WRITES CARD TO THE PEOPLE.

Mr. V. L. Bacon who for a number of years made an excellent postmaster at Madisonville has decided to touch out in the mercantile field and has purchased a half interest in the well-known mercantile firm of A. E. Whitfield of that city. Mr. Bacon is probably one of the best known men in the county and has a host of friends who wish him success in his new field of labor. Following is his card to the public.

To The People of Mortons Gap and Vicinity.

It is my belief that Mortons Gap is a town of opportunities, this is my impression to-day and I also have faith in its future, I am inspired to feel that it will in time become an enterprising city and because of this I have chosen it as the place to launch into business.

I have assumed a half interest in the general merchandise business of A. E. Whitfield, who is known as a dependable and honest merchant, and in order to retain all of his old friends and patrons and if possible try to add a few more shall endeavor to render fair and square dealings and my best service to win them, I feel that it is unnecessary for me to introduce myself to you as the past 14 years in the service of the Government as Postmaster at Madisonville has brought me in touch with the majority of the people of Hopkins County, with this 14 years of successful service in the postoffice and four years experience prior to this in the mercantile business, I come to you with the definite purpose of establishing myself in your confidence by the same system that has been the basis of my success in Madisonville. "The best service and satisfaction" shall be my motto, with this in view I solicit for the firm a share of your patronage and good will.

Very respectfully,
V. L. BACON,

Should Keep Name in Paper.

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business—general store, dry goods store, groceries, furniture dealers, professional men, and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter page ad. in every issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who expects the paper to do most of the boasting for his town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to a town but refuses to advertise his business is not doing his share of the boasting. The life of any town depends upon the live, wideawake and liberal business men in it.—Corydon Republican.

BELIEVED T. C. WILL BE EXTENDED

Road Now in Hands of Receiver. But is Said New Organization Will be Perfected

A special of recent date from Nashville says:

Extensions of the Tennessee Central into new territory and improvements of the property to cost between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000, are in contemplation according to S. W. Fordyce, Jr., of St. Louis, general counsel of the road and representative of the general bondholders, who was in Nashville Wednesday. Announcement of these plans in detail may be expected in a month or six weeks.

"The road has been making enough to pay the operating expenses and the interest on the prior lien bonds," said Mr. Fordyce, but it has not made enough to pay the interest on the $8,000,000 general or second mortgage bonds, and of course has paid nothing on the stock.

"With its present limitations the road would probably never be able to reach the stage where the fixed charge might be paid and a dividend declared. It needs extensions and improvements, and to secure them the road must be refinanced. New capital must be secured and as no capital could be secured when T. C. is not able to pay interest on capital already invested, the road must go through the hands of a receiver, the state wiped clean and start with a new company. The road now has outstanding $4,014,000 of prior lien bonds held jointly by the Illinois Central and Southern railroads, in the proportion of one third and two-thirds. There are also $8,000,000 of general or second mortgage bonds, and the receivership was secured on behalf of holders of these securities.

In addition to the bonds there are something more than 7,000 shares of stock outstanding. "In the event of a foreclosure the road will be publicly sold and the proceeds applied first to the settlement of all current liabilities; second to the payment of accrued interest and principal of the general bonds now amounting to about $9,600,000; and, finally, if there is any surplus, to the payment of stockholders.

COAL OUTPUT OF KENTUCKY MINES

Chief Inspector of Mines C. J. Norwood Says 15,570,000 Tons Produce.

DURING YEAR 1912.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 10.—In his estimate of the Kentucky coal production for 1912, Chief Inspector of Mines Norwood says it will be about 15,570,000 tons divided as follows:

District	Tons
Western	7,480,000
Southeastern	4,845,000
Northeastern	3,245,000

Total... 15,570,000

This indicates an increase of more than 1,500,000 tons over the output for 1911, and an increase of more than 800,000 tons over that for 1910, which hitherto has been the "banner" year.

The report says: "Complete returns for November and actual figures for December may either increase or decrease the estimated amount somewhat, but it seems safe to place the output at not less than about 15,000,000 tons.

"The prospects for 1913 are bright. Barring extraordinary disturbances, I look for an output of not less than 20,000,000 tons; but it may be materially greater.

"A statement showing production by counties will be made public soon."

Mr. Norwood says his estimate exceeds that of the government by 1,500,000 tons.
