

WOMEN CANDIDATES.

WOOLCOV, Nov. 11.—Miss Ellen Clark, the Prohibition candidate for school commissioner, has been defeated by a Republican majority of more than 700. Miss Nellie C. Cook's district is still in doubt. Miss Cook was seen at her home in this village at the close of the polls by a friend. "Well, I don't care much if I am defeated," said she, cheerfully, "but I should so much love to be the first woman school commissioner in the Empire state. Whatever may be the result of the election, it will be remembered in Wayne county that I gave these old mossback Republican politicians the liveliest canvass they ever had."

Do you know I never enjoyed anything so much in my life as this political work. It's pretty tiresome bustling old farmers up at the polls, but then there's compensation in seeing those Republican bosses get left. Yes, my canvass has cost me some money, but I shall never rue it, whether defeated or elected, for I guess it has all gone towards having a good time in a proper way. If I had only done a little more work down there in Clyde and carried out my plans for that town my election would have been opened by this time."

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.
A Box Sent From Cleveland to Cincinnati by Express.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—This morning a little package was received at the American express office addressed "Terence Kerr, 14 Hathaway street." Through a mistake the box was delivered to C. D. D. Kerr, a stenographer, who has an office in the Johnston building, and who lives with his wife at No. 14 Hathaway street. Mr. Kerr opened the box. Carefully packed in a cigar box, upon a soft bed of cotton, were two paper rolls filled with Hercules powder.

The rolls were about eight inches long by one and one-half in diameter. In the box and attached to the powder was a fuse two yards long.

The fuse was fastened to the long, peculiar percussion caps, used to explode dynamite bombs. These caps were inserted in the bombs. The fuse showed no appearance of having been lighted, and just how the machine, if it was an infernal machine, was to have been exploded is a mystery.

The dynamite was wrapped in heavy greased paper, stamped "Giant Powder, No. 2, 40 per cent. nitro-glycerine." The powder looked like corn meal, and was packed tightly, and when picked with the finger it came off in crumbs. There was nothing in or about the box to indicate from or who were the senders.

Mr. Kerr, immediately upon discovering the dangerous character of the package, remarked to his wife that he did not want such dangerous stuff in his house, and carefully carried it back to the express office.

The agent of the express company immediately notified the police by telephone, and Detective Jackson carried the box and its contents to Central station. Chief Deitch at once put the box into the safe and looked it up.

Mr. Kerr does not know of any enemy who would attempt his life, and is completely dumfounded by the morning's development.

The package bore a "sticker" of the Cleveland office of the American Express company. This does not necessarily imply, however, that it came from that city. The box was marked "Bisque ornaments—handle carefully."

Negro Desperado Shot by a Policeman.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—Policeman Brady shot and mortally wounded George Grant, colored, on St. Louis avenue, near Liberty street, at 7 o'clock yesterday evening. Grant was running away with a bundle of stolen clothing and refused to halt at the officer's order. On April 3, 1882, Grant was seen with a bucket of butter by Policeman Pat Jones, who ordered him to halt. Grant turned and shot the officer dead. This happened on the same night that Jesse James was killed at St. Joseph, and in the intense excitement then prevalent a negro named Harrington, who had been arrested instead of Grant, was taken from the officers and lynched. Grant was afterward arrested and sent to the penitentiary for two years. When he got out he terrorized the town of Seaside, Mo., and defied the authorities for a while, and he was one of the most notorious negro desperados in the west. He fell last night within fifty feet of the spot where he killed Jones five years ago.

Child Murderer Sentenced.
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 11.—The youngest murderer in Georgia, was sentenced yesterday in the superior court to a life term in the penitentiary. His name is Charles Henry Locksley, and he is but eleven years of age, and is as black as polished ebony. About two months ago Milo Thomas, a well known young man of Augusta, was stabbed and killed instantly by Locksley. Thomas was standing in front of the Central railroad depot when the lad passed with a cigarette picture in his hand. Thomas took the card from the boy, when the latter indulged in considerable profanity. Thomas slapped him smartly for this, whereupon Locksley quickly drew a large pocket knife and stabbed him. The jury was out but two hours and returned a verdict of murder, with the recommendation to life imprisonment. The boy received the sentence indifferently.

Jealous of His Wife.
HARTFORD, Ky., Nov. 11.—Columbus Park and Samuel Parrish, two farmers, living three miles from this place, had a shooting affray Wednesday evening, in which Parrish was fatally wounded. Park has a wife, whose beauty had attracted Parrish's attention, and the intimacy which sprang up between them aroused Park's jealousy. He discovered them in conversation together, and preparing himself attacked Parrish with a revolver. The latter was prepared for him, and a dual ensued. Five shots were fired by each, but only Park's last took effect, Parrish being shot in the left breast.
