The man who whispers down a well
About the things he has to sell
Will never reap a crop of dollars
Like he who climbs a tree and
"hollers."

Birds Voracious Feeders.
As instances of the amount of food some birds consume, the Rev. C. T. Phillips, vicar of Irevigill, a well-known Cumberland naturalist, the other day found in the crop of a wood-pigeon he shot 140 beech nuts, whilst another wood-pigeon had devoured more finely-chopped trunp leaves than he could hold in the palm of his hand.

What is Time?
What is time? The shadow on the dial, the striking of the clock, the running of the sand—day and night, summer and winter—months, years, centuries; these are but arbitrary and outward signs, the measure of Time, not Time itself. Time is the life of the Soul.—Longfellow.

Host Raised So Few Things Caller
Wasn't Sure About the Baby.
"A FRIEND of mine moved out into the country last year," writes a correspondent, "and after that he bored the life out of us by boasting about his 'country place.' He told how he raised all his own vegetables and animals and everything like that and was no longer dependent on the city for anything, and at last we went out to visit him.

"At dinner I said: 'This is excellent roast pork. Raise your own pigs?'
"Yes," he faltered, "but as it happens, this is not our own pork. The pigs weren't ready to kill yet—we started so late—and I had to send to town for this."

"It was the same with every one of the vegetables. They hadn't got there in time to start a garden or a hot-house or cold frames or to see to the old orchard. Everything we had was from town, but next year it would be different. It got positively embarrassing after awhile.

"But after dinner my wife cleverly helped out the situation. Our host's little baby was brought in by the nurse for inspection. And after we had admired the kid sufficiently my wife said:

"I won't ask you if you raised him yourself. He's mighty nice whether you did or not, and I'm sure that after you've been here long enough"—
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Knowing Parrot.
"What a fine parrot you have," said Harold to the young woman on whom he was calling. "How is he on imitating?"

"Great," said the hostess. "He can imitate almost anything."
"Over at Smith's," continued Harold, "they have a bird that can imitate a kiss to perfection. Can your bird do that?"

"No, indeed," answered Mabel indignantly. "Parrots can only imitate, and it is not likely that our bird would repeat a sound it is not accustomed to hear."

Then Polly spoke:
"Don't, Will; don't, dear," it said. "Wait until I take this wretched bird out of the room."—Lippincott's.

The Haunted Man.
Again that ringing in his ears. It was the warning he had dreaded. He knew his time had come. Yet, although he had started at the sound, he seemed half dazed and wholly careless of the consequences.

But still the ringing in his ears!
"Drat it!" he finally said, and, springing from bed, the careworn commuter shut off the alarm clock and proceeded to dress for the 7:10 train.—Puck.

Getting All Ready.
Mother—What have you been doing so long?
Little Daughter—I heard papa say he was going to shave, so I thought I'd get things all ready for him.

Mother—And did you?
Little Daughter—Yes. I got out his razor and mug and shavin' brush and some court plaster.—Philadelphia Ledger.

One Husband Who's Appreciated.
"Don't tell me there is nothing in fortune telling," exclaimed the fiancee. "I consulted one today and she described you to a dot."

"What did she say?" inquired the fiancee.
"Said you had thoughtful eyes, a firm mouth and a noble brow."—Kansas City Journal.

"Was that the candidate for senator whom every one was looking at in the auto?"
"No; he's a great baseball player."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Touched.
Chauffeur—Let me help you into the car and take you to a hospital, ma'am.
Victim—Thank you.
Chauffeur—Well, well! Of all the ladies I've run over you're the only one that's had the courtesy to thank me!—New York Globe.

That Helps Some.
"There's one thing I like about these newfangled dinner dances."
"What's that?"
"They keep a man from wondering what to do with his hands between courses."—Detroit Free Press.

Mothers, Try This.
Conductor—Madam, that child looks older than three years.
Mother—Yes, indeed he does, conductor. That child has had a lot of trouble.—Everybody's.

Clever—Eh, What!
"Is that servant of yours made of iron?"
"No; made of all work."—Baltimore American.

SEMI-WEEKLY BEE, EARLINGTON, KY.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known Earlington People Tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Earlington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

John Franklin, Earlington, Ky., says: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills or any other kidney remedy since they cured me some years ago. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore. I had pains in the small of my back when stooping or lifting. I became tired easily. I also had headaches and dizzy spells and had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit by curing me."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Barred Hot Water.
"She threatened to throw hot water in my face," said a school attendance officer, referring to a woman who had been summoned in respect of the truancy of her child. "You must not throw hot water," the stipendiary told the defendant. "You can heap coals of fire on his head, if you like."

Super Matrimonial Mixup.
A man at Angouleme, France, who divorced his wife and married again, finding his second marriage no happier, has fallen in love again with his first wife and gone back to her. His second wife has instituted divorce proceedings against him, naming the first wife as co-respondent.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists; 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

Worth Knowing.
Never throw away pieces of lemon after they have been squeezed with the lemon squeezer, for they come in handy for removing stains from the napds and elsewhere. Dipped into salt they will scour copper kettles nicely and remove stains from brasswork. Lemon like this will take stains, dirt and odor from pans and kettles as nothing else will. The odors of fish and onions can thus be easily removed.

At Least the Majority.
"I am an opportunist," said a defendant in the New York supreme court. "I make money when I can." Come to think of it, the world seems to be populated exclusively by opportunists.

Attraction of Good Liar.
Some liars are so interesting that we feel sorry we can't believe them.—Dr. Fish.
