GERMAN KAILWORKS, of Nassau, New York

TAKING THE CENSUS IN PORTO RICO.

NEW STEAMERS TO FLY BETWEEN SAN JUAN AND NEW YORK.

Something More About Ponce de Leon.

The following is a continuation and the concluding section of the very interesting communication by Mr.
Garrison, commenced in our last issue:

So much is being written in the daily press of the United States respecting the political, social, industrial and commercial conditions and prospects of Porto Rico, that any thing your correspondent might say on that line would be but second hand and without interest to the readers of The Free Lance.

The raising of oranges is a favorite scheme of investment with Americans coming to Porto Rico, since its climate is an ideal one for that purpose, never subject to the frosts which sometimes blight and destroy the crop in Florida. Some have already purchased land for orange growing, and others are prospecting on the same line.

During the past few months municipal elections have been held in several of the towns of the Island, under authority of the Governor-General, with varying results as to success of the Republicans and Liberals. The recent Republican success in Mayaguez was celebrated here in San Juan, with music, speaking and fireworks. These elections have not been devoid of charges of illegal voting, fraudulent ballots and contested cases; showing that in the very inception of educating the Port Ricans in the elective franchise, the usual evils spring up, which prevail in communities where elections have been common for more than a century.

The taking of the census of Porto Rico is progressing systematically under the able management of Mr.
Harrison Dingman, the assistant director of census for Porto Rico, a well known citizen of the District of Columbia. Mr. Dingman's genial and social qualities are making him as popular in San Juan as he is deservedly in Washington city.

The New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company will soon have two or more new steamers of the most approved type added to their line running between New York and San Juan; in fact, the new steamer "Excelsior" has already made her first trip, having been delayed on her voyage here by the mishap of losing her propeller, occasioning the necessity of her being towed into the port of Savannah, Ga., where a new propeller was ordered and adjusted.
She arrived here twenty one days after her departure from New York.

She is a fine ship, and her conveniences in the matter of saloons, dining room, smoking room, state rooms and the like, are such as will please the taste of the most fastidious. The acquisition of these new steamers will materially add to the travel coming to Porto Rico from the States, and also bring to the people more frequent mails.

In an article for The Free Lance written several months ago, your correspondent referred to the fact, as stated here, that the remains of Ponce de Leon are buried in the old church of San Jose in the city of San Juan, at the head of Santo Cristo Jubb, overlooking the entrance to the harbor, which was rent by one of Sampson's shells at the time of the bombardment, but is now repaired.
In conversation with American friends here, some of them have been disposed to doubt the truth of the statement as to the burial place of Ponce de Leon, reminding your correspondent of the lessons in our school-boy geographies and histories which taught us that Ponce de Leon died in Florida or near to the banks of the Mississippi in pursuing his fruitless search for "the fountain of eternity."

For the real facts concerning the death and burial of Ponce de Leon, I am indebted to the kindness and courtesy of the Honorable Cayetano Colly Toste, the learned and accomplished Civil Secretary to the Governor-General and formerly the Secretary of Finance of Porto Rico. Dr. Colly Toste is well versed and thoroughly informed in all matters pertaining to Porto Rico and its history. In addition to his knowledge and experience in public affairs of the island, he is also a distinguished physician, and the author of a treatise on yellow fever, which ranks high as a standard authority with the medical profession.

The facts are as follows: Don Juan Ponce de Leon, in an engagement with the Seminole Indians in Florida, received an arrow wound which disabled him; he went to Havana, Cuba, and died there shortly after his arrival from the effects of the wound.

His son, Luis Ponce de Leon then lived at Casa Blanca (the white house) in San Juan, Porto Rico, at that time made of wood, but now of stone and brick, still preserving the same white color which gave it its distinctive name, and commanding from the eminence on which it is situated, a fine view of the ocean and the entrance to the harbor.

Luis Ponce de Leon had his father's remains brought from Ha-vanna to San Juan, where they were interred in the church of San Jose, as it is now called, but which was then known as the church of Santo Tomas de Aquino, and belonged to the Dominican Convent, which was located next to it.

In the Plaza de San Jose in front of the venerable church, still well preserved, after the lapse of more than four centuries, and visited daily by devout worshippers, there stands a bronze statue of Ponce de Leon, of life size and martial attitude and bearing, having on its pedestal the Spanish inscription, which, in English, reads: "Erected to Juan Ponce de Leon, the Conqueror and First Governor of this Island, June 24, 1882." Other inscriptions on the pedestal of this monument refer to the fact that Ponce de Leon accompanied Columbus on his second voyage to the New World; that he reached the Island of Porto Rico in 1508 and terminated the conquest thereof in 1511; and after reference to his visit to Florida, tell the story of his death in 1512. Mario de Rosales a poet described Ponce de Leon in a poem described as follows: "Wounded in Florida in 1512. Died from the effects thereof shortly after his arrival in Cuba."

Another statue in San Juan, in the Plaza de Cristobal Colon, erected to Columbus, is a work of art which reflects credit upon Porto Rico, and which would be an ornament and honor to any city. The pedestal is lifelike with five sides, each bearing a bronze tablet of large size, let into the stone, elaborately and exquisitely carved, with artistic, historical designs, descriptive of the departure of the great discoverer with the caravel, the voyage, discovery and landing. The pedestal is surmounted by an exquisite, fluted Corinthian column, on the top of which stands the life size statue of white marble, representing Columbus as richly clad, head bared, but in hand, gazing into the distance as if looking for the longed-for land.

The statue is noble and majestic, and the whole figure tends to inspire reverence and admiration for the man whose genius and courage doubled the known world. The pedestal bears the simple inscription: "Puerto Rico a Cristobal Colon," with the name of the artist, as follows: "Achille Canessa, Genova, 1893."

In the matter of social entertainments and amusements, while San Juan is not up to the standard of Washington, it is by no means devoid of interest. The Monday evening concerts at the Fortaleza Palace, the residence of the Governor-General, are very popular and largely attended by fair ladies of the American contingent of San Juan, with others, who are native and to the manor born, military officers, officials of the military government and citizens. The Governor-General and his wife receive their guests with cordiality, and their acquaintance with grace the occasion of their presence.

The theatre of San Juan is constantly open, and occasionally the performances are excellent.
The Concha Martinez opera company, here some weeks ago, drew large crowds. Musical entertainments are frequently given at the rooms of different clubs, at the Casino Espanol they occur weekly.

Summer still reigns in Porto Rico; in fact it reigns here eternally, and white linen suits are in vogue the year round. It is hard to realize that Thanksgiving Day is near at hand, and before this letter shall appear in The Free Lance, the Thanksgiving turkey and plum pudding will have been dispensed throughout the States in dining rooms made cheerful with glowing fires. Fire-places and stoves (except for cooking purposes) are unknown here.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is one druggist disciple who has been able to cure in all its stages, and that it is Catarrh, Hal's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hal's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient the power that they offer the constant and assisting nature in doing their work. The proprietors have so much faith in their cure, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for particulars.

meaning of false doctrine?
Schoolboy—Please sir, it's when the doctor gives the wrong stuff to people who are sick.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy, and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on M. M. Lewis, Druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c, and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

ORANGE.

Deaths—Fox Hunt—Notes and Personal of Interest.

(Correspondence of The Free Lance.) Orange County, Va., Dec. 2, 1899.
Little Ida, scarce three years old, the beloved child of Dr. and Mrs.
Woodfork, has passed over the river.
As we stood with heavy hearts beside her bier and gazed with clouded eyes upon the cold picture, we could but feel how natural it is for Jesus to love little children. The smile showed a while before she died yet lingered upon her fair cheek, as in spotless white. She lay a fitting flower to be transplanted in paradise.
Our heart goes out in loving sympathy to the bereaved parents, and we devoutly pray that He who gave and has taken away may reveal the sunshine through the mist.

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
From which none ever wake to weep, A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes."

Mrs. Wm. Richardson, of Thorn Hill, after a lingering illness, died Wednesday.

Thursday Mrs. Roberts, ripe in years and good works, passed to the other shore.

There is much sickness in our county. Only a few of the cases are typical fever, but the sick ones are extremely low.

Some of our farmers are hauling off wheat. Others shipping cattle, turkeys and hogs.

M. S. Johnson has rented for a term of years the old store house at Thorn Hill, and is preparing to open a store in the near future.

Mr. Will Green, one of our most enterprising and popular business men, is among his old friends for a haunting season.

The H. C. Barras Club had a deer hunt Saturday and bagged a fine buck, besides lots of smaller game.

Hon. C. C. Tulliver has returned from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where a successful operation was performed on a sore about his face.

The Casey home was a scene of delightful repast and enjoyment on Thanksgiving day. Miss Casey received with grace, and her presence among us is greatly enjoyed.

J. J. Casey returned to his Wisconsin home Friday. His many friends here regret to give him up.

Real estate agent, Harlow, has sold the Bullock farm to R. C. Stanley, for $700.

W. W. Sanford sold a pair of fine horses in Washington last week at good figures. Sanford is recognized as the best handler of fine horses in this section of Virginia.

Dr. L. S. Ricketts holds well in hand a magnificent pair of blacks, and the turn out makes brown eyes and smiles on dimpled cheeks sparkle like summer lightning.

In a grand fox hunt about Bar-boursville last week, in which noted huntsmen and fleet hounds participated, Jno. Jacobs, of Stevens, led the pack, with his registered hound, Trump. Far in the lead the speckled chaser was baying deep mouthed welcome to a den many feet in Peters Mountain, where one by one the straggling cohort entered in, Trump went first in this chase, which beats a taste of red fox by a big bit.

"A Husband to Burn."

The Garrett county, Md., Journal says a good story is told by Captain Sim Taylor, one of the best-known and most popular conductors on the B. & O. Railroad. Says Captain Taylor:
"I found a lady on my train in black grieving profusely. I asked if I could be of any service to her. She replied:
"Oh! conductor, conductor, I have my husband's remains in the baggage car, carrying them to Baltimore to be cremated." A little farther down in the car a lady just as handsome as the other, said to me: "Conductor, what ails that good sister?" "Madam," I replied, "she is carrying the body of her husband to Baltimore to be cremated, and I am surprised at her grief as it is her fourth husband." "Lady No. 2 began to weep very loudly, and in great surprise I said: "Madam, you are worse than the other sister; what ails you?" "Oh! conductor, the Lord is not good. I have trusted the Lord 40 year and never had nary husband, and there is a woman with a husband to burn."

Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me." For sale by M. M. Lewis,
