

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD.

THE CRISIS IN IRELAND REGARDED WITH MISTRUST.

A Growing Feeling in England That the Irish Question Must Be Settled so That the Government Can Quiet the Riotous Masses in London—Other News.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. John Dillon has so often proclaimed an approaching crisis in Ireland that his vaticinations have come to be regarded with a measurable degree of mistrust, but it is evident that the accession of a few more English Liberal martyrs to the list headed by Sir Wilfrid Blunt will do more to secure the adhesion to the Home Rule cause of thousands of hitherto vacillating Englishmen professing liberal opinions in a guarded way than the imprisonment of scores of Irish born subjects. It is certain that the Irish leaders are of this opinion, for their elation at the result of the Woodford meeting is undisguised, despite the regrets they express at the indignities inflicted upon their English ally.

The Tory journals exhibit a grim satisfaction at the event, intimating that if Sir Wilfrid's natural bias of mind leads him to affiliate with the enemies of his country as heretofore evidenced by his episode with Azabi Pasha, and supplemented by his leading prohibited meetings in Ireland, he must not expect to be treated with more consideration than mutinous Egyptian soldiers or riotous Irish peasants. There is no doubt that the government forces in Ireland have become tired of half-way work, and the number of injured among their opponents in recent chance affairs, evictions and dispersed meetings sufficiently shows the vigor with which they propose to act in the future.

There is a growing feeling in England that the Irish question must be speedily settled in order that the government may turn its attention in some manner to quiet the riotous masses in London, both those who can get no work to do and the greater number who merely seek an occasion for plunder. Several foreign matters are being unduly neglected, but, as the Standard remarks, it would not be a sound principle of statesmanship to leave Irish affairs like a fortress in the rear merely masked or flanked; it must be either reduced or the siege abandoned.

A deliberate review of Mr. Gladstone's late speeches forces the admission that there is some point to the remarks of the Tory journals anent them that his Home Rule scheme has become vague and shifting, and that his adherents are becoming uneasy at the delay of the announced promulgation of the changes therein. His opponents do not hesitate to declare that he has worn himself out, temporarily at least, mentally as well as physically, and that the orders of his physicians to cease speaking for a while were very peremptory. No one who knows the ex-premier believes that he will long heed any advice, submission to which will tend to the belief that the time is nigh at hand when he must bid farewell to the political arena. His conscientious belief in his mission and his wonderful powers of endurance will doubtless sustain him through this campaign, at least.

Gladstone's Popularity.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Gladstone left Studley-Royal, the seat of the Marquis Ripon, this morning for Hawarden. All along the route he was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm by the crowds that had gathered to see him. He made few speeches, but excited great interest whenever he showed himself. At Staleybridge he made a short address, in which he advised the people to settle the affairs of Ireland and all other business outside of the immediate interests of England before other matters were touched.

Mark Twain in London.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mark Twain, the noted American humorist, is now residing at Buckenham hall, near Norwich, which he has leased for a year from Mr. Twyss Amberst, the well known member of parliament. He spends the most of his time in shooting or yachting on the Norfolk broads.

The Czar Will Meet the Kaiser.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Telegraph's Berlin correspondent says he has learned on indisputable authority that the czar will return from Copenhagen to St. Petersburg via Berlin, where he will have a private interview with Emperor William. A dispatch to the Times makes the same statement.

Denies the Statement.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Post denies the statement that the government intends to seize Mr. O'Brien's paper, United Ireland, for having announced in its columns that Sir Wilfrid Blunt's appeal would not be heard until the quarter sessions in January.

Churchill Denies It.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Lord Randolph Churchill denies the report that has been put in circulation, stating that he is to be appointed viceroy of Canada, in place of Lord Lansdowne.

Ivy City Races.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Rain ushered in the fourth day's meeting of the National Jockey club. The track was very muddy, and the attendance smaller than on any previous day of this meeting. The races set for to-morrow are postponed. The races will be continued the first five days of next week. First race, mile dash: Favor first, Barnum second, Young Duke third. Time 1:45 1-4. Mutuals paid $6.80. Second race, handicap sweepstakes, six furlongs: Stuyvesant first, Bess second, Sam Harper third. Time 1:16 1-4. Mutuals paid $10.90. Third race, Potomac stakes, one mile and one quarter, only two starters: Kingston first, Dunboyne second. Time 2:13. Mutuals paid $7.33.

No Need to Be Alarmed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The French man-of-war Duquesne reached here last evening from the Hawaiian islands. She carries 600 men, and is the largest French cruiser that ever entered San Francisco bay. She will remain here fourteen days awaiting orders.

To Be Completed This Year.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 29.—Arrangements were completed yesterday between the Provincial government and the contractor, Hall, by which the Red River railway is to be completed this year. The corporation of Winnipeg and citizens combined will supply $300,000.

THE GREAT BOAT RACE.

Teemer Beats Gaudaur For $2,000 and the Championship of America.

LAKE MARANACOOK, Me., Oct. 29.—The great race for the championship of America and $2,000 stakes, between Jake Gaudaur, of St. Louis, and John Teemer, of McKeesport, was rowed this morning on Lake Maranacook, in the presence of 10,000 spectators, who had come from all the surrounding cities and towns. Teemer won in twenty minutes, twenty-eight and two-fifths seconds. Gaudaur was half a mile behind at the finish and paddled home leisurely. Hundreds of sporting men from Boston and New York were in attendance. Referee Ormonds had decided yesterday afternoon that inasmuch as people had come from such a great distance, he would start the men at 9 o'clock this morning, in order to give everybody a chance to reach home. The accommodations for witnessing the race were very good for those who had no desire to follow the contestants, but the three small steamers, which were crowded to their full capacity, held scarcely five hundred persons. A more orderly gathering was never seen at a boat race. Teemer and Gaudaur were both astir early this morning for a walk along the banks of the river. James Keenan, the backer of the McKeesport lad, offered to increase the stake to $2,500 a side, but St. John, the backer of the St. Louis oarsman, refused to do it. Teemer and Gaudaur have met thirteen times before.

The race for the first mile was all that the spectators could wish, but the McKeesport lad soon showed his superiority, and drew away steadily from Gaudaur. Gaudaur tugged manfully at his oars, and with his great strength and skill fully brought into play spurred bravely, but to no purpose. Teemer came home like a race horse, leaving his rival away in the rear. Teemer was fresh as a daisy when he crossed the winning line, and the shouts of the thousands on shore welcomed his victory.

The judges were, at the start, Al Hamm for Teemer, and George Lee for Gaudaur; at the turning stake, Wallace Ross for Teemer, and Peter Conley for Gaudaur. John Kennedy, the well known oarsman, was starter.

Escaping From a Steamer.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 29.—The steamer City of St. Louis arrived here last evening having on board 500 white laborers, gathered in the northwest by the agent of the Louisiana Levee board, Capt. Brown. They were a tough lot, and as their passage to New Orleans had cost the state of Louisiana more than $5,000, the agent telegraphed here from Cairo asking for a detail of police to prevent their coming ashore when the boat landed, as he had already lost more than a hundred by desertion at points up the river. As soon as the boat landed a ruse was made for the shore, but the officers kept them back and they began jumping on the wheels of the steamers lying near and utilizing the skills as a means of escape. Altogether about fifty got away here during the three hours the boat was lying at the wharf, despite the extra precautions that had been taken. The captain of the boat said that he had a great deal of trouble with them on the trip down, and that they fired their pistols at every negro they saw along the banks. They were finally gotten away without any serious trouble, but it is doubtful if there will be 300 aboard when the boat reaches its destination.

Restoring Telegraph Rates.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—E. S. Stokes, of the Postal Telegraph company, admitted in an interview last evening that an arrangement had been agreed upon whereby both his company and the Western Union would restore rates in cases where there had been a rumorous cut. He said the advance by the Western Union would apply only to its Baltimore & Ohio system. The Western Union folks came to him and asked if he would enter into a reasonable arrangement of the kind, and he of course had no objection. The revision would probably go into force about November 1. He was convinced that the Western Union would not make a general advance of rates.

The Richest Lady in the World.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Society is feverishly awaiting the arrival of Senora Isadora Cosnino, of Santiago, Chili, who announces her intention of an early trip to New York, accompanied by her daughter, Senorita Isadora and Senorita Pacifica. Her fortune is something fabulous. She owns a fleet of ships, estates, coal mines, copper mines, herds of cattle and enormous vineyards. The Town of Lotta she owns outright, and its seven thousand inhabitants are her dependents. She has other valuable possessions, and cannot estimate her wealth. She is on the sunny side of fifty and is exceedingly fond of young people. Her agent here is looking about for the option on a suitable residence in one of the fashionable quarters. If the lady adheres to her resolve of passing a winter in New York, society will have an experience the like of which was never known in the history of the city.

Powderly Looking for Another Position.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Sun's Scranton special says that Mr. Powderly's friends understand that he expects upon retiring from the leadership of the Knights of Labor to become chief of the department of labor, which he is trying to induce congress to establish. He is said to be on such friendly terms with President Cleveland as to insure his appointment if the department is created.

Cincinnati Murdered in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 29.—Nicholas Butts, the steamboat mate who was knocked on the head yesterday by a negro roustabout, died this morning at the Marine hospital. He came here about four years ago from Cincinnati, having been previously employed by Montgomery & Singleton. He has a mother living on the river above Cincinnati.

A Farmer Strikes Gas.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Oct. 29.—Warder Hamilton, a wealthy farmer living near this city, drilled a gas well to heat his large residence, and yesterday the drillers struck "Trenton limestone" at the depth of 902, the result of which was a strong flow of gas, showing a greater capacity than any other well sunk at this place. Other farmers think well of the project and will follow his example.

Indian Trouble.

FORT CUSTER, Mont., Oct. 29.—Twenty Gros Ventres, enroute from Shoshone camp, were brought in yesterday to be held until the trouble is over. The weather is quite warm and the snow is gone from the plateau and bottom, but there are still large quantities in the mountains. No movement will be made against the outlaws for two or three days.
