The Largest in the World.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The first truss of the great Poughkeepsie bridge across the Hudson river was finished and swung clear yesterday. It is 525 feet long between the centers of the towers, 32 feet deep and 35 feet wide, being the largest and heaviest steel truss in the world. It rests on steel towers 10 1/2 feet high, which stand on masonry piers whose foundations are 125 feet below high water and which rise 30 feet above high water, and its total height from the foundations is 337 feet. It carries a floor system on top for a double track railway, and is capable of supporting a rolling load of 3,000 pounds to the running foot on each track.

Mormon Church Troubles.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 9.—The territorial supreme court last night appointed United States Marshal Dyer receiver in the suit against the church property in excess of the limit fixed by congress, and to wind up the affairs of the perpetual immigration fund. Bond required, $250,000 on the first suit and $250,000 on the second. Judge Zane dissented, his private opinion being that a lawyer should have been named, so as not to fritter away the money on lawyers' fees. Complications are also foreseen in securing juries, as the court has held on previous occasions that the marshal is not competent to summon jurors where he is a party to the suit.

A Colored Hostler Murdered.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—David Lewis, a colored hostler, employed by J. W. Metcalf, at 458 North Eighth street, was murdered on Saturday night by some unknown party. He slept in the carriage room adjoining the stable. Yesterday morning he was found dead in bed, the left side of his head crushed in with some heavy weapon. William Keller, who was doing odd jobs around the stables, has been arrested on suspicion of being the murderer.

EMPEROR MUCH WORSE.

A CRITICAL STATE OF AFFAIRS IN THE GERMAN EMPIRE.

The Crown Prince Growing Worse Again. While the Old Emperor is Also Fast Approaching the End—O'Brien Succeeded in Jail—Other Dispatches.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Although the emperor is reported as better, and although he has been able to show himself once to the public in his window, he is still very sick. His recent attack was another nephritic colic. This he has only recovered from with difficulty. He has suffered much more than usual. He continually complains and has become very weak. He also exhibits a certain apprehension never shown before. His strength has disappeared during the last eight days in a most frightful fashion. He asks continually for the crown prince, and has asked that he return at once to Berlin.

An officer of his staff has been sent to the Crown Prince at San Remo. The latter was disposed in spite of his state of health to consent to go to Berlin, but the Crown Prince has opposed her husband's going, believing that such a journey would prove fatal. The prince, however, has only thus far made one concession, and that is that Dr. McKensie shall be telegraphed for to come and give his opinion before starting whether the journey can be safely made or not. It is believed by those near the Crown Prince that he will go to his father in response to his orders no matter what may be the result. There is great uneasiness in Berlin. The emperor is now, everyone believes, near his death, and the sad state of the Crown Prince adds greatly to the uneasiness of the situation.

The question of the succession to the throne presents no difficulties, neither are there any for the succession to the imperial crown, which will pass for the first time to another. The states which form the empire have all been consulted in advance. All have now been prepared and have had prepared for the past eighteen months acts giving full allegiance to the new sovereign. Everything relating to the coronation is already settled. From the political standpoint nothing will be changed. Prince Bismarck will not, however, go through the form of resigning. If the new emperor is obliged to remain in Italy the chancellor will undoubtedly have his present extended powers increased. In case the emperor is not well enough to meet the czar when he passes through Germany Prince William will meet the czar at the German frontier and accompany him while crossing German territory.

The Crown Prince's Health. LONDON, Nov. 9.—Dr. Mackenzie telegraphs from San Remo as follows, regarding the condition of the German crown prince: "There has been a recurrence of the growth lower down in the throat. I am issuing an unfavorable bulletin."

Dr. Mackenzie states that a renewal of the discharge of pus from the crown prince's throat renders necessary a difficult and complicated cutting operation on the larynx.

O'Brien Succeeded. DUBUIX, Nov. 9.—Eight thousand persons assembled in front of Tallamore's jail last evening, accompanied by bands playing "God Save Ireland." O'Brien appeared at a window and waved his handkerchief enthusiastically.

The Freeman's Journal says O'Brien and Mandeville have been put on bread and water as punishment for refusing to wear the prison garb.

A Reported Battle. LONDON, Nov. 9.—It is reported that Raschulu has attacked and defeated all the allied tribes south of Dongah, and advanced to Assaorta. Two Russian officers took part in the battle on the side of the Abyssinians.

Entirely too Sensitive. PARIS, Nov. 9.—Karamoko, a Senegal prince, who visited this city some time ago, was recently defeated in a native campaign. Being ashamed to return to his father, he returned to the field and was killed.
