

"THE ROLL OF HONOR BANK"

No other National Bank this side of Stanford, Kentucky, is a "Roll of Honor Bank" except the First National Bank, of Barbourville. There are only about nine "Roll of Honor" National Banks in the whole State of Kentucky. Our Bank is entitled to this distinction because of its large SURPLUS PROFIT FUND. It grows. It is a United States DEPOSITORY. A depository for the United States Post Office and the United States Court. A depository for the City of Barbourville and Knox County. It not only has the confidence of the Citizens, but also of the Nation, State, City and County Officers. This ought to mean something to the person who thinks and who wants to do business with a growing, strong, safe and progressive bank. We appreciate both large and small accounts.

Mrs. Annie B. Bullock, wife of G. N. Bullock, died Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home in Gray. She had been ill for several months of pellagra. Mrs. Bullock was the widow of Hop Donaldson. ABOUT COMPLETE

The brick work on the Christian Church will be completed this week, and it is hoped that the congregation can occupy it by November 1st.

NEW BOULEVARD

Mr. T. F. Faulkner, our enterprising townsman, has just completed a driveway to the top of Bald Hill, which is one of the finest drives in Kentucky, this road is about one and one half miles long and rises 255 feet above the valley below, the grade is so perfect that a Ford automobile goes nearly all the way up on high speed, and when descending the mountain an auto will coast 95 per cent of the distance.

The road was surveyed and laid out by C. B. Parrott, our County Road Supervisor, and is a master piece of work. If all the citizens of our town would put forth a little effort, as has Mr. Faulkner, we would soon have a city of no little consequence.

A Request

I want to ask J. R. Hammons to write another article, this time on "Old Backwoods Churches and School Houses." I think his article on "old back time," was a master piece. He says he was just a strip of a boy at that time, but he made me feel like "old time religion." I have helped my mother to gather in the bark to bake the coon and potatoes. I have heard the old deer bounds come around the leading ridge with the deer for the old men. I also have been up on the mountain, after the cow. I have helped to grit the corn to make hoe-cakes to eat with the coon, potatoes and wild honey. These articles will be very interesting to the young as well as the old people of today to show them the great advantages they have as compared to the old days when we were children. So let us hear from J. R. Hammons, or one else on these good old times 50 years ago.

A Knocker's Prayer.

"Lord, please don't let this town grow. I've lived here forty years and during that time I have fought every improvement. I have knocked everything and everybody; no firm or individual has ever established a business here without my doing all that I could to put them out of business. I have used every method Thy inspiration would suggest to injure the business. I've lied about them and would have stolen from them if I had the courage, I have done all I could to keep the town from growing; never have I spoken a good word for it, but I've knocked hard and often.

"It pains me, O Lord to see that in spite of my knocking this town is growing. Some day I fear I will be called upon to put down sidewalks in front of my property, who knows but what I may have to help keep up the streets that run by my property. This, O Lord, would be more than I could bear.

"It would cost me money, and I could not afford to put out my money, although all I have was made right here.

"Then more people might come if the town begins to grow which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I ask therefore that you keep this town at a standstill that I may continue to be the chief knocker. Amen and Amen."

HANDLE FACTORY

Mr. T. M. Minton, and his son R. B. Minton, left here Tuesday morning for Cincinnati, Ohio, where they will purchase a complete outfit for the hickory timber factory. They have signed a contract for the grounds and will proceed at once to put the factory in operation. They will buy any amount of hickory, in the log or cut to dimension, they are not confined to any particular article, as some say a spoke and rim factory, but they make any and all kinds of handles, buggy shaft's, breast yokes, tongues, single and double trees. They will employ anywhere from 30 to 100 men daily, they do not work much cheap labor, as the man who works for them must have some skill, but they will patiently instruct any who may want to work. They will pay good prices for timber, and will be ready to receive same soon.

Mr. Minton will move here about October 15 with his family but has not fully decided upon a house yet.

Barbourville could have many other industries if we would only let the world know what we have. Why don't you try "boosting" our old town, it helps.

MOORE-GAMBRELL

Mr. F. Moore and Miss Lillie Gambrell were among the numerous couples of matrimonially inclined visitors at Cumberland Gap yesterday. After the ceremony they returned to this city and are now receiving the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.

BRODHEAD FAIR

We have been going to Fairs for the past 25 years, and have come to the conclusion that we know something of the Fairs, and we go you one better than that, we do know one when we see it. Brodhead is a small village in the north part of Rockcastle County, and is on the L & N railroad; it is situated upon a table land just over the valley thru which flows a small Creek and thru which the railroad passes, it has a bank, drug store, several dry goods and grocery stores, and restaurants enough to feed an ordinary army. They do not stop at this, they have the finest set of people to be found, they are clever and accommodating, and will do all in their power to make one feel at home.

The first day of the Fair looked as though it would be a complete failure, but about 10 o'clock the mist cleared away and the people began to come in until it looked as though it had rained people, and when they did come they sure did bring the exhibits, and every one had a good time.

Their exhibition of live stock was just fine, and from start to finish there was not to be seen one under the influence of liquor, the officers of the Association are gentlemen, and they were well pleased with the whole affair.

The Barbourville Redmen Band furnished the music, and we have heard that they were well pleased with that also.

If all did not have a good time we don't know why.

The Prevention of Hydrophobia

To Peace Officers, Health Officers and the People of Kentucky:—

A recent examination of dogs' heads from widely separated sections of the State shows an alarming prevalence of Hydrophobia. Under the authority conferred upon it by law, the State Board of Health hereby requests and directs all persons owning valuable dogs to keep them upon their own premises or to have them carefully muzzled, and Sheriffs, Chiefs of Police, Constables and the people generally are hereby requested and directed to destroy, as painlessly as possible, all unmuzzled dogs running at large with a view to the prevention of Hydrophobia. Failure to observe this request is punishable by fine before any Magistrate.

Through arrangements with the United States Public Health Service, the State Board of Health is enabled to give the Pasteur treatment at the Bacteriological Laboratory, Bowling Green, Kentucky, without expense, to individuals who have been bitten by rabid dogs or other animals. Dogs' heads suspected of being mad should be sent to the Laboratory, by express prepaid, and the result of the examination will be telephoned or telegraphed.

This Board takes this occasion to inform the people of Kentucky that mad stones are useless if one is really bitten by an infected animal, their use gives a false sense of security and their use is forbidden by law.

Given under our hands and the seal of the State Board of Health, this August 11, 1914.

J. G. SOUTH, President.
