THERE is much better feeling in the grain and provision speculative markets. Prices have advanced all around and trading has been resumed.

SECRETARY FOLGER having directed Commissioner Evans to proceed with the investigation of Collector Crumbaugh, of Kentucky, it is said the duty has been placed in the hands of A. S. Clark, a mutual friend of Evans and Crumbaugh.

PROF. ELLIOTT COUS, the Washington naturalist, says it is now too late to rid the country of the English sparrows. An effort to exterminate rats or cockroaches, he thinks, would be just as effective. The rate of increase is limitless.

THE Government authorities are placed on the alert by the reports of cholera in London, and will spare no effort or expense to see that our own shores are kept clear from the disease. The cholera is looked on with more alarm than the yellow fever.

THE Union Insurance Company on the 11th inst the stockholders of the Union Insurance Company held a special meeting at the Home office in Philadelphia. At this meeting it was unanimously resolved to increase the capital stock of the "Old Union" to $1,000,000. The assets, hereafter will aggregate nearly $1,600,000. The Union has an honorable record of nearly eighty years. Losses paid, $11,500,000. M. F. Marsh has represented the Union in this city for some time, and asks for a share of the patronage in the future. Office on Sutton street.

The Same Old Ace, Deuce. Harper's Magazine for August.

Major C— is exceedingly fond of the game of whist. On one occasion he was speaking of the way in which adverse luck will sometimes pursue a man, and remarked that he once played a whole season at the White Sulphur Springs and never held a trump. Some one in the company suggested that that was impossible, because he must have held at least one trump every time he dealt the cards. But the Major replied, "Every time I dealt it was a misdeal."

He illustrated the same idea in another way. He said he was once in a party when the proposition was made to throw dice for the drinks and cigars. He threw several times, and every time the dice came out ace, deuce. He was vexed, and threw them with all his might against the wall of the room. When he went to pick them up from the floor he was confronted with the same one and two spots. He went to the window any pitched them as far as he could into the yard.

The next day he felt like trying his luck again, and not having another pair of dice, he went out into the yard to hunt them up. Stooping down and peering closely into the grass, his eyes finally rested upon the ace. He was so mad that he made a mental resolution that if the other die was found with the deuce up he would swallow them. He found it at last, and it was the deuce. He swallowed them both forthwith. Five minutes later he became dreadfully alarmed at what might be the consequences of his rash act, and took a strong emetic. The dice were soon deposited on the grass again. "And as sure as you are alive," said the Major, "there lay the same old ace, deuce."

Picked up Along the News Route.

A San Francisco preacher advertised that he would discuss a family scandal the following Sunday morning. As a consequence the church was crowded. The subject was Adam and Eve.

Lowndes, the English wheelman, has performed a remarkable feat by driving his three wheeled velocipede ten miles in thirty-two minutes and a half. His performance will doubtless cause the tricycle to be regarded with greater favor than heretofore.

In the Blockley Almshouse, Philadelphia, the mortality has averaged over twenty-five per cent. during the last twenty years, in some of which not one chance in three of surviving a year's confinement within its walls has been left to the inmates by the management. Not less deadly has been the record of the hospital which is one of the largest in the world, with its 1,000 beds. It contains a sixth of the total number of beds in New York city, whose population is one half larger than that of Philadelphia.

The Union Springs, Ala., Herald, says: We are informed that when a water melon vine takes root the second time and is cut off from the parent root, all melons which grow upon the branch will be seedless. A gentleman who formerly lived near Aberfool successfully tried this experiment, and one of the melons grew unusually large. He sold it at Union Springs at a big price, agreeing to pay five cents apiece for each seed found in the melon. When cut, no seeds could be found, much to the chagrin of the purchaser.

A new indictment was brought against the unhappy trade dollar by a bride of six months last Monday in Philadelphia. Her husband, William Hartly, had beaten her, but "it was all on account of these dreadful trade dollars," she whispered into Magistrate Findlay's ear. William had given her three of them on Saturday to purchase family supplies for Sunday, but as she could not pass them and as William declared that he had no other money, their table was coldly furnished forth with naught but bread and water. Then William went away sorrowful and came home drunk; and when his wife asked him if he had not got drunk on trade dollars he was angry and maltreated her.
