

DON'T LOOK TOO FAR AWAY.

A Little Shoestring Holder or a Mulchage Bottle Often Makes a Man a Millionaire.

(Detroit Electrical Student.)

It is a common fault among men of inventive minds that they look too far away for their objective. Many a clever genius has frittered his life away in pursuit of that ignis fatuus, a perpetual motion. Thousands of others have wasted fortunes and years of the hardest kind of toil upon a flying machine that would never fly, and other far away projects. It is true that Hiram Maxim has made a little progress in the way of aerial navigation, but in general the science of ballooning is just where the Montgolfiers left it 100 years ago.

Although millions of dollars have been wasted in such enterprises other men of more modest aims have made fortunes by inventing simple things. A fortune of large proportions is said to have been made by the fellow who invented the little brass hooks that are used in place of eyelets on the upper part of laced shoes. Several convenient buttons for pantaloons and other wearing apparel have been of great profit to their inventors.

People are all the time looking for something that will lighten labor and save time. They will pay fabulous prices for a trifle that will afford them amusement for an hour. One of those foolish little "pigs-in-clover" concerns could be made for five cents or even less, but the inventor realized $200,000 from it, and a host of imitators made smaller sums. The red and yellow monkey climbing on a string was a gold mine to the man who planned the toy.

A little imitation rose to wear in the button-hole was invented and a tiny spray nozzle was concealed in the heart of it. This attached to a rubber tube and a bulb filled with perfume that may spray the sweet odor upon curious examiners brings a royalty of $12,000 a year to a modest inventor.

The shading pen can be made for five cents, but the royalty is worth $40,000 a year. Half a dozen patent mulchage bottles are keeping their discoverers in luxury. The patent inkstands in the market that are of general use brought their inventors all the way from $10,000 to $500,000.

The glass lemon squeezer, familiar to everybody, is one of the simplest of them all. It has the merits of working well, of being easy to keep clean and never getting out of order. The purchaser paid $50,000 for it.

A novelty in an automatic inkstand is another example. This keeps an equal supply of ink always ready for the pen. It is said that $200,000 has been realized by this.

An automatic funnel was sold for $57,000; a knitting machine has earned millions.

Among the inventions which it is promised would realize a fortune are a key-board typewriter which could be sold for $25; a device to deaden the noise made by the typewriter; a way of making kerosene odorless; a cheap envelope which cannot be opened without detection; a time stamp for street letter boxes, showing time of deposit of letters.

There is, of course, great field for inventions useful in the household. A shoe polishing machine would confer much happiness and improve the general appearance of the community.

The great bar to the happiness of the average pipe smoker is the difficulty of cleaning the instrument. As yet it cannot be yet done without much unpleasant labor. A pipe that will not foul will make a fortune.

At this moment there is a great opportunity for all improvements applicable to bicycles. There is not only a strong demand for them among the riders, but the business of the bicycle makers depends largely on the addition of attractive improvements to their machines. It is suggested that there would be a demand for a bicycle which could be operated by arms and hands alone.

ELECTRIC RAILROADS.

New England Proposes to Run a Long One Into Canada.

New Englanders propose to get out of electricity all the good there is in it as a motive power, says an exchange. There are numerous waterfalls among their hills and mountains, the force of which they propose to utilize in generating power to run a railway from Haverhill, Mass., through to Quebec, a distance of nearly 300 miles. If built, this road will be the most picturesque in the world. The proposed road will traverse the whole of the White Mountain region of New Hampshire, and after leaving it will strike into the wild and picturesque ruggedness of the province of Quebec. Of the entire length of the road, 180 miles will be on the United States side of the international boundary line, the remaining 100 miles being under the jurisdiction of the Canadians.

Little freight could be expected to pass over such a road, and the bulk of the passenger traffic would be confined to the summer months. Indeed it is doubtful if such a road could be operated at all during the winter season. It is said, though, that the road could be built and operated so inexpensively that a good summer travel would be sufficient to pay satisfactory returns on the outlay.

STUDENTS ARRESTED.

They Are Charged With Attempting to Wreck a Passenger Train.

TUSCOLA, Ills., June 27.—George L. Marten and Elmer E. Young, students of the Illinois state university, are confined in the Douglas county jail awaiting a preliminary examination on a charge of attempted train wrecking.

Last Monday spikes were placed along the rails of the Illinois Central track with evident intention of derailing the northbound passenger train which passes here at 1:40. The two young men were seen walking away from the track just after the obstruction was discovered and they were arrested. They deny the charge against them. Both stand high at the university and have excellent reputations.

EAST LIMESTONE.

Corn is looking well after many serious mishaps. Apples still continue dropping in considerable quantities.

Mr. C. C. Dogman, of Springdale, was here on business last week.

Mr. George Calvert and wife, of Bernard, were visiting friends here Monday.

Miss Anna Frazar, of the city, was the pleasant guest of Mrs. John Fisher, Sunday.

The fields are glistening with the golden grain which is now being rapidly harvested.

Miss Nan Hise entertained a few friends Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Tully, who is visiting in the neighborhood.

Superintendent Williams called on a large force of hands Monday, and gave Kennedy's creek county road a much needed improvement.

Mrs. Amelia Clarkson Argo, of Kansas, City, arrived here Tuesday evening on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Henry Adams, and other relatives and numerous friends.

The intense drought was being considerably felt in this neighborhood. Spring setting of fruit trees was dying, and crops and vegetation showed the effects of hot scorching sun.

Miss Flora Tully returned home Sunday, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. R. C. Williams, who will spend several days visiting relatives and friends at Springdale and Cottageville.

The moonlight fete on the Taylor Mill pike Friday night, superintended by Messrs. Matt Russell and Louie Friend was quite an enjoyable entertainment. Good order, dancing, excellent music by the local band and plenty of refreshments characterized the features of the evening.

We had a good rain Thursday which was gladly welcomed by all, and was quite beneficial to all growing crops, but not enough to insure a good tobacco season, although many farmers took advantage of it, thinking it was "now or never" and set their plants which were ruining in the beds. With immediate copious rains no doubt they will survive, but if not they will fare as did the previous setting, and the tobacco crop will go where the "wood fine twine"eth."

FRANKFORT Capital: "The loyalty or idiocy, whichever it is, of some women, was emphatically illustrated again Friday. Henry Steath left his wife and three little children in Cincinnati two years ago, went to Covington, got drunk and married again. He was sent to the Frankfort penitentiary for four years for bigamy. Friday his lawful and abandoned wife, with a two-year old baby in her arms, was before the Governor pleading for her husband's pardon. The Executive told her that there was no crime in the calendar with which he had less patience than that of bigamy; that he felt he would be doing her an injustice were he to pardon the man, and that he would not think of doing such a thing. Strange as it may seem, there is hardly a bigamist in the penitentiary whose first wife has not been here to plead for his pardon."

Telephoning by Barbed Wire Fences.

The farmers around Webster City, Ia., are using their barbed wire fences as a means of telephone communication. A line twenty miles long was put in operation in one day by two men, who used only about ten rods of insulated wire under the road crossings. Their success in so cheaply and quickly placing farmers in speaking distance of each other and the outside world has caused a company to be incorporated that will push this mode of telephoning not only in Iowa, but in other States where the wire is the principal fencing material.
