SHORT LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Clark moved into the new addition of their house Monday.

Miss Anna Rice will leave in a few days to purchase her stock of spring millinery. She expects to have this season the prettiest line of goods she has ever had.

Mrs. Floyd Todd, from whom Dr. Chatten recently removed a fifty pound tumor, has fully recovered and left the hospital returning to her home Monday. This was a very difficult operation and was successfully performed.

Mr. R. N. Clark and son, Clarence, and Mr. Dan Byrum went out Feb. 4 on a hunt and ate a persimmon dinner at 2:30 p. m. They succeeded in killing seven rabbits and left several on the run, arriving home at 4:30 p. m.

Mr. Frank Giannini, who has been to Tate Springs, Tenn., several weeks for his health, has returned to Providence much improved. Mr. Giannini has for years been on the Providence run and is one of the most popular engineers on the road.

A gun that saw active service in the war of 1812 can be seen in the show window of W. G. Barter, the jeweler. This gun is smooth bore and carries ten drams of powder and one-half pound of shot and is said to kill at 500 yards. This gun was brought to Earlington from Springfield by Charlie Martin.

The Dawson Pharmacal Co., of which Mr. Will P. Scott is the head, has issued a handsome calendar in colors. The illustrations are, according to title, the "Products That Have Made Kentucky Famous." There are the beautiful woman, the fast horse, the red liquor, and added, a bottle of the principal medicine manufactured by the company, "Iodized Emulsion."

A crowded house is more than likely to witness Mr. H. P. Whitaker's comedy success, "A Country Kid" at the Temple Theatre Feb. 16. The play is out of the beaten path and tells the story of an awkward, gawky, half grown boy in a little Indiana town, who has been taken from the poor house by a prominent lady church member so the child might get a proper "home train." See and hear his quaint songs and dances, his awakening to the homely spectacle he presents. It is a character entirely new, distinctly unique and original to the stage. Seats on sale at St. Bernard Store. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief."

For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; B. T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; Jno. X. Taylor, Earlington.

CIRCUIT COURT NEWS.

Regular Term of Hopkins County Court Began Monday.—Three Murder Cases to be Tried This Term.

The regular term of the Hopkins circuit court began at Madisonville Monday with Judge Flem Gordon presiding and W. L. Grayot, Commonwealth's Attorney, and Ruby Laffoon, County Attorney, representing the commonwealth.

The principal criminal cases on the docket for this term are as follows:

Commonwealth vs. Garth Thompkins, colored, charged with the murder of another negro in Madisonville. Thompkins was tried at a former term and given a death penalty, but an appeal was taken and the court of appeals granted him a new trial.

Jeff Morgan charged with the murder of Perd Lutz is on bail for appearance at this term of court.

The commonwealth vs. Louis Wilbert charged with the murder of Gus McIntosh at Mannington.

H. B. Laws is in jail awaiting indictment for forgery. He is charged with passing a forged check for $50.00 on a Dawson Springs merchant.

Following is the panel of the grand jury:

L. V. Lynch, foreman; A. McCulley, J. H. Wilkins, W. T. Mangum, J. M. Whitsell, W. C. Hale, T. A. Crabtree, John W. Owen, C. H. McGary, B. H. Whitfield, S. T. Oates, Z. T. Craig.

"Do It Today."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

GRAND JURY MAY BREAK IN

The Illinois Legislative Graft Exposure Grows Warmer.

Representative Comerford Appears to Have Fully Understood the Task He Undertook.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—That Representative Comerford went into the Illinois legislative graft expose with his eyes wide open, expecting a fight and prepared to make it, is a fact that even his "best haters" now admit.

When the Chicago man first launched his charges, it was generally supposed that he had jumped blindly into the troubles which now surround him, and had kicked up a little teapot tempest by talking of things of which he had no positive knowledge.

Witnesses who have been called upon to answer his searching questions during the last few days now concede, however, that the man is well-armed for his fight and skilled in the use of his weapons. It is now recalled in many quarters that ever since his election Comerford has been quietly plying the various legislators with whom he has come in contact with questions relative to the conduct of the law makers, who handled the moneys, and the general procedure of the legislative graft system.

A new feature that has come to light, and that has not tended to cool the spirit of those who have been so ruthlessly "sweated" during the last few days, is that the grand jury is very apt to break into the proceedings.

It is said that should Comerford be expelled from the legislature his course of action will be to go directly to Sangamon county grand jury and lay his information relative to the graft of the Forty-third and Forty-fifth general assemblies before it.

SENSATION AT GETTYSBURG

An Outbreak of Smallpox in Gettysburg College Results in a Rigid Quarantine.

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—The entire student body of Gettysburg college has been placed under quarantine because of the discovery of smallpox in the institution. Two freshmen, Roy W. Stambaugh, of Perry county, and Ralph Zimmerman, of Somerset, were stricken with the disease, and the board of health deputized a large force of men to guard the dormitories. Before their arrival, however, more than 100 students had fled from the college, many of them leaving the building by way of the fire escapes, while others jumped from the windows. A few of the students left town immediately, but the greater number remained here, expecting to board later trains. They were all apprehended by the authorities and returned to the dormitories. Eighteen young men succeeded in boarding a train for Harrisburg, but upon their arrival at that city they were met by a squad of policemen, who shipped them back to Gettysburg. When the train reached here the students were in an ugly mood, and barricaded themselves in the car. The police and health authorities awaited patiently, and the students were finally forced, through hunger, to capitulate. All places of amusement and schools have been closed.

WON'T COME BACK THIS TIME

Dr. Lightle, Under Indictment for Defrauding Insurance Companies, Dies of Pneumonia.

Searcy, Ark., Feb. 8.—Dr. R. G. Lightle died of pneumonia. He was under five indictments for defrauding insurance companies out of $21,000 and for burning his barn and robbing the grave of Edward Pitts.

Sunday night, May 22, 1904, Dr. Lightle was supposedly burned to death in his barn. On Tuesday following ex-Mayor J. V. Roberts officiated as worshipful master at Lightle's supposed burial. Later insurance detectives found him in Georgia. He was tried and convicted in a justice court for robbing the grave of Edward Pitts, whose charred body was found in the ruins of Lightle's barn.

Later, in company with Roberts, he was indicted for insurance frauds. Both men were expelled from the Masonic lodge.

ELDER KIMBALL DENIES

He Quotes What He Did Say at the Cache Stake Conference at Logan, Utah.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 4.—J. G. Kimball, general secretary and father of the first council of 70 of the Mormon church, who was credited in a special dispatch from Logan to the Salt Lake Tribune, on Sunday last, with defending polygamy and declaring before the Cache Stake conference that congress would be unable to stop the practice, has issued a signed statement, in which he declares that the report attributing to him any defense of the practice of polygamy is false. He asserts that he made no reference to the subject of polygamy, either openly or covertly, by inference or innuendo.

What he did say, he alleges, was to refer in the following language to resolutions recently adopted by a body of women in the east:

"Women in the east want congress to stop this thing (bringing children into poor families). Congress will have quite a time in trying to prevent poor people having large numbers of children. These women want to put this practice down and legalize race suicide."

Continuing, Mr. Kimball says: "I then bore my testimony that Mormonism is true, that it had found its way into my bones and into my blood, and that I felt it in every fiber of my being, and that 'Mormonism cannot be destroyed, and the more they try to destroy it the more it will grow. I believe in it and I will live in it.'"

In Its New Quarters.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 7.—The Baltimore American, Monday, occupied its new 16-story building, from which it issued a 28-page paper this morning as a memorial of the great fire which occurred in Baltimore, February 7, 1904.

Found Dead at Country Inn.

Washington, Feb. 7.—James A. Freer, a well-known physician and surgeon of Washington, aged 46 years, was found dead at a country inn near Washington, where he had gone for the night.
