A "SANE AND SAFE" FOURTH

The "sane and safe" Fourth of July idea is gaining ground until in the near future we may look forward to the aftermath of this, our great national holiday, with less of fear and apprehension. There is much educational work yet to be done to educate the youngsters, and some grown-ups, that the fervor of their patriotism is not measured by the noise they make on July 4, or risk they run of injury to themselves and others, or chances they take of destruction of property. To say nothing of the lives that are uselessly sacrificed and the persons that are maimed and disfigured for life, the loss by fire, due to Fourth of July celebrations, has been simply appalling. We have recently had opportunity to examine some late statistics in this connection, and the figures are startling. According to these nearly 1,000 persons, principally children, have been killed, nearly 30,000 have been injured and more than $10,000,000 worth of property has been destroyed in ten years by this fire and powder method of celebration.

When we consider this awful record resulting from the barbarous and murderous features of the Fourth, it is no wonder that there is a hue and cry going up from every quarter for a change. It is to be hoped that the rule adopted recently in Fredericksburg, prohibiting the use of fireworks in every form, will be strictly enforced on the Fourth of July next. The risks are too great to take any chances.

PROPPING UP THE ADMINISTRATION

It seems passing strange that, in view of the widespread disappointment at President Taft's administration even among staunch members of the Republican party, expressed generally without stint by the Republican press, the Washington Post, professing an independent newspaper, can indulge in such buncome about the accomplishments of the administration as daily distort its editorial pages, the latest of which, under the title "What Roosevelt Will See," must have been written in a vein of humor and sarcasm.

"Well, this is just bully!"

Quoth the Colonel, looking around him at the Battery. And the farther he goes in looking over the ocean to sea, from lakes to golf—the stronger the emphasis he will feel impelled to employ in giving utterance to his favorite expression.

The Colonel will see that Taft administration giving force and effect to the policies he left behind him, after just receiving them in the form of law from Congress at the close of a session scarcely equalled in solid results—a fighting session, a revolutionizing session, but on the other hand, a revelation to the man who himself had Congresses to contend with.

The Colonel will see that the country has recovered from the panic of 1907 in almost all lines of finance and trade, and is rushing with accelerating pace to a point where all records will be surpassed.

The Colonel will see that nature, in her most bounteous mood, never before gave us a year so rich in promises. Cereals and cotton are responding to the inexorable law of supply and demand, and inevitably the problem which cries loudest for solution—the cost of living problem—will be a thing of the past, its disappearance as unaccountable as its appearance.

"Bully!"

All of which is the veriest sort of rot.

NEWPORT NEWS INSURANCE CASES

Decision Will be Rendered June 29th.

Argument at Newport News in the case of officers and members of the Southeastern Underwriters Association, charged with unlawfully conspiring to control rates for fire insurance in Newport News, was concluded before Justice Brown in the Police Court. The argument consumed two entire days.

O. D. Batchelor closed for the defense there Saturday in three and one-half hours, and Commonwealth's Attorney Berkeley closed for the Commonwealth, speaking four hours.

Justice Brown announced that he will render his decision June 29th.

All of the defendants have departed for their homes, their bonds being continued for their reappearance on the 29th.

WAGE WAR ON FLIES

The Health Department is fighting flies. Health Officer Levy believes within a few years Richmond will be flyless, provided he has the co-operation of the householders.

According to official the Health Department has been handicapped in exterminating the pest because of the insufficient number of men to carry on the work. With two officers to enforce the regulations, Dr. Levy believes the fly will soon be a rare thing.

One of the men will be stable inspector, while the other will be an additional sanitary inspector. Fly experts claim that 95 per cent. of the insects are caused by stables, and the other 5 per cent. by various other sources of generation.

HOUSE DEFEATS BILL CREATING FEDERAL JUDGE

A lively debate was waged in the House Monday night over a Senate bill to create an additional Federal judge for the Fourth, or Virginia, North and South Carolina, West Virginia and Maryland circuit, and the bill was lost, 91 to 96.

Mr. Webb, of North Carolina, in an impassioned appeal, backed by figures on a chart placed in front of the speaker's rostrum, opposed the measure, declaring that much as he disliked to admit it, the business in his circuit was decreasing. Mr. Carlin, of Virginia, and others urged the bill.

FAILED TO NOMINATE

Republicans in Eighth District Defer Action.

Referred to Committee—Taft's Administration Indorsed, Etc.

The Republican Congressional Convention of the Eighth District, which assembled in Alexandria Monday, failed to nominate a candidate for Congress. A resolution of M. W. Carter, of Orange, that the selection of a Congressional candidate be left to the Congressional Committee, District Congressional Chairman and State Committee, together with the Executive Committee of the Eighth District, was passed without opposition.

The meeting was called to order by H. H. Dodge, district chairman, and J. W. Green, Loudoun county, was secretary. The meeting was organized with the election of W. J. Rogers, of King George, as chairman and J. W. Greig, secretary.

Resolutions were adopted reaffirming allegiance to the principles stated in the Chicago platform of 1908, and indorsing the administration of President Taft in his efforts to put those principles into effective operation. The resolutions point to the already great accomplishments of his administration as evidence that in due time all of the promises of the Republican party in the national platform will be performed with fidelity. It is set forth that they have entire confidence in the wisdom of his recommendations and policies, and with an abiding faith that his administration will be one of the most fruitful in beneficent results, they pledge to President Taft loyal and earnest support.

It is also set forth that they rejoice in ex-President Roosevelt's return to the White House and his renewed participation in affairs.

Greetings were extended Representative Zemp, State chairman, confidence expressed in his work and in his efforts to be returned to Congress. The work of Joseph L. Crupper, Alexandria, and M. K. Lowry, Stafford, was approved.

The following State Committees were elected: Wm. Brown, Loudoun; D. G. Green, Stafford; J. E. Grayson, Fauquier; J. A. Egger, Alexandria; Samuel Deiner, Culpeper; Edward Walton, Fairfax, and C. D. Flannigan, Loudoun, were nominated, but they met defeat.

SAUNDERS LOSES SEAT IN HOUSE

Parsons Wins Out in Committee.

The House Committee on Elections, No. 2, voted to unseat E. W. Saunders, Democrat, of the Fifth Virginia District, and to give his seat to J. M. Parsons, Republican, who contested Saunders' election. This gives the Republican party in the House a majority of 100 Congressmen.

The committee voted by a partisan vote of 6 to 3.

The Democratic members of the committee will submit a minority report, holding that Saunders is entitled to the seat.

Although the report will be submitted to the House before the adjournment, no vote may be had on it before next December.

GRYMES-STUART

A Wedding of Interest in King George.

Historic old St. Paul's Episcopal church, King George, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday, June 22nd, at high noon, when Miss Rosalie Eugenia Stuart, daughter of Mrs. Sholto Turberville Stuart, became the bride of Mr. Benjamin Custis Grymes.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the couple by Rev. B. T. Turner, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Edwin Barnes Nives, of Baltimore, and Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Wallis, of Seminary Hill.

The bride entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered on the organ by Miss Mary North Grymes, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Richard H. Stuart, by whom she was given away, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Arthur J. Grymes, of New York City. Mrs. A. B. Davis, of White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and was gowned in white messaline satin and lace, with a white picture hat, trimmed with lacy net and feathers. She carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. The bride wore a gown of white liberty satin, en train, trimmed with lace and made princess. Her tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The ushers were Messrs. George C. Stuart, a brother of the bride; Dr. Edgar Snowden, a cousin of the groom; Thomas R. Garnett, of the Charles White, of Washington.

The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with daisies and laurel and the bride and groom stood under a wedding bell of daisies.

After the ceremony the bride and groom left by steamer "Wakefield" for a bridal trip to Camden and other points and on their return they will reside at Woodstock, the home of Mr. Grymes, on the banks of the Potomac river at Mathias Point. The bride wore a travelling suit of gray cloth with a black velvet hat trimmed in ostrich plumes and red roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rosalie E. Stuart, nee Sholto Turberville Stuart, and a grand-daughter of the late Dr. Richard H. Stuart, of Cedar Grove, King George county, and is connected with many prominent families of Maryland and Virginia.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. Benjamin Custis Grymes and Anne Rey Stuart, of King George, and is well known throughout the county.

Among those present from a distance were: Rev. E. B. Nives, Baltimore; J. P. Campbell, of Athens, Ga.; Miss Caroline S. Hunter, of Winchester; Major R. W. Hunter, Mrs. Charles Hume, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stuart, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spilman, of Rosalie Meade, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Dr. Arthur Snyder, Messrs. R. Stuart Hunter, Edmund P. Hunter and Julian S. Jones.

The presents were numerous and handsome.

O'Conor Goorlick and Dr. G. B. Harrison, of Fredericksburg; Messrs. W. H. Lawson, of West Virginia, and R. B. Lawson, Jr., of Upperville. The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. N. Peach. ANGRY THROUGH AND THROUGH

The President Declares He Will Remain in Washington All Summer to Force Bill Through Without Amendment.

Washington, June 22.—Abandoning a trip to New Haven to see his son graduated from Yale university and announcing that he would stay in Washington "all summer," if need be, President Taft began his first open fight with the United States senate.

The postal savings bank bill is the issue between the White House and the north wing of the capital. The president has announced that the senate must adopt the house bill on this subject. Several insurgents and some of the regulars are strongly opposed to the house bill, and rumors of a filibuster against the measure filled the air.

It was because of these reports and the further prediction that the absence of the president from Washington would be taken advantage of to amend the bill in the senate so as to make its passage impossible in either branch that the president decided to remain at the White House from now until congress adjourns.

President Taft won the first phase of the fight when the bill was taken up in the senate.

The senate rejected, 24 to 31, Mr. Bacon's amendment to strike out the house provision for the withdrawal of funds from banks for the purpose of converting them into government bonds.

The fight over the postal savings bank bill has many angles. The most interesting, perhaps, is the fact that the measure, which the insurgents helped to frame and fully approved in the house, is roundly denounced by the insurgents in the senate.

President Taft has promised to stand by the house measure, and he believes that it was tacitly agreed that a return for the acceptance by the house of the senate standstill bill, that the senate would accept the house postal bank bill. The house carried out its part of the agreement, and now the president means to force the senate to do likewise.

Be that as it may, the president and all of his advisers are agreed that the house bill is by far the better of the two. It was only by heroic measures that a bill was put through the house at all, and it is not believed that there would be one chance in a hundred of having an amended measure favorably acted upon.
