E. T. FRANKES ANNOUNCES

The Republican Nomination For Governor

LIKELY BE TWO MORE ENTRIES.

Louisville, Ky., March, 17.—Formal announcement that he seeks the Republican nomination for Governor was made by former collector E. T. Frankes, of Owensboro, who was in Louisville yesterday. In making the announcement Mr. Frankes stated that he reached the decision to enter the race only after careful consideration, and following many conferences with his political friend and advisers, the last of which was held in Owensboro Wednesday.

He said that during the past few weeks he had received letters from no less than 300 of the most influential Republican leaders from every section of Kentucky, asking him to make the race. He said that in view of the pressure that had been brought to bear on him, he felt that it was due to his many friends throughout the State that he make the race.

Mr. Frankes is the first aspirant for the Republican nomination for Governor to officially announce his candidacy, but it was understood last night that at least two other aspirants will formally enter the race during the next two or three days. Those mentioned last night were: Judge Ed C. O'Rear and Lieutenant Governor William H. Cox.

In outlining his policies last night Mr. Frankes stated that he is in favor of the Republican party adopting the platform advocating better educational facilities, plans for better roads throughout the State, liberal legislation to secure just and equitable taxation laws, just apportionment laws, nonpartisan control of the penal and charitable institutions of the state, nonpartisan banking laws and methods for better development of the natural resources of Kentucky.

Mr. Frank's Career. Mr. Frankes is one of the best known Republican politicians in Western Kentucky, having been for 12 years collector of internal revenue for the second District. He was first appointed to this office by President McKinley, and was twice named by President Roosevelt for the same position. In 1909 he was succeeded by Lawson Reno. In June, 1909, he was elected president of the United States National Bank at Owensboro, one of the biggest financial institutions in Western Kentucky.

Not a Word of Scandal marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. W. P. Spangh, of Manville, Wyo., who said: "she told me Dr. King's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble, and made her feel like a new woman." Easy, but sure remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at all drugists.

SEARCHED EVERY STITCH Clothing of Wife and Daughter of Georgia Ranker.

New York, March 20.—Mrs. Joseph Hull, whose husband is President of the Merchants' National Bank of Savannah, Ga., and her daughter, Miss Nannie Hull, both returning passengers by the French liner La Provence, were vigorously searched by custom officers today for a diamond necklace they did not find. "We were made to take off even our stockings," said Mrs. Hull. "Every stitch of our clothing was searched and even our hair did not escape. I consider this treatment an outrage and I had no idea such a thing could happen on American soil."

Miss Nannie Hull is convalescing from typhoid fever, and the danger of keeping her waiting on the pier while her baggage was being searched, after the unsuccessful search of her person, was such that she was permitted to leave for a hotel, where her brother, who is a cotton broker here, lives.

A special agent for the treasury department had the case in charge. He said his superiors had confidential information that Mrs. Hull or her daughter had brought a diamond necklace aboard. Not finding it, custom agents accused her of undervaluing her personal effects in her declaration, and sent her luggage to the public store. Her daughter's declaration was admitted to be correct.

Forced to Leave Home. Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "I cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. It's surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positive, guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all drugists.

COX IN THE RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Issues a Statement Formally Making a Bid For The Honor.

Mayfield, Ky., March, 18.—Lieut. Gov. Cox has issued an announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the Governorship.

The formal announcement of the candidacy of Gov. Cox follows: "To the voters of Kentucky: "The Republican State Central Committee having been called to meet in Louisville, April, 1 to fix time, place and manner in soliciting candidates for State offices, I desire at this time to announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor, believing that with my experience in public life, as a member of the General Assembly, and Lieutenant Governor, presiding over the Senate, and acting Governor, I have had a chance to become acquainted with public business and the needs of the State.

"I believe this experience will enable me to be useful in bringing about needed legislation, which will materially advance the interests of the people of Kentucky.

"I believe in a square deal for everyone, the enforcement of existing laws and the enactment of new laws by men elected for that purpose and free from outside influences. "If nominated and elected to the high office of Governor of this State, I pledge the people to use all the power at my command in equalizing the voting power that this may truly be a representative government, and that the people of all sections of the State may be equally represented in the settlement of every public measure that affects their interest.

"Having due respect for the honor of the office of Governor, I shall leave the decision to the people.

"If nominated and elected I shall perform the duties of the office for the whole people and for the honor of Kentucky. Very respectfully, "WILLIAM H. COX."

ENGINE AND CABOOSE

Turns Over on I. C. at Nortonville—Crew Escape Injury.

Colliding with a tree blown across the track, Illinois Central freight train extra No. 843 was wrecked Wednesday. In charge of Engineer Rucker and Conductor Hollis the train composed of the engine and caboose, rounded a curve just South of Nortonville at 11:53. Lying directly across the track where it had been blown by the big wind that was sweeping over this section, was a giant tree.

Before the train could be stopped the engine struck. Unsettled by the collision the engine turned over, carrying the caboose with it and rolled down the embankment.

The entire crew escaped with a few bruises and scratches. A wrecking crew from Paducah was called out and cleared the track after several hours work.

Coburn's Greater Minstrels Coming.

Of course one must see a minstrel show each year to keep up with the progressive times and this season Coburn's Grand New Minstrels which appear at Temple Theatre on Saturday, March, 25, fills the bill completely. Since their last appearance here Manager Coburn has added new scenery, new costumes, and new Novel Acts, out-doing all former efforts.

Coburn's Minstrels played to a large and enthusiastic audience at the Auditorium last night and the entertainment they offered was of that class of minstrelsy that perpetually attracts and holds its audience.

"The spectacular features was provided at the closing part of the performance, by Mantell's Marionette Hippodrome and Fairyland Transformation which was beautiful and artistic.

"Good old fashioned minstrelsy however was the strong feature of the show, and in that it scored its real success. The voices were much better than are usually heard in Minstrels, and the dancing was of the sort that brings your feet to a patter whether you will or not. Especially pleasing was the quartette which was encored time and again.

"But really special mention is invidious where all voices were good and all features up to the highest standard of minstrelsy.

Chicago—Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins, agronomy expert of the University of Illinois and author of "Saving the Soil" series of publications which are being gratuitously distributed among farmers by the Bankers' Association of Illinois, says: "The ten year average wheat yield in the United States is only 14 bushels to the acre to Germany's 28, England's 32, and Denmark's 40 bushels. While Illinois average wheat yield per acre has been 17 bushels for six years, the yield has been 27 bushels on the university experiment farm in Marion county, and that under permanently profitable conditions. Eight years' experience in Washington county shows untreated soil yielding a corn value of $37.17 per acre as against $109.81 an acre by scientific farming.

Money Wasted on Bad Roads.

In view of the fact the Good Road question is now up before the People of Hopkins County, it might be well to read the following from the "Wickliffe Yeoman."

A luminous object lesson as to the manner in which many countries are throwing away money on dirt roads is supplied by the Wickliffe Yeoman. That paper has been looking up the figures as to the amount expended on the roads of Ballard county in the last eleven years. It finds that in that length of approximately $198,000 has been paid out. Of that sum $12,000 has been expended for bridges, leaving a net expenditure on the dirt roads of $186,000. Commenting on this remarkable state of affairs the Yeoman says: "Many years ago we suggested graveling a few miles each year, and while the idea met with the approval of some of our people, not a single official indorsed it, not an ounce of gravel has ever been put on a piece of road in the county that we know to expect the little piece in front of Charlie Wickliffe's farm, at his own expense. There is not a man in the county who is so ignorant as to dispute that every dollar of this $186,000 has been literally thrown away. Surely no man will claim that the roads are better today than they were eleven years ago for they are not, and everybody knows it.

"But what could have been done with this $186,000? Well, let us see. With an abundance of gravel in almost every ditch, in every branch and creek, in Ballard county, we are going to make the assertion that the money wasted, thrown away, burnt up, would have built 100 miles of the best roads to have been found in the United States.

Thou hast two ears, and but one mouth—

Remember it, I pray! For much there is that thou must hear.

And little say.

Thou hast two hands, and but one mouth—

Nature hath rightly done; For she hath given two for work— For eating, one.

DYNAMITE PLACED ON WOMAN'S BED

Negress is Instantly Killed by Terrific Explosion at Hopkinsville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March, 20.—Annie Cox, colored, was killed about 3 o'clock this morning by the explosion of a stick of dynamite that some one had placed in bed with her. The woman had a lover with whom she recently quarreled, but had seemingly made up, and he was at her house last night. After the explosion this morning he was missing, and some clothing he had at the house is also gone. The police are looking for him.

The dynamite was evidently laid on top of the cover, beside the woman. She was terribly torn, all the flesh on her right side being torn off. She survived only a few minutes. The bed was almost demolished and the house badly wrecked.

Proper Heat For Chickens.

(By W. H. KELLY.)

The warmest part of the brooder should be in the center rather than at the side or corner. If the heat comes from above and a considerable portion of the brooder be heated to the same temperature, no crowding will take place.

The temperature given for running brooders vary with the machine and the position of the thermometer. The one reliable guide for temperature is the action of the chicks.

If they are cold they will crowd toward the source of heat; if too warm they will wander uneasily about; but if the temperature is right, each chick will sleep stretched out on the floor.

The cold chicken does not sleep at all, but puts in its time fighting its way towards the source of heat.

In an improperly constructed or improperly run brooder the chicks go through the varying process of chilling, sweating and struggling when they should be sleeping, and the result is puny chicks that dwindle and die.

The arrangement of the brooder for the sleeping accommodations of the chicks is important, but this is not the only thing to be considered in a brooder.

The brooder used in the early season and especially the outdoor brooder, must have ample space provided for the day time accommodation of the chick.

This part of the brooder must be well lighted and somewhat cooler than the cover. As soon as conditions will permit, get the chickens out on a large floor, or better still, on the ground.

Keep the chicks scratching in day light and sleeping stretched out at night, and the most difficult problem of poultry-raising has been solved.
