THE ELECTION BILL.

It Occupies the Entire Time of the Senate.

NO DEFINATE ACTION TAKEN.

The Senate Adjourns Until Friday Noon With the Understanding that a Further Adjournment Will Take Place Until Monday Noon—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—In the senate the morning hour was spent in the discussion of Mr. Morgan's resolution instructing the committee on privileges and elections to report as to the contents and meaning of the election bill. A resolution was agreed to directing the superintendent of censuses to report the population of the United States by congressional districts and counties.

Debate on the election bill was continued, Mr. George speaking at length in opposition to the bill. Mr. George proceeded to review and to defend the course of the people of Mississippi in the adoption of their new constitution and to discuss the constitution and statutes of other states on the subject of suffrage and of negroes. In conclusion, Mr. George said that he was prepared to defend the suffrage clause of the new Mississippi constitution upon legal grounds and upon precedents furnished by the states of Connecticut, Vermont, Wyoming and Idaho. Mr. George gave notice that he would finish his speech when the senate met again.

Mr. Hawley made an explanation of the points made by Mr. George in connection with the laws and political practices of Connecticut. Mr. Hawley characterized the Mississippi constitution as a patent, open, acknowledged, defiant device for disfranchising the colored citizens of Mississippi.

At 5:30 the senate adjourned till Friday at noon, with the understanding that then a further adjournment will take place till Monday at noon. The house was not in session.

New Year's Weather.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The signal office furnishes the following special bulletin to the press: The reports show that over Arkansas, eastern Missouri and Iowa the year closed with one of the warmest periods on record for this season of the year, the temperature over the region being from twenty-five to thirty degrees above the average. Following are some 8 a. m. temperatures with their relation to the normal, viz.: Springfield, Mo., 53.30 degrees above; Fort Smith, 62.29 above; St. Louis, 52.21 above; Keokuk, 52.27 above. The temperature is above the mean over nearly the entire country west of the Alleghenies. This warm wave will move eastward and over the gulf states, the Ohio valley and the greater portion of the lake region. New Year's Day promises to be one of the warmest ever known.

Quarantine Station Established.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Secretary Windom has designated St. Albans, Vt., as the quarantine station, where all cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine imported from Canada into the United States must be entered and inspected by the veterinary inspector appointed by the secretary of agriculture. The action of Secretary Windom is based on a request from Secretary Rusk who fears the introduction of contagious diseases among the cattle of the United States.

Treasury Department Doings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The treasury department yesterday under its circular of Oct. 9, redeemed $38,250 four-and-a-half per cent. bonds, making a total date of $8,043,650.

The following applications for authority to organize National banking associations have been filed with the comptroller of the currency: The Farmers' National bank, of Bloomsburg, Pa., by E. R. Etkler and his associates.

Idaho Without a Seal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—It is reported that an irregularity has been discovered in the Idaho senators, in that they bear the seal of the territory of Idaho and not the seal of the state. Senator Shoup said, in explanation, that the constitution of the state provided that the territorial seal should be used until a state seal should be adopted, and that the state had not adopted a seal.

A Mistake of a Hundred Thousand.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 1.—Assistant Houston, of the Maverick Savings bank, reports finding assets of $100,000 not included in the original schedule. The accounts, however, are so badly tangled that it will be months before the assets are wound up. Mr. Houston says that depositors will receive one hundred cents on the dollar and a large surplus will remain.

Killed in the Woods.

MILLSBURG, O., Jan. 1.—A son of Samuel Carnehan was killed near here Wednesday. His father chopped a tree down which lodged, and while trying to dislodge it the tree fell suddenly, a limb striking the boy, killing him instantly. He was 10 years old.

Illinois' Exhibit at the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—The exhibit of Illinois at the world's fair will be housed in an imposing structure. The state board of agriculture has agreed on the plans, and located the site. The building will be two stories in height, with floor space of 100,000 square feet, and observation towers 145 feet high.

Fire in a Market Stand.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Shortly after 3 o'clock Thursday morning a fire was discovered in Solomon Frankle's poultry stand on North avenue, in West Washington market. The flames spread to the adjoining stands, on Hewitt and Lawton avenues, and did a damage of $15,000 before they were checked. The cause of the fire is unknown.

DEATH OF GENERAL SPINNER.

The Ex-Treasurer of the United States Passes Peacefully Away.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 1.—Gen. L. E. Spinner, ex-treasurer of the United States, died at his home in this city at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Since Tuesday morning he gradually collapsed and when death came the change was hardly noticeable. There were at the bedside Gen. Spinner's daughter, M. S. James Schumacher, the only child now living, and her husband and son, and two great grandchildren, and Mr. Thomas C. Moore and his son. Gen. Spinner leaves several grandchildren in New York state, children of Mrs. D. A. Clark, of Mohawk, and Mrs. F. C. Harvey, of Buffalo, both deceased. The body will be taken to Mohawk, N. Y., for burial.

General Spinner

None will feel more sincere sorrow over the news of his death than the women employes of the treasury department, and in fact of the whole government. For it was Gen. Spinner who broke down the barrier which prevented their performing clerical work for the government. This occurred during the war when the regular clerks were disappearing to enlist in the army, and it looked as if there was not going to be men enough to go around. Then it was that the chivalric Gen. Spinner suggested to President Lincoln that an opportunity be given women to take the men's places where possible. It is astonishing when we look at it to think of the opposition this idea met with. But Spinner gained his point, and the entire of women into the government service may be looked upon as a "war measure" just as Ben. Butler's suggestion to make the "darkies contraband."

Gen. Spinner was born in New York state in 1812. His father was a clergyman and the cashier of the Mohawk Valley bank for twenty years. He gave his son a classical education. He learned several trades and then embarked as a merchant. He was appointed and held responsible positions in the New York custom house from 1845 to 1849. He was elected to the Thirty-fourth congress as an anti-slavery Democrat, and re-elected to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth congresses, though he was elected to the latter as a Republican. On March 10, 1861, President Lincoln appointed him treasurer of the United States, soon after which his wonderful autograph on the paper money became a welcome visitor in the households of the land. This signature, which we reproduce in fac-simile, will always remain one of the curiosities of chirography.

Gen. Spinner retired to private life July 1, 1875. When he did so all the wealth in the United States treasury till had to be counted. Then it was that a deficiency was discovered amounting to one cent. To account for this a memorable recounting took place, requiring days upon days, until the missing cent was found and the general retired from the treasury, leaving balanced books.

CASUALTIES OF THE BATTLE.

An Official Report of the Killed and Wounded Soldiers.

PINE RIDGE, S. Dak., Jan. 1.—The hospital headquarters here where all the killed and wounded at Wounded Knee, Monday were brought, furnish the following as the correct list of casualties.

The dead are:

Capt. George D. Wallace, Sergts. Cogey, Dyer and Nettles. Corporal Gove. Hospital Steward Bollock. Privates Frey, Johnson, Kelly, Cain, Logan, Raman, Book, Forest, McWell, Costello, Kellner, Murphy, McCune, Christensen, Danake, DeFreye and Adams—all of Seventh cavalry. Total, twenty-seven men killed.

Result of the Indian Battle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The Indian bureau Wednesday morning received a telegram from Station Agent Cooper, at the Pine Ridge agency, dated Dec. 30, stating that the number of Indians killed in the late battle aggregated about 150 and that 150 were wounded. There were about thirty-five soldiers killed and a number more or less seriously wounded. Father Crafts, Catholic priest, was killed. The Indians made another attack on the troops Tuesday morning, resulting in the death of two soldiers. Twelve Indians were killed and about the same number wounded.

Kicking Against a Law.

BUFFALO, Jan. 1.—Lake vessel owners are taking steps to secure the repeal of the law which requires them to furnish their steamers with line carrying projectiles. They hold that it is wholly uncalled for and the apparatus is useless as a life saver, and that the law was passed through the influence of a combination of manufacturers of such apparatus.

NOT YET HOPELESS.

Some Prospects of Settling the Dispute in Ireland

BY THE NEXT CONFERENCE.

Timothy D. Harrington May Be Present at the Next Meeting Between Parnell and O'Brien—O'Brien Will Surrender Himself to the Police and Serve Out His Sentence—Other Foreign News.

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—The Freeman's Journal announces that Mr. Timothy D. Harrington, member of parliament, will probably be present at the next meeting between Messrs. Parnell and O'Brien. The Journal is also of the opinion that the outlook for a settlement of the matter in dispute among the Irish leaders is hopeful, as the long interchange of views which took place at Boulogne-sur-Mer must have tended to evolve the basis of agreement.

Mr. Parnell went to Brighton from London on Monday evening, and returned to London Wednesday morning in time to catch the mail train for Folkestone, where he took the channel steamer for Boulogne. The report published to the effect that Mr. Parnell went to Paris, thereby inferring that he there met Mrs. O'Brien are untrue.

The Dublin Express states that Mr. William O'Brien, member of parliament, intends to surrender himself to the police early in January in order to serve out his sentence.

Robber Chief Living High.

DRESDEN, Jan. 1.—At the request of the Austrian government, the chief of a large and well organized gang of robbers named Simon, was captured at Leschnitz, Silesia, where he owned a handsome villa, and lived in great style, his neighbors believing him to be a wealthy speculator on the European bourses. When Simon's villa was searched evidence was secured which shows that he was undoubtedly the head of a robbery society having agents in London, Berlin, Altona and Vienna.

Peace Established in Uganda.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Advices from Uganda state that in a recent conflict on the frontier, Christian forces defeated Moslems, and that peace has been established throughout the country. The Protestants have opened their new church, the service being attended by great crowds. Many natives accepted the Christian faith and were baptized.

Ancient Tombs Discovered.

ROME, Jan. 1.—At a meeting of the pontifical academy of archeology, Wednesday, it was announced that a basilica in the church of St. Sylvester had been discovered, containing the tombs of six popes, including that of Sylvester I, who occupied the papal chair from 314 to 336 A. D.

A Duel with Pistols.

VIENNA, Jan. 1.—Count Deym, ambassador of Austria to England, and Count De Lutzen, first secretary of the embassy, fought a duel with pistols, near this city, Wednesday. Neither was wounded. The affair grew out of a quarrel in London over a question of precedence affecting the wives of the diplomats.

Still Barred Out.

ROME, Jan. 1.—The pope has received from Berlin a communication to the effect that the budesrath has decided to refuse permission for the Jesuits to return to Germany, but is in favor of permitting the Redemptorist fathers to return.

Lady De Ros Not Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—Lady De Ros, who danced at the famous ball at Brussels on the eve of the battle at Waterloo, and whose death was erroneously announced Wednesday, is still alive, but is steadily sinking.

Carriage Factory Burned.

POTSDAM, Jan. 1.—S. Zimmerman's great carriage factory at this place has been destroyed by fire.

An Important Conviction.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The society for the prevention of cruelty to children secured an important conviction Wednesday in the court of special sessions when Samuel Wallack, owner of the tenement house at No. 225 East Forty-first street, was tried and convicted of renting his property for immoral purposes. He was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment in New York city prison and to pay a fine of $300. As this is the first instance where the landlord has been convicted the case is an important one, as it strikes directly at the root of the evil.

A New Company Formed.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 1.—Edwin Bell & Sons, coopers, having factories here at New Castle, at Beaver Falls, at Hadley, Pa., and at Broughton, O., who recently called a meeting of their creditors have made an amicable settlement, and a new company organized, with a capital of $100,000, electing Edwin Bell president, L. E. Cochran vice president, Mason Evans secretary and treasurer, Edwin Bell, Jr., superintendent.

The Same Old Gun Story.

BARNESVILLE, O., Jan. 1.—While cleaning a gun Ned Thompson, a 13-year-old boy, was seriously hurt. The gun was accidentally discharged and he received the full load just below the knee, so that amputation was necessary. Didn't know it was loaded.

Prominent Citizen Gone.

WILMINGTON, O., Jan. 1.—Hon. Leo Welty, former member of the state board of agriculture, died yesterday after a short illness. Mr. Welty was a member of the National forestry congress. His funeral will take place Friday near Wilmington.

A HAWAIIAN QUESTION

Has Arisen as the Result of Kalakaua's Visit to This Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The visit to this country of King Kalakaua, of the Hawaiian islands, will terminate sooner than was expected. The king's health has been much improved since his arrival here on the United States flagship Charleston some time ago, and it is his intention to return to Honolulu on the Charleston during the first week in January. Advices received here from Honolulu indicate that the recent departure of Kalakaua from that city on the Charleston gave rise to considerable comment on the part of resident British officials in Honolulu, who regarded with disapproval the incident of Kalakaua's accepting the courtesy of an American man-of-war.

The origin of the recent publications in this country intimating that the object of Kalakaua's visit to America, was for the purpose of opening negotiations for the sale of the Hawaiian islands to the United States government, is attributed in this connection to a diplomatic stroke on the part of the British foreign office in Honolulu, and the published statement is made here that these rumors affecting the king and his intent ones emanated from that source, and that they were given currency simultaneously with the king's arrival in this country for the purpose of preventing him from receiving any official courtesies from the American government, such as were accorded the king's sister, who will succeed Kalakaua as reigning sovereign of Hawaii, on the occasion of her recent visit to England.

It is known that there has been considerable rivalry for some time past between American and British residents of Honolulu as to who should control the island government. It is also known that British residents there are partial to the king's sister. When the latter passed through this city something over a year ago, on her return to Honolulu from England, she declined the tender of an American man-of-war, and proceeded to Honolulu on the regular passenger steamer.

PREMATURE EXPLOSION.

Four Men Instantly Killed and Four Others Seriously Injured.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 1.—A special dispatch to The Herald from Leroy, N. Y., says: The most horrible accident that ever happened in this vicinity occurred near the village of Stafford, four miles west of here Wednesday afternoon. Andrew Hunt and three Hungarian laborers were instantly killed. Four others received injuries which it is believed will result fatally. Daniel Sullivan, the foreman, had his fingers blown from one hand, his face filled with powder, and his eyesight probably ruined, and he is otherwise terribly injured.

The accident happened on the Lehigh extension where the men were engaged in blasting the frozen earth. A blast had been fired and another one had been placed near the place where the other one had been. The men were placing the charge when suddenly there was a terrible explosion, which tore up the rocks and earth and hurled death dealing missiles through the air. It is thought that some of the fire from the first explosion remained in the ground and ignited the powder placed for the second one. It is thought that three of the injured men will die.

GROSS CARELESSNESS.

Supposed Dead Wires Very Much Alive. Horse Killed.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 1.—About 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the Electric Street Car company turned on their current and attempted to run cars for the first time since the sleet of last Thursday night. This was done in the face of the fact that dead wires, both telephone and telegraph, were dangling along all the principal streets.

The dynamos had been running but a few minutes when a valuable horse stepped on a dead wire on Main street opposite the Phoenix hotel and was instantly killed, his rider, Mr. McKnight, barely escaping with his life. A crowd of indignant citizens quickly gathered around the fallen horse, and so loud were the murmurings of disapproval at the action of the street car company that the manager, who was on horseback, rode post-haste to the power house and ordered the engines stopped. The company will now do what they should have done at first—clear all the lines of dead wires before they turn on the current again.

WAS IT A MIRACLE?

An Aged Cripple Walks at the Command of an Evangelist.

ANDERSON, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Maria B. Woodworth, the hypnotizer, is conducting one of her characteristic revivals at the Church of God, in this city, which she founded three years ago. Monday evening Mrs. Hiram Baxter, an aged lady of this city, hobbled to the church on crutches, having been unable to walk without them for two years, owing to rheumatism and to the effects of a fall.

She immediately knelt at the altar and began a most fervent prayer in her own behalf, in which Mrs. Woodworth joined her. At the end of a half hour's prayer Mrs. Woodworth, in a loud tone of voice, said: "In the name of Jesus of Nazareth, arise and walk!" Whereupon the old cripple sprang to her feet and leaped over the railing at the altar, and shouted and sang from one end of the church to the other, and walked to her home, a half mile away, leaving her crutches at the church. Crowds of people gather at the church at every meeting.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa. Jan. 1.—The Frick Coke company gave notice, Wednesday, they will shut down 1,100 more coke ovens indefinitely, next week, which will throw about 1,200 men out of employment. No cause is given for the shut down. There is now 4,000 idle coke ovens in the region.
