

THE COCONINO SUN

J. H. Kuhns, general storekeeper of the Santa Fe Pacific company is here today.

W. J. Gregg has purchased the Hoffman property and four lots adjoining the property on the west.

W. W. Dunbar of Kingman, was in town Tuesday. He is now located in Mohave county and enjoys a large legal practice in that county.

Walter G. Scott, editor of the St. Johns Herald has laid aside the quill and is here with the volunteers, being Second Lieutenant of the northern Arizona company.

The members of Mountain Lodge No. 15 K. of P., are urgently requested to convene at their Castle Hall July 13th, at 8 p. m., to dispose of very important matters. C. A. BUSH, K. of R. & S.

George F. Schaal, who four years ago was with the jewelry firm of Cook & Lee at this place, is in town. Mr. Schaal is now located at the Needles, Cal., where he has a jewelry store of his own.

Mayor Julius Aubineau and City attorney E. S. Clark left this morning for Los Angeles. They will close the lease of the spring with the railroad officials before their return which will be Wednesday next.

Rev. A. M. Lumkin will preach in the Methodist church Sunday night. The pastor will preach in the morning. All are cordially invited to attend these services, your attendance at the evening service being specially desired. C. P. Wilson, Pastor.

The course of lectures on "Foreign Lands," given this week by Rev. A. M. Lumkin, have been of a highly instructive order. Rev. Lumkin is possessed of a very pleasing personality, has a bright flow of humor and is master of his subjects. Eight characters in costume will be introduced tonight, the subject being "Egypt and the Continent."

That those people in Winslow know how to entertain was full demonstrated on the Fourth. Everything for the pleasure and comfort of visitors was looked after in a systematic manner. The music was excellent, the parade imposing, the speakers at their best, the sports highly entertaining, and altogether the occasion was a decided success.
