

THREATENING.

The General Order Issued By the Russian War Department.

THE ENORMOUS FRONTIER FORCE TO BE GREATLY INCREASED.

The War Offices of Both Germany and Austria Alarmed—A Very Awkward and Mortifying Situation in Denmark—Germany's Program in East Africa—Other Foreign News.

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—A general order issued by the Russian War Department is of such a threatening character as to cause alarm in the war offices of both Austria and Germany. Its effect, if carried out, will be to greatly increase the already enormous frontier force of Russia, which consists of eight army corps, with twenty divisions of infantry and nine divisions of cavalry, now located in the three governments of Villa, Warsaw and Kiev.

The order directs that the Twenty-ninth division, hitherto in Riga, in the north, is to be transferred to Kovno, further south, close to the Prussian frontier; that the Twenty-fifth division, also in Riga, is to be removed to Minsk, not far from the Austrian frontier; that the whole Second Caucasian army corps, consisting of divisions Nineteen, Twenty and Twenty-one, with three brigades of artillery and one division of Caucasian cavalry, are to be transferred from the Caucasus to Russia proper, the Nineteenth division going to Kiev and two others to Riga, to replace those removed further south.

It evidences an intention to concentrate the military force of the empire upon and within striking distance of the frontier, and destroying the military equilibrium which Austria and Germany have endeavored to maintain.

It is rumored on the bourse that two divisions in Bohemia have already received orders to march into Galicia.

Meanwhile Emperor William essays to make peace between the czar and Francis Joseph, whom he is trying to induce to visit Berlin, at the same time and meet each other. This the Austrian emperor refuses to do unless the czar first withdraws his troops from the frontier. William, it is said, has been trying to induce the latter to do this. The late order is the czar's apparent answer.

Sensation in Denmark.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The World's Copenhagen special says: The bitter conflict which has been raging for several years past between the king and his parliament has at length culminated in a very awkward and mortifying situation. The king is about to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his accession to the throne.

Wednesday, however, a great sensation was caused throughout the land by the formal declaration of the president of the Folketing that it would be impossible for the house to present the sovereign with a jubilee address or to take any part in the celebration. The speaker added that the reason for this action on the part of the lower house of the National assembly was due to the obstinate refusal of the king to dismiss the Estrup ministry. The cabinet, however, possesses a majority in the upper chamber or Landsting, and the latter, together with the small conservative minority of the Folketing, will present an independent address of congratulation to the sovereign.

Germany's East African Program.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—Maj. Liebert, a member of the general staff, in a lecture here, sketched the government's program of operations in east Africa. The first, he said, would seize the east African coast, reinstate the German officials, and pursue the rebels. The East African company will start work afresh, supported by an armed force of negroes not under the influence of the Arabs. Operations will be extended into the interior. When peace is restored a strong relief expedition will be sent to Emin Pasha.

To Be Guillotined.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Porado, the man who murdered Marie Aquatant for her jewels, has been sentenced to death, no extenuating circumstances having been found in his favor. The murderer received the sentence in a jaunty manner. Extenuating circumstances modified the sentence of others connected with the crime. Garcia received five years, Andres and Hanes four years each, and Dault two years. Mad. Couronneau, Eugene Forestier and Pablo were acquitted.

Yellow Fever in the Canaries.

MADRID, Nov. 16.—The epidemic of yellow fever which prevails at Santa Cruz de la Palma in the Canary islands, originated from a Cuban steamer which landed at that port.

MARRIED IN FUN,

But in New York It is Legal, and Will Cost the Husband $3 a Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Apollo Vivian Castellano, a Cuban cigarmaker, finds to his surprise that he is married to plump Susan Henry. Last summer they frequented a bath-house at the foot of Twenty-second street, and one day while they were in their bathing suits and he was sitting with his feet dangling in the water, he jokingly asked the proprietress of the bathing establishment to marry him to Susan, whereupon Mrs. Overpeck told them to join hands and then said: "Do you take this woman to be your lawful wedded wife?" "I do." And do you take this man to be your lawful wedded husband?" "I do." "Then you are man and wife." Recently Susan was advised that under the laws of this state the marriage was binding, and she had Apollo brought up before Judge Morgan, who held that the marriage was valid and ordered the Cuban to pay his wife $3 a week and not to forget it.

Printing Office Stolen.

LIBERTY, Ind., Nov. 16.—Ten days ago J. L. Scott was the owner of a handsome printing office, valued at $2,000, in the town of College Corner, this county. To-day he is scouring the state of Illinois with an attorney and United States marshal in search of the office and thief. About ten days ago Mr. Scott was approached by a stranger, who came in answer to Scott's advertisement to sell or trade his office, and offered to trade him 750 acres of land in Painter county, Kentucky. The attraction of such a trade was so great as to induce Mr. Scott to go to Kentucky and look at the land. On his return, a few days since, he reported to his friends at home that there was not a foot of soil in that county owned by such a man, and was dumfounded when informed that during his absence a man came on and packed and shipped the entire office to Flora, Illinois.

Canadian Logic.

QUEBEC, Nov. 16.—Electeur, the organ of the provincial government, and supposed to represent the French Canadian sentiment in Canada, has made a decided sensation by publishing an article in which it points out the advantages of annexation over the imperial federation. It argues that annexation would entail scarcely any change. The provinces would retain their present limits. They would enter the Union as states, whatever might be the extent of their respective territories, Prince Edward's island becoming the Delaware of Canada. The federal debt of $360,000,000 would be a mere drop in the bucket at Washington.

Died on the Scaffold.

WATERLOO, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Charles Johnson, the murderer of Turnkey Walters, was hanged at 10:22 a. m. Johnson's crime was committed January 9, 1888. He, together with Edward Caldwell and Marows Fish, was attempting to break jail. They had determined to make a rush for liberty through the door when the turnkey came in to lock them up for the night. While doing this, John Walters, the turnkey, about seventy years old, was struck by Johnson and Caldwell on the head with a stove poker. He died the next day from his injuries. Johnson's counsel made a strong effort to save his client, taking the case to the court of appeals, and beseeching the governor for mercy.

Those Stolen Coins.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The treasury department and the Adams Express company are endeavoring to settle the responsibility for the loss of the silver taken from the boxes sent from the New Orleans mint. The boxes were sealed, and the treasury department assumes that, as the seals on the rammed boxes are counterfeit, the express company is responsible for the loss. On the other hand the express company does not admit that it is a necessary presumption that the seals were all right when the packages were received by it for transmission. The amount of the loss will probably not exceed a couple of thousand dollars, but neither the company nor the department want to acknowledge any dereliction in their respective institutions.
