THERE were eight new additions to the Southern Methodist Church, last night, at the revival. The work seems just beginning. There have been over twenty additions. Let everybody go to-night and hear the young preschen. The meeting will continue on over the Sabbath.

"PARTED; or the Bankrupt's Wife," will be produced at the ladies' matinee this afternoon, with Mrs. Chanfrau as Grace Shirley, and Mr. Clifton W. Tayleure, the author of the play, as Dorsey, Shirley. The ladies wouldn't of course, miss the opportunity to see some fine acting by eminent artists.

DEPUTY SHERIPF JOHN W. ALREANDER yesterday received an interesting invitation that reads as follows:

Mr. John W. Alexander, Deputy Sheriff of Mason County, Ky.: You are respectfully invited to be present as a spectator at the execution of Luke Jones and Wm. Jones, the murd-rers of Anderson Lackey, in the court house yard, Jackson, Ohio, on Friday, Dec. 21, 1833. Gnards will admit the person named in this invitation. W. B. CHERINGTON, Sheriff, Jackson county, Ohio,

THE play last night at the Opera House attracted an audience of our most cultivated people, who were delighted with Mrs. Chanirau's interpretation of the lors new leading character, Isabel Vane, and they The are prepared to believe all that the metropolitan press says of this charming and gifted lady. She will appear in "Parted" at the ladies' matinee this afternoon.

PERSONALS.

Miss Maggle Scudder is visiting her father, Mr. E. R. Scudder.

Mr. Robert Hall, brother of Prof. C. J Hall, who visited Maysville several months ago, has been elected State Senator in Virginia by a handsome majority.

Iron is lower than after the panic of 1873, and some of the Pittsburg mill owners believe that the dullness in the iron trade is to be repeated now. They seem fully determined to shut down. There is a report which could not be at Nesbitt and McKrell's. confirmed, that the Bessemer Steel Company have also ordered their fires out. In the iron region of Michigan the workman are causing trouble. The depression in trade comes from over-production, which has been rendered easy by increased facilities.

Kit.

Mr. Frank S. Chanfran will appear at the Opera House this evening in "Kit," which is always a favorite with this community, and on this occasion, as on former ones, is certain to draw a crowded house. The following notice of Mr. Chanfrau in this character, is from the Baltimore American, of the 30th of Octo-

Baltimore American, of the 30th of October:

Frank S. Chanfrau produced that old favorite drams, "Alt, the Arkansas Traveler," last everying at Ford's Grand Opera House, and as usual attracted a large audience, in spite of the storm. The old inverties supported him, and Frank M. Wills and J. P. Conyers, as Judge Suggs and Major Squiggs, were as jolly as they have over been, and as eager in pursuit of free drinks. Birdle Black, a mite of a child, was greatly applanted for her assumption of little Alle, kit's daughter. In the first act, Miss Lizzle Hight appeared as Kit's wife, and subsequently as his daughter in the latter portion of the drama, the child being supposed to have grown up in the twelve years that have elapsed between the first and second act. The burning of the Medora and the fight with bowie knives between the first and second act. The burning of the Medora and the fight with bowie knives between the first and second act. The drama, as is well known, was written expressly for Mr. Chanfrau many years ago, by E. Spencer and C. W. Tayleure, of the Baltimore Press.

rupt's Wife:"

It is a pleasure to note the engagement of Tayleure's Combination in "Parted." The plece is intensely interesting. The east exceptionally strong—every part from the highest to the lowest, being filled by an expert. Henrietta Chanfrau, as "Grace Shirley," is very effective, and demonstrates her right to be ranked with the foremost in the profession. In the third act, where she bids her child kneel and pray that that the enemies of her betrayed father shall be brought to justice, the audience become spall-bound with her burning eloquence and inimitable acting. Fully two minutes clapsed ere the slightest sound was heard, and then all the pent up enthusiasm of the sympathizing assemblage came forth in one long, loud burst of appliance.

The most of our farmers are done killing hogs, and it may well be said that we are living on the fat of the land.

The turnpike road from here to Mayslick is nearly completed, and those desiring to travel that way in the future will find the change very acceptable and pleasant compared to the old mud road with its many nills and hollows.

Rev. F. S. Pollitt preached here Monday night, the 19th inst.

We have some enterprise among our citizens, as will be seen by looking at the flouring mill of Geo. Wood, who has given it a new shingle root, also his barn, which has been treated likewise. Mr. A. Howard has erected a very flue corn

Our school is flourishing under the management of its popular and accomplished teacher, Miss Effic Wadel. Mr. John Brooking is very low with con-umption.

Washington Howe, W. S. Clift and Miller Galbraith are numbered among the sick. Our crops are not the best this year. Corn is short and light weight. Tobacco, some good, but the great bulk of the crop is very inferior. The growing wheat looks very promising.

At the close of the festival a handsome cake made by Miss Cora Belle Arthur was pre-sented to Messrs, Suit & Boulden by ladies of Sardis in token of their eleverness in furnish-ing their building for supper and guests. The beautiful white cake which fell to your reporter was made by Miss Mary Leachman. It was a daisy.

good people, and will be much missed by their neighbors.

The testival entertainment given for the benefit of the parsonage, by the ladies of Sardis, on the nights of the 18th and 14th inst., were social events most enjoyable. The entire house—the Arcade—had been refitted throughout in superb style, and was placed at the freedom of the gnests, who numbered over one hundred. Representatives from the best circles of society frem this and neighboring towns were present. The gen tlemen looked their best in their faultiessly-fitting dress suits, while the ladies were bewitching in evening tollets of satin, plush and cosily sliks, garnished with jewels that were not more dazzling than their pearly teeth and bright eyes. Many wore opera bounds and some of the corsage bouquets displayed by the young ladies, were made up of the choicest roses. All the rooms were thrown open and well lighted. The bacheliors' parlor was the delightful resort—the new found Mecca of the youthful lovers. The evening was pleasantly beguiled with music—selections from opera and concert.

It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it is more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions.
