

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY, EVE. JAN. 21, 1885.

The Legislature of Indiana has passed a bill prohibiting Sunday base ball.

W. M. EVARTS has been nominated for United States Senator by the New York Republicans.

On account of the high railroad rates to New Orleans many visitors to the exposition go by river.

The Democrats of Indiana have nominated Hon. Dan Voorhes for United States Senator and the Republicans ex-Governor Porter.

DURING December 13,622 immigrants arrived in the United States, making a total for the calendar year of 1884 of 453,983, against 569,196 during the previous year.

GEORGE FRASHER, a bar tender, has been arrested at Catlettsburg for attempting to assassinate Capt. Thomas D. Marcum, editor of the Kentucky Democrat. He was released on $300 bail.

The roller skating craze throughout the United States has reached such an alarming pitch, and the demand so far exceeds the supply, that millions of dollars are now invested in this new enterprise.

The late Captain J. N. Williamson was at one time Captain and owner of the W. P. Thompson, Mattie Roberts, the three Emma Grahams, Hudson, Pittsburg, Chesapeake, Hibernia and was part owner of several other boats.

The rumors in regard to serious difficulty in the New Orleans Exposition are said to be without foundation. All the money needed to make it a success, it is announced from New Orleans, will be raised without difficulty. The attendance is growing larger daily.

The following is from the Richmond (Va.) State: "Just before the war, while Mr. E. Richardson was proprietor of the wharfboat at Vicksburg, he was aroused from sleep one night by Captain Spotts, of the steamer Eclipse. The Captain introduced him to Major W. T. Sherman, now General Sherman, who was in command of the 'regulars' being transported from the Baton Rouge Arsenal to the northern side of the line. Major Sherman said: 'Mr. Richeson, I had you waked up to ask if you would be kind enough to take charge of the corpse of one of my men and have the body decently interred.'"

Mr. Richeson told him he would. He then asked the Major what he thought of the situation. "Do you think there will be war, Major?"

Major Sherman said: "Mr. Richeson, I am afraid there will be trouble," and then he added (in substance), "I have spent many years in the South, where I have received only the kindest treatment, and before I would fight against those people I would lose my right arm."

"Mr. Richeson says he wonders, now that General Sherman is publishing some of his Southern notes, if he has forgotten the interview of that night."

The New York World, in referring to the above statement, says: "If there is any further evidence in the support of this statement the United States Senate should be empowered to send for papers and persons, including Richeson and Sherman. As a mere matter of personal history it would be interesting to know how Major Sherman came to change his mind, and instead of losing his right arm, to save both arms, both legs and quite a comfortable fortune. While the Senate is engaged in washing the dirty linen of a quarter of a century ago Sherman's might as well be brought into the national laundry, and for any additional expense that may be incurred Sherman's brother John is abundantly able to furnish the 'soap.'"

The Northwest. (Danville Advocate.)

The preparations for the cold weather in the Northwest are a surprise to visitors. Fur coats and caps are the rule for everybody; the houses have duplicate sets of windows, with a few inches of air between; the stoves are of enormous size, often reaching nearly to the ceiling, and such a diversion as sleighing is scarcely known, as nobody thinks of spending time out of doors for fun in winter.

Bob Ingersoll's Big Fee. (St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

While ex-Senator Dorsey was here in attendance at the cattle convention he was asked one day how much he paid Bob Ingersoll for his defense in the star route trials. "Well," said he, "it was very curious how that was done. From the beginning to the end of the trial Ingersoll never asked me for a dollar. One day, after I had been acquitted on the second trial, I met Ingersoll and I asked him how much I owed him. He at first declined to talk about it, saying he had no charge to make and he didn't care if he never got a cent. I asked him to walk a few squares with me, and we went to a safe deposit building. I unlocked my box, and took out a four per cent Government bond for $100,000 and gave it to him. He put it in his pocket and we walked away, and have not referred to the subject since.

PASSED TO HIS REWARD.

Death of Hon. Flamen Ball, the Old Law Partner of Salmon P. Chase.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—The Hon. Flamen Ball died at his home in Glendale. The members of the bar, the old citizens of the state and the public in general will be pained to hear of his death. He was the law partner of Salmon P. Chase, late chief justice of the United States, and was himself one of the prominent lawyers of Ohio and distinguished men of the country.

Hon. Flamen Ball was born in New York city, January 5, 1809, and was the only son of Flamen Ball, an eminent lawyer of that place and a lineal descendant of Allan Ball, who, in 1843, was one of the founders and proprietors of the colony of New Haven. In 1832 Mr. Ball removed to Cincinnati with his wife Evellina, youngest daughter of Capt. Samuel Chandler.

In 1838, having adopted his father's profession, he formed a law partnership with the Hon. Salmon P. Chase, who ultimately became chief justice of the United States. This partnership continued for over twenty years, during which time they acquired a national reputation as attorneys of profound ability, and the sterling qualities that go to make the typical man.

On the accession of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency, Mr. Chase was appointed district attorney for the southern district of Ohio. On the passage of the bankruptcy law in 1867, Mr. Chase, the chief justice, appointed Mr. Ball, register in bankruptcy, which office he continued to hold until the repeal of the law.

He was a forcible and eloquent advocate, careful and attentive to the management of the causes entrusted to him. He was greatly esteemed for his social as well as professional qualifications and for the support he gave to works of a public character. In 1864 he lost his first wife by death, and in 1873 he was again married to Elizabeth H. Parmelee, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

It is only a few years ago that the deceased moved to Glendale.

Judge Ball voluntarily retired from the practice of the law about six months ago, and an old battered sign with the words, "S. P. Chase and F. Ball, Attorneys at Law," still hangs in the stairway at No. 8 East Third street, and is the only memento that remains of the once famous partnership.

THE EXPOSITION TROUBLES.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe's Complaint to the United States Commissioners.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—The United States Commissioners to the exposition held a secret meeting on Monday. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, chief of the department for women's work, presented a long communication the substance of which was that of the sum of $50,000 appropriated for her department she had not been able to get more than $5,000 from the management and in consequence she had been forced to curtail her original designs for the exhibit, and had been driven to the necessity of paying her own expenses, including board bills and railroad fares for herself and her assistants. Her landlady was threatening to distrain her goods and chattels for board bills. Mrs. Howe asked the commissioners to interfere in her behalf. They at once addressed a vigorous protest to the management and demanded an accounting of Mrs. Howe's appropriation. It is believed the management is in no position to meet the demand, and that if the commissioners make an unfavorable report to congress the result will be to throw the exposition into the hands of a receiver or other agent for the government. The threatened strike of the exposition workmen which was to have occurred Monday was averted by the payment of ten per cent. on account of back wages and a promise of further payments within a few days.

Buffalo's Unbalanced Books.

BUFFALO, Jan. 21.—Mayor Scoville has sent to the board of aldermen a report of the examination of the books in the comptroller's and treasurer's departments. He said the books of the departments had never been balanced since 1874. The differences varied from five cents up to thousands of dollars. The report declares that this is probably the first attempt to make a trial balance of the books in the treasury department. The comptroller and treasurer have adopted a system of keeping the books so that they will hereafter be kept in perfect accord.

Pheasant Will Recover.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Capt. Phelan, who was stabbed eleven times with a bowie knife by Richard Short, was able to sit up in bed in the Chambers street hospital, and got shaved by a barber. To the president of the hospital society he said he was feeling first rate, and believed he was surprising the doctors.

All Danger Past at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—The danger of flood is past. The water in both rivers is receding, but navigation on the Allegheny river can not be resumed because it is ice-gorged. The channel is also full of ice, and the thermometer is hugging the zero line. The railroads, which have been great sufferers by the wash-outs, are now in full operation.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Stillwater, Minn., street railroad asks for a receiver. Diseased sausage killed Libby Robinson at Philadelphia. The fine stallion, Gen. Greene, valued at $15,000 is dead. Signal service has organized a balloon corps for observations. Indiana legislature has made a law prohibiting Sunday base ball. Ten thousand Wilkesbarre, Pa., miners accept a cut of ten per cent. Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore, will be made a cardinal in May. The pines will be cut off the site of Andersonville prison so that it may be seen. The total loss by fire at the Bay State sugar refinery, Boston, is estimated at $335,000. The president has nominated Carroll D. Wright, of Boston, as commissioner of labor statistics. The death of Robert Revel at Louisville Friday morning last was an accident and not murder. Seventeen bottles have been recovered from the ruins of the insane hospital at Kaukahee, Ill. Dr. Buchanan, of university Philadelphia diploma factory, is at his old tricks again. Cashier Meech and Assistant Cashier Webb of the Merchants' bank, of Norwich, Conn. were arrested by United States Marshal Kinney for embezzling from the bank's funds.

Tiger Hunting in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 21.—Some men hunting on Black river, in Great Swamp, Pendoe county, near the South Carolina line, killed a black tiger six feet long. The animal died hard, after killing two dogs, and one of the hunters had a narrow escape. Another tiger of the same species and of equal size has been killed in Sampson county. It had killed a cow, several sheep and a colt. It is believed that these tigers are those which escaped from Robinson's circus near Portsmouth, Va., last summer.

No Wonder.

A MAN WHO SUFFERED MENTAL AND PHYSICAL AGONY EIGHT YEARS PROCLAIMS HIS HAPPINESS.

Mental agony is dreadful, but when that and physical ailment combine, it is simply terrible. Such was the condition of G. W. Frampton, of Huntington, W. Va., for eight years. He was a sufferer of necrosis—that is, the leg issue at the ankle was inflamed and mortified, which caused running sores. He says: "Pieces of bone the size of a silver three cent piece came out of the sores on my leg. The discharge from the sores was almost continual, and I was unable to walk. For eight years I have been doctoring. I had been under the treatment of a physician at Newport, Ky., for a year; another at Burlington, O., attended me for three years, and a doctor here at Huntington worked with me for a long time. None of them did me any good, and they all finally said my case was hopeless. A few months ago I commenced trying PERUNA, and now I am well. I can walk as good as anybody, and have perfect use of my limbs."

Mr. Alf. Lusk, Wooster, Ohio, writes: "DR. HARTMAN, Columbus, O. I have been a great sufferer from that dreaded disease, chronic catarrh of the stomach. I have thoroughly tried your MANALIN, and it has done me more good ten-fold than all the doctors' prescriptions, and I have used legions of them."

Mr. Edgar Harte, Smeltzer, P. O., Elk county, Pa., writes: "I have bought several bottles of your PERUNA, and find it to be of great benefit. I also gave it to some of my friends; they experienced the same result."

Mr. L. R. Wollen, 45 and 47 Ross street, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "I am taking PERUNA with good results, and can highly recommend it to all. I have applied at the different drug stores for one of your books. They claim they have none on hand at present. Please do me the favor to send me one."

W. W. Russell, druggist, Canonsburg, Pa., writes: "I handle your medicine, PERUNA. I have sold immense quantities of it, and consider it a staple article. I have a great many customers who think there is no medicine like it for a tonic or for building up the system. I recommend it as a safe and reliable remedy."

Calista Fisher, Malvern, Ohio, writes: "I take pleasure in recommending the use of PERUNA and MANALIN to any one afflicted with any form of lung or bronchial trouble. I have been for some time afflicted with a very troublesome cough, but a few bottles of PERUNA entirely cured me."
