DR. HUNTER

Wins His Contest Over D. C. Edwards by A Majority of 191.

Certificate Awarded to Dr. Hunter, and His Name Goes Under the Log Cabin.

The District Committee was to have met at London last Tuesday to canvass the returns of the Congressional primary, but owing to a petition signed by ten members of the committee asking Chairman Byrley to call them together at some other point. The meeting was postponed until Wednesday, when they met at Middlesboro and proceeded to canvass the returns.

A number of the committee-men who assembled at London were threatened and intimidated there and it was freely discussed that the certificate "had to be given to Edwards, or the committee-men would never reach home again," and all such threats and intimidations until the members from the counties of Jackson, Letcher, Bell, Adair, Clinton, Monroe, Pulaski, Wayne, Cumberland and Russell petitioned Chairman Byrley to call the meeting at some other point in this district, where the count could be made without fear, intimidation or interruption.

The call was then made to meet at Middlesboro on Wednesday, which was done.

A restraining order was issued by the clerk of the Laurel Circuit Court to prohibit them from counting the returns, but the committee ignored the papers and proceeded to make the count.

The face of the returns showed Dr. Hunter had carried the district by a majority over his opponent, D. C. Edwards, of 191 votes, and the committee issued to him the certificate.

There were present at the meeting the Chairman, Secretary and eleven members of the committee, making a quorum present, and having all the records with them.

This committee could do nothing more than to canvass the returns as they had them before them and had no power to make any changes. It was not sitting as a contest board, as there was no contest before them. It is now left to Mr. Edwards to either contest or submit to the vote as it is certified by the committee.

The courts have no jurisdiction in a case of this kind as it has decided in a number of similar cases, and it is now up to Mr. Edwards to move or quit.

BIG INDIANS

Invade Our Town and Take Everything in Sight.

A Large Band of Warriors from Four Mile and Artemus Invade Our Town and Organize a Tribe of Pale Faces.

TCHOUPATOULAS NO. 111.

Last Tuesday evening a tribe of Red Men from Four Mile and Artemus came down to institute the tribe of warriors recently organized here, and the occasion was one of considerable interest to our citizens.

The camp-fire was kindled in the Masonic Hall at 7:30 o'clock and kept burning until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

The visiting team was composed of the following hunters, braves and warriors: Warren Wilson, Fred Brock, Andrew Brockett, C. C. Brockett, Thos. Miller, Saul Miller, W. J. Black, Willard Miller, Frank Sexton, Henry Miller, Willie Sexton and Walter Schooler, of Four Mile, and John G. Marsee and Green Carnes, of Artemus.

After the camp-fire was kindled the roll of charter members of the new lodge was called and the following responded to their names:

W. H. McDonald, F. D. Sampson, J. R. Smyth, J. M. Wilson, James Golden, A. C. Vaughn, J. W. Messamore, H. W. Bowman, W. G. Gray, J. B. Westerfield, B. F. Herndon, A. W. Hopper, W. D. Chamberlain, John Parker, D. W. Clark, G. F. Taylor, R. B. McDonald, Charles Davis, J. T. Culton, C. L. Harbin, W. F. Dozier, Joshua Parrott, H. B. Jones, D. M. White, R. O. Allen, R. M. Stansberry and R. F. Harbin.

The new lodge will be known as Tchoupatoulas, Camp No. 111, and the officers elected for the ensuing term were as follows: W. H. McDonald, Sachem; H. W. Bowman, Senior Sagamore; D. W. Clark, Junior Sagamore; J. R. Smyth, Prophet; J. T. Culton, Chief of Records; J. M. Wilson, Keeper of Wampum; Charles Davis, Collector of Wampum.

After the election of officers the amplified work was put on and the new tribe was instructed in the secret mysteries of the tribe, after which they adjourned to meet again next Tuesday evening, when the unfinished work will be taken up and disposed of.

Barbourville can now boast of having a tribe of as brave warriors as any section now inhabited by the pale faces, and the prospects bid fair to increase her tribe until she will rank with the largest camps anywhere in the country.

The work and the teachings of the Red Men is excellent, and does not interfere with the religious or political views of anyone, but if the vows of the order were lived up to by the membership it will have an influence in the community for good that is bound to be felt and appreciated.

A SUNDAY

Spent Pleasantly In Country

Attending Church and Visiting Tenters of Dishman Springs.

Last Sunday morning, the Editor and family secured a carriage and team from Geo. W. Tye, the popular Liveryman of our town, and started on a trip to see the country, and attend the Church services at Indian Creek Church.

After traveling over some of roughest kind of roads, and over mountain and fording streams, we reached the little church in time for the morning service.

After the services an adjournment was taken and lunch spread and the many baskets were soon relieved of the loads of provision which had been prepared by the good women, for the occasion and spread for the multitude.

After partaking of these refreshments the congregation again assembled in the church and after listening to an exhortation by the Pastor, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, followed by the Foot-washing, which is a custom of this Church.

After the services we started on our homeward journey and stopped off at the Dishman Springs, where we found a large number of our friends and acquaintances out from town, enjoying a season of camping and drinking the mineral water of the famous Dishman Spring.

Among those we met at the springs were Judge and Mrs. S. B. Dishman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward England, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sommer, and son Charles, Mrs. McDermott, and babe, Mrs. Davidson, Misses Grace Jolly, Kate England, Myrtle Waters, Lillian Gibson, Gertrude Black, Wadelee Maret, Messrs Thomas D. Tinsley, W. M. Dishman, W. S. Hudson, Ernest Faulkner, S. T. Davidson, John Hudson, Chas. Rathfon, James Faulkner, L. M. Cole, Henry Miller, and W. M. Mitchell.

After spending a pleasant hour or so with these jovial folks, we bid them good-bye and returned home feeling that we had enjoyed a pleasant day's outing.

The only unpleasant feature of the trip was the rough roads and horrible mud holes that are allowed to exist in the roads. These could and should be remedied without delay.

HOLINESS CAMP MEETING

At Boreing, Ky., August 26 to September 4.

Services will be held daily in the tabernacle on the beautiful grounds at 6 and 10 a. m., and 2:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Dr. B. Caradine, one of the greatest evangelists and powerful preachers the continent has ever possessed, will be the minister in charge of the meeting. To have a man of such national reputation is a favor beyond our comprehension, but he will truly be here—in the heart of Kentucky's mountains—for a period of ten days.

Thousands of people are expected to attend from all parts of the State and Union, and an unbounded invitation is given to all the readers of the good MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE to come over and help us.

Address all communications to
D. W. BROWN,
Boreing, Ky.

ROOSEVELT

WILL MAKE NO SPEECHES.

Chairman Cortelyou Says the President Will Take no Part in the Campaign—Will Follow Course Pursued by McKinley.

New York, Aug. 12.—Chairman George B. Cortelyou said to-day that President Roosevelt would not make any political speeches this year, setting at rest many rumors to that effect which have been in circulation. Beyond the speech to the notification committee and the letter of acceptance, which is yet to be published, the President will not take any public part in the campaign.

This is in line with the course pursued by President McKinley in 1900. He made a speech to the notification committee and wrote his letter of acceptance, but did not deliver any speeches. He caused the announcement to be made that as President of the whole country he did not believe it proper to receive delegations and speak to them as he did in 1896, when Canton was the mecca of Republican organizations from every part of the country.

President Roosevelt has placed the political campaign in the hands of Mr. Cortelyou, and while there may be consultations between them it is well understood that the National chairman is in absolute control and that in all political matters he takes the full responsibility.

Attorney General W. H. Moody had quite an extended conference with Chairman Cortelyou to-day. He was on his way from Washington to Boston and will deliver an address at the War college at Newport next week. Mr. Moody will make two speeches next month, one in Maine and another in Vermont. He will also make a speech in Massachusetts October 7, when he will preside over the State Republican convention.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Representatives James Tawney, of Minnesota, manager of the speakers' bureau at Republican headquarters in Chicago, to-day discussed with President Roosevelt some phase of the campaign work, particularly as to the West. Mr. Tawney says it probably will be a month yet before the speaking campaign opens in the West. It is quite likely, Mr. Tawney says, that fewer speakers will be on the stump for the National committee in the West this year than in the campaigns of 1896 or 1900. In the campaign of 1900 about 1,500 speakers were directed from the Western headquarters of the Republican party. An earnest and aggressive campaign, however, is to be conducted in every Western State.—Pittsburg Times.

CIRCUIT COURT

The case of Wm. Sprinkle that was being tried when we closed the forms last week ended in a hung jury, and after a vain effort to reach a verdict, the jury was dismissed and the prisoner was discharged by the court.

The case of Vic Messer was taken up and after hearing the testimony the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and sentenced him to seven years in the State penitentiary.

This was a surprise to his attorneys, as they claim in his former trial he was only given three years, and that the Court of Appeals in reversing the case good as admitted that he should have been acquitted on the testimony, and the evidence this time was not quite so strong.

The case of Pal Carnes, charged with the murder of John Mills, was begun on Monday, and at the hour of going to press the jury has not reported. This will possibly be the last week of the special court.

John Robinson's Ten Big Shows.

Items of Interest.

John Robinson's show employs 612 people all told. There are 36 heads of departments or bosses.

John Robinson the Third is general manager, with 36 assistants on his own direct business staff.

Two hundred and twenty men are employed in the working department. One large cook house, with 6 cooks and twenty waiters attend to the dining rooms, one, of which is for the performers and one for the working people. The show carries its own private restaurant on the ground, and another in the regular train club car. Mr. Robinson and family have their own dining tent on the show grounds, and his own dining car on his section of the show trains.

The show carries its own blacksmithshop, with five smithies

There are 71 members of the Elks with the show, besides Masons, K. P.'s, Woodmen, Odd Fellows, Eagles, etc., but the B. P. O. E. predominates.

One hundred and ten women are in the show including 65 ballet girls, necessary for King Solomon spectacle.

Ten acres of space are required for the entire tented city; 5,000 stakes have to be driven to secure to canvas.

It has the only 12-center pole menagerie in the world.

It has 350 horses of all shades and colors, the finest draught horses that money can buy and the stud of the racing stock. All possess pedigrees of the highest imported and domestic rank.

Two shows are given, and the entire outfit is moved twice daily, including parade, rain or shine.

Five detectives accompany the Robinson show, and they know every crook and thief, of reputation in America, consequently these questionable gentry give the show grounds a wide berth, as they are locked up on sight.

The big show will give two performances here Saturday, August 27.
