ROOSEVELT SHOT IN MILWAUKEE

Bullet Enters Right Breast--Wound Not Thought to be Serious

MAKES SPEECH IN SPITE OF WOUND

Milwaukee, Oct. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt was shot in the breast here tonight. The bullet was in the Colonel's body when he went to the Auditorium to make his speech. He refused to permit physicians to examine the wound until he had finished his address.

The man who did the shooting at first refused to give his name. He had on his person a copy of the Colonel's itinerary, written on a sheet of note paper taken from the Bismarck hotel and cafe, Nashville, Tenn.

The would-be-assassin is 5 ft. 5 inches in height, weighs 170 pounds, light complexion, b 11, fairly well dressed. He confessed to the police that he fired the shot and made the remark: "Any Man looking for a Third Term ought to be Shot."

The prisoner told the police after an hour's examination that he was John Schrank, of 370 E. Tenth St. New York.

Col. Roosevelt began his speech at the Auditorium about 8:20.

Various reports as to the nature of the shooting were afloat. One story said the bullet struck the Colonel in the left shoulder and another report that the shot penetrated the Colonel near the heart, but the bullet was stopped by a roll of manuscript in an inside pocket.

After his speech was concluded Col. Roosevelt was taken to the emergency hospital.

Six physicians examined Col. Roosevelt's wound. They found it impossible to determine the depth to which the bullet had penetrated and it was decided to take an X ray photograph.

Life Saved by Manuscript Col. Roosevelt's life probably was saved by a manuscript of the speech which he delivered tonight. The bullet struck the manuscript which retarded its force as it passed through into the flesh. His assailant was prevented from firing a second shot by Albert Martin, one of the Colonel's two secretaries.

The Colonel had just stepped into an automobile when the would-be-assassin pushed his way through the crowd in the street and fired. Martin, who was standing in the car with the colonel, leaped onto the man's shoulders and bore him to the ground.

Captain A. O. Girard, of Milwaukee, who was on the front seat, jumped almost at the same time and in an instant the man was overpowered and disarmed.

A wild cry of "Lynch him!" went up.

Col. Roosevelt spoke to the people and told them to spare the man.

In spite of the entreaties of physicians, he insisted on delivering his address.

Friendship Inslipid Beside Love. What causes the majority of women to be so little touched by friendship is, that it is insipid when they have once tasted of love.—La Rochefoucauld.

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by All Dealers.

The Wilson-Marshall Club

The Earlinton Wilson-Marshall Club continues to grow very rapidly, their membership numbering over 200 at the last meeting, and many names have been added to the list since then. The Club no longer confines its work to the City of Earlinton, but has secured many members from over the County. Prominent democrats in each district in the county have been secured to enroll members for the Club, and urge them to be present at the meetings, which are held each Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. at the City Hall, Earlinton.

The Club committee on speakers is certainly to be congratulated on securing such able orators as Messrs. A. O. Stanley, Ruby Luffoon, David Kincheloe and G. O. Letcher. The last named gentleman will address the club at the City Hall, Earlinton, Thursday night at 7:30. Mr. Letcher is very forceful speaker of high intelligence, and those who have had the pleasure of hearing him never miss an opportunity of doing so again.

For fear that you all are not very well acquainted with us, will say we are here because—we are here, and will now proceed to proceed with the proceedings.

Engineer J. D. Campbell has returned from an extended visit to Niagara Falls and points of interest in the North "Fatty" says that while he was standing in open mouthed wonder, he turned to another member of his party and said "Great Gons! What a big waste," when a delicate lady weighing about 273 pounds, shook her tiny little fist in his face and told him if he did not discontinue personal remarks with reference to her she would shove him into the mighty waters below. He was so impressed by the hint that he "slowed down."

Saturday night will long be remembered by the little folks of our town and also by their mothers. On Saturday evening from 8:00 to 5:00 o'clock 26 children from 10 to 4 years old, were invited to the home of Will Porter to celebrate the seventh birthday of his son John Bradford, each guest bringing a present to the happy little host. After spending an hour in games, refreshments were served, consisting of two freezers of ice cream and cake, which was partaken with pleasure by the merry crowd of youngsters and each guest departed with happy hearts and full stomachs but alas, the pleasant evening came near resulting in a tragedy before morning for at 9 o'clock 18 of the 26 were awakened with pain and vomiting, and all night long telephones were ringing asking "are your children sick?" the answer was 'yes' then, what are you doing for them? All of the Doctors in town were busy till morning, Dr. Nichols from Coiltown, was sent for, at first it was pronounced ptomaine poisoning, they all were affected alike, but by morning all were out of danger, some of them able to be at Sunday school, telling how they liked to have died, and each one refused to eat any more banana ice cream this year anyhow.
