

PENSION APPEALS.

Work of the Board During the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1894.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The work of the board of pension appeals during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, and from that date to Nov. 1, 1894, is fully reviewed in the report made by the assistant secretary of the interior, John M. Reynolds, to Secretary Smith.

"Upon taking charge of the office of assistant secretary, in April, 1893, I found 4,965 appeals pending on the docket, with the work of the board of appeals more than two years behind. In eighteen and one-half months, with 5,847 additional appeals entered during that period, the current appeals are being decided, and tardy justice no longer follows an appeal to this department by any deserving soldier, widow or orphan.

The small balance of arrears is said to consist almost entirely of claims undergoing further investigation in the pension bureau and of others with their final decision await the determination of legal questions that will be decisive of all. Many decisions, Mr. Reynolds says, have been rendered by him by which a more liberal construction, and one more in accord with the spirit of justice and liberality, has been placed upon sundry laws.

He recommends the following: "First—That Section 4718 of the revised statutes be amended so as to extend the provisions, relative to the payment of accrued pensions for reimbursement, to the cases of widows and dependent relatives of the soldier.

"Second—To apply the provisions of law relative to widow pensioners, who neglect to provide for the minor children of the soldier, to the soldier himself who unlawfully abandons his family and neglects to provide for them.

"Third—To amend Section 3, act June 27, 1890, so as to clearly define title to pension to the minor children of the soldier where he does not leave a widow surviving him.

"Fourth—The enactment of provisions of law which will make proof of marriage, in the prosecution of pension claims, of universal application throughout the United States."

WORK OF BRIGANDS.

A Tobacco Store Attacked and a Riot Follows.

ROME, Nov. 24.—A band of 15 brigands attacked a tobacco store at Gaibana, near Ferrara, last evening, while several other outlaws guarded the streets in the vicinity, threatening anybody approaching. The brigands tried to force an entrance into the store, but its owner and his servants fired guns at them.

The fire was returned by the brigands, and the town was soon in a state of the greatest excitement. The tocsin was rung from the church steeple and assistance, in the shape of a number of gendarmes, soon arrived and drove the brigands out of town. Two of the inhabitants and one brigand were killed during the affray, and an officer of the gendarmes was wounded.

Firemen Injured.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Members of fire engine companies Nos. 18 and 28 narrowly escaped death last night while fighting a fire in the lumber yards of the John O'Brien Lumber company at Throop and Lumber streets. A pile of lumber 40 feet high, against which they were directing their streams of water, suddenly fell upon them, and they were buried beneath the heavy planks. The injured firemen are: Frank Campion, John Harahan, John Cavanaugh, Julius Bower, Herman Haas, John Conkers, Captain John McDonough, Fire Marshal Campion and John Sullivan. None of the men will die. The pecuniary damage was slight.

De Giers, the minister of foreign affairs, and by Count Vorontsoff-Dachkoff, the minister of the imperial court. The contract makes certain provisions in favor of the princess during the life of the czar and in the event of his death.

MONTJOY.

Comments of Superintendent Blatterman on the Public School at the Point Named.

MONTJOY SCHOOL HOUSE, DISTRICT NO. 20.

I always make a point of visiting this school early because the last mile of approach to the school house is over a dirt road, which after the fall rains set in is almost impassable. The trustees of this school district are: Henry Adams, John W. Holliday and A. D. Rains. We have always had good trustees here and the school property is well taken care of. They have furnished proper school furniture, maps, charts, every thing required for a good school. As I approach I find a joyous band of children enjoying a short recess. Forty is the number in attendance—a happy throng; it does one good to see them. Not one of them ever entered "Vanity Fair." Miss Callie Rigdon, the teacher, is busy as a bee, tidying the house for our reception. When the bell taps, the children scamper for the house and enter the school room as joyously as they left it for a few minutes recreation. Miss Rigdon has her school under excellent government and her classes gave evidence of careful instruction and showed good progress. She gave us an exhibition in the use of reading charts and the result was very satisfactory. The school had been in session but a few weeks, but it was evident that a successful session was before the school under Miss Rigdon's guidance.

G. W. BLATTERMAN, Superintendent.

A Big Eagle.

A monster American eagle, fully large enough to carry off a child, was killed on D. Maher's farm, near Murphysville, by Will Haney and Mr. Tucker. One bullet entered its head and the other broke one of its wings. Mr. Maher rejoices over its death and says the reason his roosters haven't crowed since the election is now explained. The eagle was presented to W. A. Forman, who has been a life-long Democrat. His sons, Snoden and Lewis, have taken great pleasure in showing the dead eagle to disappointed roosters. Pete Prather's rooster crows now all the time; so does Tim Morgan's, John Worthington's and John McGinley's.

The eagle measures seven feet three inches, and after the Democratic club out that way are through with the American king of birds, it will be brought to Mr. Hixson at the Public Library, where it will be mounted and kept on exhibition.

Mrs. James H. Rains and daughter, Miss Sallie, and Mr. J. C. Rains and wife ate some sauer kraut at dinner yesterday and all were taken very sick during the afternoon and last night, with symptoms of poisoning. Physicians were hastily summoned and antidotes were administered, and the parties were all much better this morning and out of danger. The supposition is that the trouble was caused by Paris green placed on the cabbage while growing, to kill worms.

Our holiday offer: 12 cabinets and life size portrait, only $5. BROSE, the fotografer.

Faust To-night.

Several decades have passed since Goethe's "Faust" was pronounced the best tragedy of the modern stage. During that interval nothing has been produced to render this criticism less just. Its story is of such vivid interest that its recital will bear numberless repetitions, and it is a significant and happy fact that this popular play conveys but the most impressive lessons of purity, worth and virtue. The principal character of the tragedy is necessarily "Mephisto," as portrayed by John Griffith. Scenically "Faust," as presented by Manager Church's company, is a most magnificent production and should win the approbation of all play-goers at our theatre to-night. A return engagement.
