

The ZEMO Cured by "ZEMO" After Five Years' Torture.

WHY? SUFFER THE TORTURE OF ECZEMA OR ANY SKIN DISEASE WHEN THIS GOOD MEDICINE +ZEMO+ HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo. HARRISBURG, ILL., May 12th, 1906.

DEAR SIR: Believing that "ZEMO" saved my arms, if not my life, I will gladly tell all sufferers from eczema what your good medicine did for me. I suffered six years from a torturing case of itching eczema of both arms. I tried eight different doctors, and every eczema cure I could hear of without relief. The disease grew worse and spread to my neck and breast; my arms had great holes eaten in them; I soon became an invalid and was confined to my bed part of the time. My husband bought a bottle of "ZEMO"; the first application stopped the itching, and I began to improve; in six weeks and one day the disease had disappeared, and my arms were clean and smooth as my picture will show, before and after using "ZEMO." My arms were so bad some of my friends wanted me to have them taken off, but I would not agree. I am now entirely cured and have gained ten pounds in weight, and feel better than I have felt in many years. I consider my quick recovery by using "ZEMO" nothing short of a miracle. I will gladly answer all inquiries and recommend "ZEMO" to all persons suffering from any itching skin disease.

Yours gratefully,
Mrs. Harvey Burks.

Alum baking powders are unhealthful. Do not use them for raising food under any circumstances. So detrimental are alum baking powders considered, that in most foreign countries their sale is prohibited. In many States in this country the law compels alum powders to be branded to show that they contain this dangerous acid, while in the District of Columbia, Congress has prohibited the sale of all food that contains alum.

Alum baking powders are sold to consumers at from 10 cents a pound to 25 ounces for 25 cents, or 25 cents a pound, and when not branded may generally be distinguished by their price.

BILL AGAINST GAMBLING
HOUSE FAVORS PROHIBITING IN U. S. TERRITORIES.

Taylor Resigns as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and is Succeeded by Ohio Man.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The house passed, under suspension of the rules, bills prohibiting gambling in territories of the United States; requiring the census bureau to gather statistics on insurance, fisheries and electrical industries, savings banks and crimes, and appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of 300 acres of coal lands on the island of Batan, in the Philippines.

New Assistant Secretary of Treasury
Washington, Feb. 19.—Horace A. Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury, has tendered to the president his resignation, to take effect June 30, 1906, which was accepted. The president assumed Mr. Taylor that he "fully appreciated the very efficient services" he had rendered since he became assistant secretary at the beginning of President McKinley's first term.

Secretary Shaw accompanied Mr. Taylor to the White House and both joined in recommending the appointment of John H. Edwards, of Ohio, as Mr. Taylor's successor. The president promptly accepted the suggestion. Mr. Edwards for over two years has occupied the position of secretary to Secretary Shaw, and his promotion is a recognition of his service. Mr. Edwards was born in South Charleston, O., and is 30 years of age.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The president has offered the governorship of Alaska to D. H. Jarvis, formerly of the revenue cutter service, but now engaged in business in Alaska.

HAVE FINISHED THEIR JOB
John Mitchell and His Associates Have Their Demands Ready For the Operators.

New York, Feb. 19.—John Mitchell and his associates on the anthracite miners' sub-committee, finished their work of preparing proposals for an agreement and will probably meet with the coal operators' sub-committee Tuesday or Wednesday.

It was stated that no formal document would be submitted but that the miners would notify the operators that they are ready for a joint meeting of the sub-committees and would then state in general terms what they expected the operators to grant them in the new agreement. It is expected that several meetings will take place before a final agreement or disagreement will be reached.

DANIEL E. STORMS RESIGNS

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—During a heated conference at the statehouse, Monday, Daniel E. Storms, secretary of state, tendered to Gov. Hanly his resignation, which was accepted.

Fred Simms, of Frankfort, was immediately appointed to succeed Mr. Storms.

Secretary Storms' resignation was demanded by Gov. Hanly, who charged irregularities. Storms at first refused to resign, and Gov. Hanly's effort at court to oust him failed, the court holding that legislative action was necessary.

HONEYMOON TRIP.
Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Leave for Tampa, Fla. Thence to Havana, Cuba.

Passed a Quiet Sunday.
Washington, Feb. 19.—Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who were married at the White House Saturday, passed the day very quietly at "Friendship," the country home of John R. McLean at Tennytown, which they are making their temporary headquarters. The weather was pleasant most of the day and the couple took a stroll around the beautiful grounds surrounding the place. The gates of the grounds were closed during the day, and it was said at the house there had not been any callers.

Are on Their Honeymoon.
Washington, Feb. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth started on their honeymoon trip from Alexandria, Va., Monday at 11:18 a. m. over the Southern railway. They will go to Tampa, and from there take a boat for Havana, which point they expect to reach Thursday morning. They will make the trip to Tampa in the private car Elysian, which was awaiting them in the yards of the Southern railway at Alexandria, about half a mile from the station.

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 20.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth and his bride spent several minutes in this city Monday afternoon. They arrived on train No. 29 at 5:51 p. m. A number of people had gathered at the depot to greet them. There was no demonstration.

Sounded As if She Meant It.
Washington, Feb. 20.—In making the responses at her marriage, Saturday, the bride answered promptly and without any trace of nervousness. When she said "I will," after the injunction to "obey" she said it like a Roosevelt—as if she meant it.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Dog Who Had His Day

Mr. Hoss and Beedle Dog were great cronies. One never saw them separated. They both belonged to an old farmer named Screw, who was very appropriately named, so they both thought, as he got all he could out of every one and spared none.

He was especially hard on Mr. Hoss, whom he forced to work all day in the hot sun and beat and kicked him sadly when he lagged.

"It's a shame," whined Beedle Dog as he crept into Mr. Hoss' stall for the night. "He makes you work too hard. He's a cruel old tike."

"Well, you see," said the horse, "he doesn't understand. He never has to pull a heavy cart, and he doesn't know how we suffer."

"Better touch him, then," said Beedle curtly. "I always believe in giving folks all the information they need."

"How are you going to do it?" queried the horse, munching a mouthful.

"I'll tell you. Tomorrow when he lets you out you make tracks down the road' when he isn't looking. Hide in the grove a mile down the road and leave the rest to me."

When Mr. Screw came to look for Mr. Hoss next day he was gone.

"Wonder where in the name o' sense he went to now?" he growled.

"I know," spoke up Beedle. "He's sick down the road yonder—awful sick; worked too hard. Guess he'll die."

"How do you know, you brute?"

"Saw him," said Beedle. "Better get your wagon and go down and get him, or you'll have a funeral."

"How'm I to git it down thar?"

"Pull it, I guess. Walking's good."

So off they set, Beedle heading at a rapid pace and poor Mr. Screw pulling hard between the shafts.

"My, it's hot!" said Screw.

"Rather warm," said Beedle.

"Heavy as lead," said Screw.

"Rather weighty," laughed Beedle.

Soon they came to Mr. Hoss. Mr. Screw was played out.

"Feel better?" said Beedle.

"Yes. I'll pull home," the horse replied.

As they went down the road Beedle said: "Guess he knows now."—Atlanta Constitution.

MINISTERS OF HOPKINSVILLE EXPRESS FORMAL THANKS.

Mr. Jas. R. Rash's Munificent Gift to College is Recognized.

The ministers of Hopkinsville, at the regular Monday morning session of the Ministerial Association, Feb. 12th, 1906, passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, It has come to our knowledge that Mr. Jas. R. Rash, of Earlington, has within the week just passed, given South Kentucky College the sum of ten thousand dollars, as a memorial of his son, the late Mr. Ben Rash; and

Whereas, We, as citizens and ministers of the town, are concerned for all our local institutions, and for none more than for the christian schools of higher education, and

Whereas, We, as ministers, are solicitous to see material wealth devoted to moral and spiritual purposes:

Resolved, That we express our approbation of the munificent gift of Jas. R. Rash and our admiration of the noble monument which he has thus erected in perpetual memory of his son.

Resolved, That we congratulate most heartily the trustees of the college upon provision for discharge of the debt under which the institution has so long struggled.

Resolved, That we congratulate not less sincerely, the whole community, than the cause of christian education, in this section of the South, upon the help afforded by the gift and example of Mr. Rash, which will doubtless prove a wholesome stimulus to philanthropy.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, published in our local papers, mailed Mr. Rash and furnished the Secretary of the Board of Trustees of South Kentucky College.

Arm Broken.

Dempsey Hale, an employe of the Earlington Iron Works, had a narrow escape from death Friday afternoon. He was running the drill press when his glove caught on a set screw and he was unable to release himself from his dangerous position before his arm became fastened. He was hurried to the floor when released breaking both bones of his right arm.

Each man has a chance in a lifetime to reach the point of success, and this opportunity is offered in Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana, the three great agricultural and timber States, traversed by the Iron Mountain Route, where land can be purchased at from $3.50 to $20.00 per acre, that is producing from $30 to $500 per acre each year, in cotton, corn, hay, sugar cane, fruit and vegetables. The returns from alfalfa growing in this district have proven a record breaker—six crops each year or six tons per acre at $15.00 per ton on local markets is what is claimed. All that is necessary is for the homeseeker or investor to look over the situation personally, as the country speaks for itself, and on the first and third Tuesdays of each month Home-seekers' tickets are offered at rate of one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip.
