

PARLIAMENT.

The Schemes of the Conservatives Become Apparent

AS THE TIME FOR THE REASSEMBLING APPROACHES.

England and Scotland to Receive Their Attention While Ireland Takes a Back Seat—The Tories Fear Their Time Has Come—Nationalists Confident—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—As the time for the re-assembling of parliament approaches it becomes more and more apparent that the Conservatives are resolved to keep Irish matters out of the bounds of discussion as much as possible during the session, and devote themselves to such legislation for England and Scotland as will tend to strengthen the party.

The loss of several seats within the last year has frightened some of the more timid of the Tories into the belief that the handwriting is upon the wall, and even the stout-hearted ones see the necessity for prompt and vigorous measures to prolong the party's official life.

As a means of convincing the people that the Conservative party by its action in Ireland had averted disaster to the country in the shape of wholesale murder, arson, etc., the Parnell commission was thought to be a god-send, but the rulings of that body on the admission of a certain line of testimony and the growing weakness of the Times against the Parnellites have destroyed their reliance upon that method of making party capital and set the government's adherents to casting about in new fields.

On the other hand, the Nationalists appear to gain confidence daily and make no concealment of their determination to force an Irish measure of some kind upon the issue in order to precipitate debate. It is claimed by many of the leaders, and no doubt, believed by all, that every Irish speech in Parliament is worth two on the stump, and for this reason debate is what is most wished for.

The Liberals appear to be perfectly willing to acquiesce in the Nationalist program, but stand ready to point out to their more impetuous colleagues the danger of obstructive tactics at this time. If the government brings in English remedial legislation, the measure or measures ought, they believe, to receive the support of the Irish party as a means of spiking the enemy's guns.

Elections in Prussia.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The elections in Prussia for Wahlmannen were held Tuesday and were exceedingly quiet everywhere. Only 15 to 30 per cent of the electors voted. The Social Democrats completely abstained from voting. The Prussian party again secured nine districts in Berlin with considerably increased majorities. The returns so far indicate little change in the composition of the house.

William Arrives at Potsdam.

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The emperor has left Friedrichsruh for Berlin. He walked to the depot, escorting Princess Bismarck. He took cordial farewell of the party at the station and was given an ovation. He arrived at Potsdam Tuesday evening.

A Publishing House Fined.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The publishing house of Vizetelly & Company, of this city, has been fined £100 pounds for publishing the works of Zola.

Foreign Notes.

The fund for the defence of Parnell now aggregates $64,000.

John Redmond, member for Wexford, was released from Tullamore jail Tuesday.

The plenipotentiaries of all the powers have signed the Suez canal convention.

The French government has ordered the seizure of all cartoons of Boulanger, the Count of Paris and Victor Napoleon.

Emperor William and Prince Bismarck drove for three hours Tuesday in the Sackswald. The emperor dined at the Bismarck palace.

It is reported that the czar's train met with an accident Monday, which resulted in the killing of twenty-one persons. The minister of war and the commander of the body guard were injured.

The Dublin Express demands an outline of the government's proposed course regarding the land purchase scheme. Numerous incumbered estates, it claims, are wastefully managed, which the court officials might have placed under peasant proprietors to advantage.

Shot by His Wife.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—A private dispatch to the Times says: Andrew Fulton, ex-mayor of Pittsburgh, was shot and seriously wounded in the right shoulder by his wife at his ranch some fifteen miles from this city Tuesday morning. It appears that Fulton has been intimate with a woman, Emma Johnson. The intimacy began in Pittsburgh when Fulton was mayor. She has had two children by him, the youngest being three years old. About two weeks ago she sent for Fulton to be present at the christening of the child. Fulton arrived here and was met at the depot by Miss Johnson and her sister and started for the ranch. Mrs. Fulton arrived an hour later, followed him to the country and shot him.

Mr. Fulton Denies It.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—A private dispatch has been received from ex-Mayor Fulton. Fulton denies that he was shot or otherwise injured at his ranch near Denver, Col., Tuesday, as has been reported.

Slain by Soulless Hunters.

CHEYENNE, W. T., Nov. 1.—The fifth mysterious murder in as many months is reported from Carbon county. The body of John Groshart, a well known ranchman, has been found in an isolated spot, with a bullet hole in the brain. During the summer he had trouble with mercenary hunters, who slaughtered game for the hides and horns, and it is supposed that they waylaid and shot him. The remains were found Sunday. Groshart had been dead probably a week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Among the numerous arrests yesterday for false registration was that of Richard W. Dyer, who has served four terms in Sing Sing, and had been out of that prison only thirty-three days when he registered.

SPORTING.

Duffy and McMillan Fight—The Former Wins on a Foul.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The much-talked-of prize fight between Patrick Duffy, of Boston, and William McMillan, of this city, took place at 1 o'clock Tuesday night, and was won by Duffy in the seventeenth round.

The fight was attended by about a hundred or more sporting men who left Tuesday night to be present. The scene of the fight was on the Virginia shore about fifteen miles below the city. The purse which was to have been $500 was about $150 short, but Jack Kirwin for Duffy agreed to fight for the money in hand. Mr. Collahan, of Baltimore, was selected as referee.

The first round opened with clever sparring on both sides, until Duffy landed a good blow on McMillan's cheek. McMillan received it solidly, and countered with his right. Both then exchanged rapid, though ineffectual blows, and the round terminated without either gaining advantage.

In the second round Duffy drew first blood but McMillan made so fierce an onslaught on him that he drove him to the ropes. The betting, which started 25 to 15 on Duffy, went up to even money on McMillan.

In the third round McMillan twice clinched with Duffy and threw him down, but claims of fouls were not allowed.

In the fourth and fifth rounds McMillan tried to renew the rushing, but was met with several heavy face blows that staggered him and dazed him. From that time it was merely a question of McMillan's endurance. He was game, though, and stood some heavy slugging in a manner that excited the admiration of the audience.

In the thirteenth round a heavy blow on the neck sent McMillan staggering to the side of the ring, where he fell like a log. He rose and fought on for four rounds more, but his fighting consisted merely in clinching with Duffy and butting him with his head.

In the seventeenth round the fight was given Duffy on a foul of this kind. The party returned to the city at 4 o'clock. McMillan was said to be in a serious condition and was brought to the city. Duffy was not much the worse for the battle except about his hands, which he had hurt in hitting McMillan. Duffy's friends claimed that some water given him to drink had been poisoned.

Another Foul.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Nov. 1.—E. R. Mohler and Bob Pratt fought with two ounces gloves, London ring rules, Tuesday night. Mohler knocked Bob down repeatedly and lost on a foul in the ninth round, hitting Pratt in the neck when on his knees. They fight to a finish in about two weeks for $250 a side.

A Terre Haute Murder.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—Murder was enacted here Tuesday night in the midst of the big Republican parade. Polly Phillips, aged twenty, was the victim of an assassin's bullet. She was standing on a corner watching the parade when a man approached, pointed a revolver at her, and pulling the trigger said: "There, take that!" She fell to the sidewalk with a bullet through her head, and died a few minutes later. The murderer escaped in spite of the fact that the street was thronged with people, but was identified as a man named Galloway by several people who saw the shooting. Both parties live here, but the cause of the shooting is unknown.

Beecher's Statue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—J. Q. A. Ward, the noted sculptor of this city, is working hard on the clay model of the great statue of Henry Ward Beecher, which the citizens of Brooklyn will place in Prospect park. The statue will be of bronze, eight feet six inches high, bareheaded, with the preacher's familiar soft hat in hand, and wearing his cape overcoat unbuttoned. Mr. Ward's idea is to show the great divine as a publicist and citizen.

A Grand Army Sensation.

NEWTON, Ill., Nov. 1.—Great excitement prevailed in this place Tuesday night over the contemplated arrest of several prominent Republican leaders and head officers of Reed Post G. A. R., for slanderous statement sent out in a circular purporting to be an appeal to other posts throughout the state soliciting aid in securing a pardon for Sias Malcolin, sent up from here for murder two years ago. The circular it is said reflects severely on a number of prominent citizens.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Indicantions—Local rains; warmer; southerly winds, brisk to high on the lakes.

J. JAMES WOOD.

Died in a Dentist's Chair.

HOOPESTON, Ill., Nov. 1.—A peculiar death occurred here Sunday, the particulars of which were not made public until today. Dr. I. N. Bishop extracted a tooth for his wife, and while waiting for her to recover somewhat to extract another, her father thought to relieve the pain by exercising his mesmeric powers over her. He made a few movements over Mrs. Bishop's face, when she uttered a scream and died in the chair. Mrs. Bishop was not subject to heart trouble, and the case has occasioned a sensation here.

The Senate Held Responsible.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The Pilot, John Boyle O'Reilly's paper, publishes a letter from P. A. Collins, Eugene Kelly and other leading Irishmen, declaring the senate is responsible for the insertion of the clause in the new treaty with England providing for extradition of dynamiters, and that, as framed by the administration, it guarded against the surrender of political offenders.

Just Got a Ducking.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The steamer Saginaw, of the Clyde Steamship company, which sank in so mysterious a manner at Pier 15, East river, yesterday afternoon, was raised about midnight and lay alongside her pier this morning, little the worse for her immersion. Her cargo, consisting of provisions of all kinds, is, however, badly damaged.

Waylaid, Murdered and Robbed.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1.—On Sunday a gang of negroes in Mercer county waylaid four white travelers. They shot and killed two of them and robbed them of $600. The other two, named Henderson and Johnson, escaped to Eramwall, told the story, and with a posse of fifty men went in pursuit. The search has so far been unsuccessful, the robbers hiding in the mountains near the Kentucky line.

Volapuk's Inventor Not Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Charles N. Sprague, the volapuk scholar, has information that Professor Schleyer, the inventor of the universal language, is not dead, as was reported. He has been very ill, but is recovering.
