

Smashing, Dashing, Auto Polo Spectacular Feature For Fair

A show must be almost of super-quality to vie with the stunning and spectacular saddle horse exhibitions held nightly in the great live stock pavilion of the Kentucky State Fair and in effecting this happy consummation the nicest judgment, sense of spectacular values and practical knowledge is required.

With the possession of these assets already demonstrated by Hippodrome shows in 1917-18 which were notable amusement affairs, Kentucky State Fair Secretary Fount T. Kremer may be relied on to equal or excel those former showings and there is satisfactory assurance in his announcement that the 1919 roster of attractions will be the banner array of State Fair history.

The outstanding feature of this great pavilion entertainment will be the appearance, for the first time in the South, of the magnificent musical organization known as the 71st Regimental New York Guards Band with Lieut. Lambert L. Eben as director. This band figured in all the war activities of the metropolis and is in constant demand for victrola and piano-player work. The organization is made up of forty well-trained and accomplished musicians uniformed in striking military array, and it boasts soloists of high repute in the world of music. Its leader, Lieut. Eben, is a picturesque figure, and is said to be one of the most brilliant directors in America. Their programs will be made up of selections appealing to all tastes.

Of the acts proper the most pretentious to be offered in the pavilion oval will be the auto polo exhibition which is second to none as an amusement combining thrill, clamor, movement and surprises. This game was introduced to State Fair visitors for the first time last season and both in the pavilion and on the race track it aroused a furor of interest and excitement. The game is a species of polo contest played with mounts of raring, swaying, space-enting autos of especial construction and miniature size. There are no restrictions as to methods of attack and head-on smashes, machine somersaults and "spills" are frequent.

Another act of "dare devil" type is to be presented by the Johannes Joefesson Troupe of five Icelanders, formerly a big drawing card with the Barnum circus aggregation. Their line of entertainment is a sensational illustration of the possibilities of physical development and understanding of defense in the event of attack. Pistols, bowie knife and blackjacks figure sensationally in their paraphernalia.

"Human Aeroplanes" is the billing of the Four Boises, who are English aerial artists offering amazing mid-air gymnastics. The act includes three men and a pretty woman said to be as skilled as her companions.

ASTOUNDING FEATS OF DEXTERITY ARE PROMISED in the offering of the Portia Sisters who are French girls performing amazing feats of dexterity in mid-air while revolving suspended by teeth or hair. As climax to a thrilling program two of the Portias slide from either end of the pavilion roof suspended by their hair.

A turn attractive to the eye and thrilling to the senses is assured in the wheel and wire offering of the MacDonald Trio, as well as the quartet of comedians known as the Baggage Smokers.

In "Circus Horsemanship" Fair visitors will be regaled with a spectacle wonderful in the way of super-intelligence and training and of decorative beauty.

Elephants figure in another animal act of amusing and marvellous tenor and posing steeds and four people provide a "living statuary" series of patriotic and beautiful character.

The list of Hippodrome features winds up with the stirring, sensational and unusual entertainment of the Seven McKays, as a Scotch troupe of canny Highlanders are described. Their offering is a musical ballet in which the national instrument, the bag-pipes, figure piercingly and pleasingly.

Prizes Totalling $10,000 Will Lure World Champion Horses To Fair

"Cascade," Winner of World's Championship in 1918.

For the third time in State Fair history a $10,000 premium has been announced in connection with the five gaited Saddle Horse Stake which is outstanding feature of the horse department of the Kentucky State Fair.

For seven successive fairs the premiums in this ring had ranged from $500 to $3,000 with only one night's exhibition of the high steppers. In 1917, Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen made a whirlwind campaign for funds and by his own personal, brilliant, daring work, secured in donations the splendid sum of $8,835.00, leaving the total premiums for this event to $10,000.

The announcement electrified the show horse world and did just what the commissioner calculated and desired, lured the breeders and exhibitors of fine horses with new and keen interest in the ring. It also put the Kentucky State Fair on a horse show basis rivaling Madison Square with an entire week of horse events instead of the one exhibition, the saddle horse contests being divided into classes for the stallions on Monday night, the mares on Tuesday night and the geldings on Wednesday with the winners of the first three prizes in each of these classes pitted against each other in a grand struggle for the championship honors of the world on Saturday night.

The venture in 1917 met with unprecedented success and every night of the week the great State Fair livestock pavilion seating ten thousand spectators was nightly packed to overflowing with enthusiastic spectators who applauded to the echo the magnificent specimens of horse flesh and equally splendid exhibitions of horsemanship which the ring provided. This triumph was repeated in 1918 and as nothing succeeds like success, bids fair to outrun all records in 1919.

WOULD STOP FOREIGN DUMPING HERE

Preparations are being made by Chairman James W. Fordney, of Ways and Means Committee of the House, for a complete revision of the tariff late in the autumn following upon hearings held until then to place it upon a scientific basis.

This will be the first Republican tariff measure to be enacted since the Dingley and Payne laws, the first enacted immediately after the hard times of the Cleveland administration when McKinley took office in 1897, and the other during the Taft incumbency of the White House when the need of high duties had been demonstrated in order to meet the intensive productive methods of Germany and other commercial countries of Europe.

On the committee are some of the ablest business men and lawyers in the House, including Moore of Pennsylvania, Green of Iowa, Longworth of Ohio, Hawley of Oregon, Treadway of Massachusetts, Copley of Illinois, Mott of New York, Young of North Dakota, rear of Wisconsin, Tilson of Connecticut, Bacherach of New Jersey, Hadley of Washington, Timberlake of Colorado and Bowers of West Virginia.

Two new features will distinguish the new law from its predecessors. These have been worked out by Chairman Fordney. One of them provides the fullest protection of American producers against the encroachments of foreign made goods. This is an anti-dumping clause to prevent foreign manufacturers from selling their goods in this country at a lower price than in their own. The other is the imposition of an ad valorem duty on the valuation of imported goods as estimated upon arrival in this country instead of where manufactured. Thus there will be no opportunity on the part of foreign manufacturers to misstate the valuation. Upon arrival here the goods will be given a valuation such as to make the cost even with that for the same articles in the United States.

"If we had the Payne rates in operation now instead of those of the Underwood law," said Chairman Fordney, "we should now have an additional income with which to help meet the expenses of the federal government of between $300,000,000 and $500,000,000 annually. Our rates are now lower than any other great industrial country in the world. They should be raised not only to produce more revenue, but to protect our producers so that our home market may be preserved to us and prosperity upheld against the bitter competition of Europe."

The Best Plaster

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound over the seat of pain is often more effectual for a lame back than a plaster and does not cost anything like as much.

HIGHWAY HINTS

By A. W. Campbell, Commissioner of Highways For Dominion of Canada.

Close up the roads of the country and the railways will starve; the great ocean steamships rust at their moorings.

The common road is the great feeder of all other roads and of the country's business.

We can't build a permanent road to every farm, but we can make an intelligent start on the main roads.

To put common earth construction on a principal road would be as foolish as paving a byway.

In the past we have wasted and misapplied millions of dollars thru road building without a plan.

It is not a question of expense; people will not object to spending money for roads so long as they get the results.

The only way to repair a road properly is by never allowing it to get out of repair.

Proper drainage and a good foundation are as important as any other part of road building.

GREAT INVENTIONS IRONCLAD MONITOR

Gen. John Ericsson, in 1862 during the Civil War, designed the first monitor, a great naval achievement of that time.

Ericsson's Monitor was an invention. It revolutionized seafighting in the Civil War. Likewise

It's an achievement, as marvelous on the land as was the Monitor on the sea. Drink Reif's.
