HON. CLAUDE M. THOMAS United States Consul to Marseilles, France, and Miss Maggie Brent, daughter of Judge J. H. Brent, were married at the Paris Second Presbyterian Church, Wednesday night. The church was decorated with ferns, palms and green corn in the stock. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will sail for Marseilles the first of September.

RECENTLY near Evansville, Wis., a cyclone had blown a tobacco barn from its foundation. The barn was insured. The agent adjusted the claim at $100, and was then suddenly called away. A few days later he returned to settle up. But the owner had no claim to make as another cyclone from the opposite direction had pushed the barn back to its original position so accurately that no further repairs were needed and the owner admitted it could not have been done better by a gang of carpenters.

THE Cincinnati Tribune says: "The Kentucky and Cincinnati Natural Gas Fuel Company, a corporation of Kentucky that suspended business some time ago, came into the United States Court a few days ago by their receiver, J. Douglass Barrett, and entered suits to recover the amounts subscribed by the stockholders of the concern. It appears from the bill of complaint filed by the receiver, that the enterprise was largely a "wind" concern, as not a cent of the capital stock subscribed by the stockholders at the creation of the venture was ever really paid into the treasury of the company. The stockholders each subscribed liberally and took the certificates for their shares of stock, but in reality the concern was defunct from the start. The receiver in his petition seeks to recover the following amounts from the stockholders to liquidate a claim for services in favor of the Tug River Coal and Salt Company, upon which judgment has been secured, and other obligations of the firm. Lee R. Keck, $224,500, for 2,245 shares; Levi A. Ault, $345,700, for 3,457 shares; Frank A. Wiborg, $345,700, for 3,457 shares; George Bowen, $178,000, for 1,780 shares; Lorenzo D. Ault, $140,700 for 1,407 shares, all of which amount in the aggregate to

It is estimated that 20,000 bushels of wheat was delivered in this city yesterday.

ROBBY, a six-year-old son of John Royter, a planter near Corydon, Ky., was strangled to death Wednesday by a peanut lodging in his windpipe.

BESSIE DUKE, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sammons, of Front street, who has been very sick for several days was no better this morning.

LAWRENCE CREEK was visited by a heavy rainfall yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock which will greatly refresh all kinds of crops in that vicinity.

J. H. CAPLINGER, an ex-Confederate soldier, died suddenly at Flemingsburg. He was seventy-two years of age, and has lived there about twenty years.

THE truss of the new bridge over Limestone Creek has been erected and it will only be a few days before the bridge will be ready for the traveling public.

NEAL MOLSTER, aged sixteen was drowned at Portsmouth a few days ago while in bathing. His father saw the boy, but was unable to reach him.

A JEWELRY peddler left two valises at the South Manchester depot last Monday night, and they were cut open and rifled of several watches and jewelry amounting to about $180.

REV. W. O. COCHRANE will occupy his pulpit on Sunday morning, preaching at 10:30. Sunday school at 9. All teachers and pupils are requested to be present, so that the work of the Sunday school may be resumed at once.

THE Committee appointed to secure homes for preachers and delegates, during conference, which meets here September 13, are requested to meet in the M. E. Church, South, Sunday school room at 7 o'clock this evening.

THURSDAY, August 17th, is Masonic night at Pain's Siege of Paris in Covington, Ky. Those who take advantage of the very cheap C. and O. excursion on the 15th inst. can remain over until after this performance.

EDWARD McCANN, who attempted to assault Mrs. Ivers, at South Manchester, last Saturday, "exclusive mention" of which was made in the BULLETIN the same day, is still at large. The Lewis County authorities seem to be neglecting their duty.

WHAT can be more pleasant after these warm days than a delightful evening ride on the steamer Laurance? She leaves the wharf on Tuesdays and Fridays at 7 p. m., standard time, making the run up and down in front of city—a ride of over seven miles for the sum of 10 cents. Go down this evening and try one.

NIMROD SMITH, the Chief of the Cherokee tribe of Indians in North Carolina, is dead. He was an educated man and had a large acquaintance outside of the State, and numbered among his personal friends some of the prominent men of the country. He was buried with Masonic honors, having been a member of that order.

THE old hand that adorned the cupola of the First Presbyterian Church for years, was removed yesterday and will be replaced by a final eight feet in length. The hand was made of wood in 1850 by Mr. Paul Hoeflich, and was covered with copper by Mr. Jacob Outten. It is forty inches in length and fourteen inches wide in the palm. The hand can be seen at McClanahan & Shea's.

ELIJAH DALTON and his wife of Borden, Ind., owning to domestic trouble, separated a few months ago. Mrs. Dalton went to her parents, where she remained until last Saturday, when she returned to Borden. She was denied admittance to her husband's house and was ordered away, but refused to go. She finally was mistress of the situation and remained in the house until Monday, at which time six stalwart men called and took the woman to a barn and with hickory switches gave her a terrible whipping on her bare back. She is now confined to Bank Officials Arrested.

The following special from Orlando, Fla., appeared in yesterday's Cincinnati Enquirer: "The city is thoroughly excited over the new turn the affairs of the suspended First National Bank have taken. Late last night the President of the bank, Nat Poyntz, Cashier James L. Giles and Director J. B. Parramore were arrested on a charge of fraud. President Poyntz, in the custody of a United States Marshall, was taken to Jacksonville.

"Warrants are out for J. H. Lee, of Oviedo, and W. R. O'Neil, of this city, who are directors of the bank, and for O. T. Poyntz, who is assistant cashier. Poyntz is sick in bed. O'Neil is in Ohio. All the parties are prominent citizens, standing well in the community. Most people here hope that everything will eventually turn out all right, although rumors are rife that the grounds for the charges are serious. He was arrested yesterday on a charge sworn out by Bank Examiner McDonald, under orders from Comptroller Eckels, charging him with making a false report to the Comptroller of the Treasury.

"This morning, upon his arrival there, he was taken before United States Commissioner C. S. Adams, who held a preliminary examination. The witnesses against Mr. Poyntz were C. S. Johnson, E. K. Smith, C. Warfield and James K. Duke, all employees of the bank. After hearing the testimony of the witnesses Commissioner Adams held Mr. Poyntz under $15,000 bond to appear at the next term of the United States Court."

Mr. Poyntz has many warm friends here, his old home, who are loath to believe that he is guilty of any wrong and that when the case comes into court he will be able to clear himself of the charge. Such cases are frequently very much exaggerated.

Notice.

Owing to the condition of things in general we find it very difficult to collect what is due us, hence also very difficult to pay what we owe. To facilitate collections we have decided to offer 5 per cent. discount on all retail bills paid between this day and the 21st of this month.

Respectfully,
