro in 1880 and from Dartmouth college in June, 1884.

Came directly to Minnesota following graduation, becoming principal of high school at Mankato for one year. He was superintendent of schools at Madella the next five years. There he established the first high school in Watonwan county.

While engaged in education he studied law and in 1890 went into politics, taking an active part in the campaign of that year.

First political post was secretary of a special state prison commission appointed in 1891.

Admitted to bar in 1891, practicing first in Madella, and in 1894 removing to St. James.

County attorney 1894 to 1896, and again from 1900 to 1904.

Elected to congress on Democratic ticket from Second district in 1906, continuing to serve until January, 1915, when he became governor of Minnesota.

THOUSANDS GAZE AT HAMMOND'S REMAINS

St. Paul, Jan. 3.—Minnesota paid homage to the life and achievements of Governor W. S. Hammond when 25,000 persons viewed the body of the former executive as it lay in state under the marble dome of the capitol. Thousands were unable to gain admission at once and turned for home on account of the cold.

For twelve hours a continuous line passed the bier.

In all that time silence prevailed. Now and then the sobs of a woman or the voice of a child broke the silence.

There was no conversation, no noise, nothing to break the stillness of the death chamber except the clatter of many feet as they passed over the marble floor at the rate of fifty a minute. Former governors, legislators, city and county officials and citizens of high and low estate were there.

Burnquist Becomes Governor.

St. Paul, Dec. 31.—Shocked and grieved beyond expression by the death of Governor Hammond, Lieutenant Governor J. A. Burnquist, by the constitutional law of Minnesota, automatically becomes governor after being sworn in by Supreme Court Justice George L. Bunn.

PNEUMONIA KILLING MANY

Grip Epidemic in Chicago Becomes Alarming.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Pneumonia has resulted in 201 deaths in Chicago within the past four days, an average of fifty victims a day, according to reports to the health department.

The epidemic of grip, which frequently develops into pneumonia, has assumed alarming proportions.

Hospitals report they are filled to capacity.

Twelve Accidents and Suicides.

New York, Jan. 3.—Twelve deaths from accidents and suicides marked the first Sunday of 1916 in New York and its vicinity.

WINFIELD S. HAMMOND.

Governor of Minnesota Who Died Suddenly in the South.

BELIEVES MISSION WILL YET SUCCEED

New York, Jan. 3.—Henry Ford entertains no doubt of the eventual success of his peace movement. That was the first announcement of the Detroit manufacturer who financed and led the peace expedition which left here Dec. 4 on the steamship Oscar II. for Copenhagen, when he arrived in New York on the steamer Bergensford.

Mr. Ford confirmed cable reports that his leaving the party he organized had been hastened by illness, but declared his return had been hastened only a few days as he had intended to return within the month.

SEVEN STATES ON DRY LIST

Prohibition Goes Into Effect in Large Area.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Statewide prohibition of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors became effective in seven states at midnight, putting out of business more than 3,000 saloons, a large number of breweries, wholesale liquor houses and distilleries.

The states to enter the dry column were Iowa, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Arkansas and South Carolina. Many counties in all of the seven states have prohibited the sale of liquor for a number of years under local option laws.

PRESIDENT WILL OUTLINE COURSE

Foreign Situation Calls Him Back to Washington.

UNEASINESS AMONG SOLONS

Senators and Representatives Are Inclined to Proceed Cautiously—Officials Regard the Submarine Controversy as Being in a Most Delicate Stage.

Washington, Jan. 4.—A complete showdown between the United States and the Teutonic allies on the subject of submarine warfare is likely to be the outcome of the sinking of the British liner Persia, according to opinions expressed in high official circles.

In the same quarters it is regarded as more than probable that within the next few days the United States will approach informally the entente powers, with a view to getting them to agree henceforth to permit no guns to be mounted on passenger liners.

The purpose of both of these moves, now under consideration, say responsible officials, is to safeguard the lives of American citizens who may be compelled to take passage on the high seas on merchant ships flying the flags of belligerent nations.

If this end is attained, it is declared, the sinking of the Persia, tragic as it was in the enormous toll of human life, may after all prove a blessing in disguise.

President Wilson is back in Washington from Hot Springs, Va., and will take charge of the entire situation.

It is likely, too, that there will be a general airing of views on the floors of both the house and senate. Returning members talked of little but consequences that might result from the sinking of the Persia.

Although administration leaders are uniformly inclined to proceed cautiously and to await positive information there is a general feeling of uneasiness among senators and representatives over the gravity of foreign affairs.

It seems assured that the senate committee on foreign affairs will take up the resolution submitted by Senator Hoke Smith calling for an inquiry into Great Britain's interferences with neutral commerce and the amendment by Senator Lodge to investigate destruction of the Lusitania and other acts by belligerents resulting in destruction of American lives.

ASKS RELEASE OF CONSULS

Greek Government Makes Formal Request of Allies.

Berlin, Jan. 4.—The Greek government, having protested against the seizure of consuls of the central empires by the allies at Saloniki, has now made formal request that the consuls be released, according to Sofia reports.

The Greek officers and Greek gendarmes detailed to protect the consulates were punished.

General Sarrell has been informed that before taking any action against consuls of the central empires he should have first notified the Greek government. The Greek people, the dispatches said, are indignant because of the consuls seizure.

ITALY COMMANDEERS SHIPS

European Government Seizes Twenty-seven Steamers.

New Orleans, Jan. 4.—Advices to shipping interests here said the Italian government had commandeered for transport purposes twenty-seven steamships of the Pearce-Cottoneria and Creole lines, which maintain regular sailings between Italy and gulf ports.

To Requisition Leather.

Paris, Jan. 4.—The government, to satisfy the needs of the army, has decided on a general requisitioning of crude leather.

DISEASE SPREADS RAPIDLY

Most Serious Epidemic of Influenza Every Known.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Influenza is spreading over the United States from coast to coast in the most serious epidemic ever known, taking a large toll in lives and causing economic loss by incapacitating workers in all walks of life.

Reports from public health service officers, made public by Surgeon General Blue, show that already the disease has created a grave problem for many of the larger cities and is spreading to the rural communities.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Seattle, Cleveland and Detroit reported the disease widely prevalent. Cleveland and Detroit each have probably 10,000 cases.

Veteran Editor Is Dead.
