CITY DIRECTORY NOW COMPLETED

The new Flagstaff City Directory was completed last Saturday and is now on sale at the office of The Sun, where it was published, printed and bound.

Nearly one-half of the total issue has already been distributed, and those who have seen it are greatly pleased both with its appearance and the matter it contains.

There are 84 pages and cover. The book is so strongly bound as to make it more than usually durable. The matter it contains has been most painstakingly compiled, checked over many times to eliminate mistakes just as far as possible, until, we firmly believe, it is nearer perfect than any other book of its kind ever printed.

It contains much more than other directories do—that is, covers a much wider range of information. In addition to the alphabetical list of all residents in Flagstaff and Milton of sixteen years of age or over, it has the following:

Lists of city, county and state officers.

Lists of schools, churches, secret and benevolent societies, clubs and miscellaneous organizations.

Official roster of the Normal school. Personnel of the Forest service. Directory of our streets.

Several pages of facts about Flagstaff and Coconino county, their resources and advantages, and descriptions of the many scenic wonders in the county.

Classified business directory of the city, giving the names of those in the different professions and trades and handling the various classes of merchandise.

Honor rolls of those from Flagstaff who served their country during the late war, and complete roster of those who enlisted from Coconino county.

We hope there will be enough of these directories to go around among all the Flagstaff people who want them. But owing to the fact that the book is a splendid advertisement for the city, especially in what it has to say of the surrounding beauties and wonders of nature, some are buying it to send away to friends. This was a probability we entirely overlooked in estimating the number of books we ought to print. Therefore, if you want one of the directories, you'd better get it at once, otherwise there likely will be none left. The price is $1, if called for, or $1.25 delivered.

SOLD PALE MILK IN FRED GARING'S BOTTLES
Fred Garing, chairman of the county board of supervisors, was the maddest man in Coconino county for a few minutes Wednesday morning. We all know Fred runs a big dairy that delivers milk to Flagstaff housewives. And it is good milk, rich and creamy.

Imagine, then, Fred's consternation when he was hailed by one of the Chinese restaurant proprietors and accused of being a cheat, told that he watered and skimmed his milk before it was delivered, and loaded down under a weight of indignant Chinese sputtering that sounded like fight words, though Fred couldn't swear that the Chink wasn't reciting the Decalogue backward.

Anyhow, Fred was riled. He turned detective right there. In a few minutes he found out that Alejandro Ajo—the same old Ajo who has been in court frequently before for other things—had been selling milk from his own cows in Fred's bottles. Deputy Sheriff Raudebaugh found three full bottles of the milk and several of Fred's empty bottles at the Ajo home, and Harben & Gold, of the county attorney's office, drew up charges against Ajo.

DONEY PARK DUELLIST SUED FOR DIVORCE
Mrs. Sarah A. Keith has filed suit through Harben & Gold for a divorce from her husband, Edward G. Keith, the Doney Park rancher, who a few months ago fought the celebrated revolver and pistol duel with "General" Grant, his neighbor, in which exchange of courtesies, it will be remembered, nothing suffered any injury except the duellists' reputations as marksmen.

Mrs. Keith in her complaint alleges outrageous and cruel treatment, among other things that her husband "struck, bit, kicked and cursed" her, used "vile and opprobrious language" to and in her presence, and "has drawn guns upon and threatened" her life. She asks for the support of their three children, attorneys' fees and a division of the property.

HERMAN FAMILY WILL LIVE ON COAST
Mrs. J. Herman plans to leave the latter part of next week for San Francisco, and intends making her home either there or at Berkeley. Miss Rita Herman has been a student at Berkeley college for some time and her sister, Miss Sarah Herman, left here for Berkeley on Monday, also to enter college. Mrs. Herman will take her other children with her.

WM. H. TAYLOR DEAD
Wm. H. Taylor died on Monday night at the county hospital of dropsy. He came there a short time ago from Grand Canyon. He was between 60 and 65 years old. There are no relatives in this part of the country. It is understood that a sister of his lives in Minnesota. He was buried on Tuesday from the Flagstaff undertaking parlors.

DO YOU WANT THE SUN DELIVERED?

Now that free city mail delivery has begun, it is absolutely necessary that we know from each one of our Flagstaff subscribers whether they are having their mail delivered or are getting it from the postoffice themselves now as in the past. Unless each of you let us know, promptly, there may be delay in your getting your Sun.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE AT DEPOT EARLY IN THE SPRING

That very extensive additions to alterations in the Santa Fe depot and freight house will be made as soon in the spring as possible is the belief of T. A. Stahl, local agent for the Santa Fe.

Mr. Stahl said yesterday that Chief Engineer Ball, of Los Angeles, asked for plans last fall for these improvements, and that these have been drawn, approved by Mr. Stahl and the division officials. They are not at the general offices, and Mr. Stahl believes, have been finally approved.

The plans call for adding about 45 feet to the west end of the present depot, a rearrangement of the offices, giving the various departments separate glassed-in offices, and providing a waiting room, with toilet facilities at either end of the depot, each waiting room to be 21x27 feet in size.

Mr. Stahl says these improvements will not only add greatly to the conveniences of the depot, both for the public and for those employed there, but will add much to its appearance. He tried hard to have a new two-story depot built across from the Commercial hotel and to get the switching and car storage yard moved far enough east to be free of both Beaver and San Francisco streets, but was not able to get these plans through. He believes, however, that the yards will eventually be moved to the eastward.

The freight house will also be added to, on the west end, to make the building and shed about 75 feet longer and add to the inclosed storage space by about 60 per cent. The loading platform will also be considerably lengthened, to take care of 6 or 7 freight cars at one time.

Mr. Stahl says these improvements will not only add greatly to the conveniences of the depot, both for the public and for those employed there, but will add much to its appearance. He tried hard to have a new two-story depot built across from the Commercial hotel and to get the switching and car storage yard moved far enough east to be free of both Beaver and San Francisco streets, but was not able to get these plans through. He believes, however, that the yards will eventually be moved to the eastward.

MRS. FRED WALES DIES IN PHOENIX TUESDAY

Mrs. George N. Baty and Mrs. John Zalaha were called to Phoenix Tuesday night by a telegram advising them that Mrs. Fred Wales had been taken to the hospital for a desperate surgical operation and that there was little hope for her recovery. This is the second operation she has undergone within about a year. Mrs. Wales was formerly Miss Beuna Bayless, daughter of Mrs. Baty and sister of Mrs. John Zalaha. Her youth was spent in Flagstaff, where she has many friends, who will learn with regret of her serious condition and hope for recovery.

Word was received from Mrs. John Zalaha Tuesday night that her sister, Mrs. Wales, passed away that day at the hospital. The funeral was held at Phoenix. Mrs. Zalaha and Mrs. Baty did not arrive in Phoenix until Wednesday morning.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS

A very enthusiastic meeting of the local post of the American Legion was held in the court room last evening. A large number of the members were present and an unusually large amount of business was transacted. Plans were completed for the dance to be given on January 30 in Ashurst auditorium, and invitations to this affair will be out in a few days. Owing to regulations regarding late hours at the school, the Grand March will take place at 8:00 o'clock sharp, and at 11:30 supper will be served in the dining hall. The Legion members are determined that this will be the affair of the season.

Fifteen new members were added to the roster, and the question of dues was straightened out. Within a week every member of the post will receive a statement from the adjutant, and co-operation is expected in procuring a fully paid up membership. This organization is rapidly becoming a leading factor in the affairs of this sector and with the aid of the Woman's Auxiliary which will soon be a reality, some interesting events will undoubtedly take place.

Buttons for all members will be here for the next meeting and will be issued Thursday evening.

U. S. NAVY CALENDARS HERE

Lieut. C. H. Lowell, of the U. S. navy recruiting station at San Francisco, in wishing The Sun a prosperous Happy New Year, advises that he has forwarded to this office a number of the new navy calendars for delivery to a number who had made request for them.

We will be pleased to deliver them to the parties as soon as they arrive, if they will kindly call at the office.

HARPER STORE ROBBED

Someone broke into J. H. Harper's second hand store on West Railroad avenue Monday night, crawling in and out through one of the front windows, through which they smashed a hole, and carrying away a 22 rifle, a 32 Smith & Wesson revolver and three watches.

FLAGSTAFF ARMORY IS ASSURED; TO BE LARGER THAN EXPECTED

That new armory for Flagstaff! The many splendid advantages that go with it!

Do you want them? It is up to the young men of the town and country immediately surrounding, whether we are to have them or not.

Some months ago, The Sun published the news that Governor Campbell had granted one of the three new batteries of artillery to be established in this state to Flagstaff. Since then, little has been said on the matter, because of the uncertainty regarding the adjutant-generalship and because the site for the armory had to be personally inspected and approved by the adjutant general before the battery and armory became assured facts.

But both these questions are now favorably disposed of. State Adjutant-General Walter S. Ingalls, in Flagstaff on Wednesday, inspected the site, approved it, and gave Capt. E. M. Robison, who has been working wholeheartedly for the project for a long time, full details of what Flagstaff must do and what the state and U. S. governments will do.

Flagstaff must raise $10,000. Capt. Robison has practically all of this amount pledged by public-spirited citizens.

For this $10,000, already pledged, this is what Flagstaff gets: A $40,000 armory, the balance of $30,000 being paid by the state from funds already appropriated for this purpose.

Thirty-two horses, furnished free by the war department. Four of the celebrated French 75's, horse-drawn miracles of modern efficiency in gun-making. These furnished free by the war department.

$450 a month from the war department for pay of the men to care for the horses.

$60 a month from the state for expenses.

$1 per man for each mounted drill. This from the state.

Twenty-five per cent of regular army pay from the war department for each of the men in the battery.

This means at least $1,000 a month additional coming into Flagstaff because of the battery and the men.

In addition to all these things, Adjutant-General Ingalls says that after the armory is built, there will be extras, such as extensions to the building, chairs, reading room, gymnasium room and equipment, etc., to be secured by special legislative appropriation.

He also announces that with the armory he will have built an entirely separate room for the American Legion.

The next thing is the men. A battery is composed of 126 enlisted men and five officers, though 10 per cent over or under the total number of men is allowed. That is, the government will accept a battery with only 118 men.

The men must pass a regular army physical examination. After the desired number of men enlist, they elect their own commissioned officers, who must pass special examinations before they are eligible. The elective officers are a captain, two first lieutenants, two second lieutenants. The appointive non-commissioned officers are one first sergeant, several other sergeants and several corporals.

Men who saw service in the last war are to enlist for one year. Others enlist for three years.

At first, it will be necessary to drill as often as possible. After that there will be drills once or twice a week.

Though the battery is at the call of the government in war times, it hardly would be sent out on strike duty, as this is work for infantry.

The site for the armory was donated some time ago by Dr. R. O. Raymond. It is an ideal location—the mesa off Sitgreaves street, south of the Santa Fe, north of the A. L. & T. track and close enough to the track to permit loading directly from the armory. The adjutant-general was very much pleased with the site. An added advantage is that it is just far enough away so that the stables will not be objectionable.

Another thing: A section of land has been secured about a mile from town for target practice. In future (Continued on page 7)

BOOSTERS' CLUB BOOSTING AGAIN

The Boosters' club had a most satisfactory luncheon and meeting yesterday noon at the Confection Den. Rev. Luther Moore, head of the Boy Scout movement here, asked the endorsement of the club in getting a charter for a Boy Scout troop and the club's moral support in a canvass for the very small amount of funds necessary to equip the troop and carry on the work. He was asked to bring the matter before the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the club's parent organization.

Mr. Moore said that the Boy Scout work is progressing very nicely, except for the lack of a charter and funds. He is ably assisted in instructing the Scouts by Prof. Roy V. Lulow, Uel C. Bobbitt and Mervyn A. Mills. There are 25 boys enrolled. Those who have passed the tenderfoot examination are: Elmer Brewer, Clarence Brewer, Fred Nackard, Roy Zion, Joseph Herman, Sherman Schwarz, Francis Raudebaugh, Fred Montoya, Mark Finley, Joe LaScala, George Cameron and Milburn Quinlan, who passed the examination elsewhere, will join this organization as soon as a charter is secured.

The organization is non-sectarian. The club endorsed the work, recommending it to the favorable consideration of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman Geo. T. Herrington announced that a woman worker among the Belgian children, now in this country, would be here next week and that there will probably be a meeting at the court house on Thursday, at which she will speak. He asked that there be a big attendance to hear the interesting things she had to relate.

L. C. Riley brought up the question of more planting of trees by property owners, and Supervisor E. G. Miller, of the Coconino National Forest, said he would get from Albuquerque a detailed description of the work that is being done there along this line. An Albuquerque contractor has arranged with the city to plant trees of certain sizes on a sliding scale of prices.

Concerning money for park improvements, Mayor Earl Flipper said the city council had agreed to allow $500 a year or more toward improvements. He believed this amount would be increased in future years.

Those at the meeting, in addition to those above mentioned, were: C. B. Wilson, E. L. Taylor, Alex. Johnston, Henry Albers, Frank Harrison, F. M. Gold, Geo. W. Harben, Tom L. Rees, D. W. Jeffery, J. D. Dunn, T. A. Stahl, Capt. J. B. Wright, Craig Pottinger, Del Strong.

BISHOP ATWOOD COMING

The Right Rev. J. W. Atwood, bishop of Arizona, will visit the local parish of the Episcopal church next Sunday, January 11th, as previously announced. He will preach at the 11 o'clock hour of morning worship at the church of the Epiphany, and will conduct a service of confirmation.

It is earnestly desired that all the friends and communicants of the church will make the special effort necessary to be present at this service in order to give the bishop a hearty welcome.

OUR CHINATOWN IS EMBROILED IN LAW

Frank Gold, county attorney, was at home sick for several days, returning to his office again for a short time on Tuesday. That is, Frank says he was sick, but Assistant County Attorney George W. Harben admits that Frank may have been laying off to study Chinese and the inalienable legal usages of that celestial race.

Probably, also, Frank had a good many long-distance phone talks with "Tutt and Mr. Tutt," the celebrated, though mythical, New York criminal attorneys.

The kernel of the above nuttiness is that, through Mercer Hemperley, Wong Ben Sung, aged 13, and his guardian, ad litem, Wong June, proprietor of the American laundry on East Tucson avenue, have brought suit against Woo Gow, who runs the Ohio restaurant, in Williams, and Woo Shem, of the Royal Cafe, on Railroad avenue, Flagstaff, claiming:

That on or about the month of September, 1919, the said defendants induced Wong Ben Sung to go into their house in Flagstaff and there "dib burn the person of him, causing the epidemics and flesh on the lower part of his right leg to become injured," and thereby causing said plaintiff to become a temporary cripple. This alleged brutality, the complaint alleges, cost Woo Ben Sung $25 for medicine and about $1,500 worth of mental and bodily anguish. Therefore, compensation in the sum of $1,525 is asked.

Harben & Gold are defendants' attorneys. The defendants not only deny the allegations in toto, but say they know nothing whatever about the case.

It is fortunate that Superior Court Judge J. E. Jones is on his way to the coast for a vacation, for he can spend a couple of weeks in Chinatown studying the idiosyncrasies of the Heathen Chinese.

Harben calls The Sun's attention to the possibility that each side will have to have an interpreter and that there may have to be a third, unprejudiced, interpreter to interpret for the other interpreters. He says one of the defendants can cuss very intelligibly in English, but beyond that his language is mostly spitty sibilants. He says further that the court may have to establish a new precedent here in the taking of oaths. When the Chinese are in this country they "believe Gee Clist," but when in China they "believe Chinese god." Their obliging acquiescence in local theology does not, however, constitute such a religious belief as to make our regulation oath sacred to them.

To accomplish that, it may be necessary to conform to the Chinese custom, which holds that no oath is sacred unless given on a chicken's head. The chicken must be a white rooster. The head must be freshly removed from the rest of the rooster in the presence of court, jury and witness, and a certain prescribed form of oath is part of the ceremony.

So, while Gold and Harben are studying Chinese law, and Judge Jones is studying Chinatown court procedure, Sheriff Jack Harrington is traveling frantically in every direction with a chicken coop in one hand and a subpoena in the other trying to get the latter on to a white rooster and the rooster into the coop.

BANKS SAY BUSINESS UNUSUALLY GOOD NOW

Local bankers report that business in Flagstaff has never been better at this time of the year than it is right now. They have become accustomed to look for a falling off in deposits at this time of the year, but so far there has been no decrease to speak of; in fact, conditions are better right now than usually in former years much earlier than this.

GASSMAN BUYS THE BADER STOCK; WILL OPEN HABERDASHERY

Sidney J. Gassman has bought A. G. Bader's grocery store and, just as soon as he can get new fixtures and stock, will establish an up-to-date men's furnishing store in its place.

The final details of the transaction were completed yesterday. Sidney announced when he sold his clothes cleaning business a few weeks ago to Alex. Johnston that he would go into business here in Flagstaff again just as soon as possible and this is the first step toward keeping that promise.

He will lock the Bader store at once, not disposing of the grocery stock until the time required for legal publication of the sale has elapsed. He will leave the first of the week for California, where he and his father, R. M. Gassman, who has traveled for years for a big St. Paul shoe house, who knows the men's furnishing business thoroughly and who will be associated with his son in the business here, will buy as much of the new stock and fixtures as they can. Then his father will leave for the east, to continue buying, while Sidney will turn here to close out the grocery stock, remove the present fixtures, put in new closed-in show windows, a new floor, etc., in readiness for the new fixtures and stock. The grocery stock will be either sold to other merchants or closed out at cost to the public.

Mr. Bader, who regrets having to give up business here, is going to a lower altitude in the hope of overcoming the asthma from which he has for the past few months suffered excessively. He then hopes to return here and again engage in business. He is popular here and his decision to remain here if possible is good news. Dolph, his son, who has been helping in the store, has accepted a traveling position.

Mr. Gassman is a hustler, a wide-awake business man and popular. He will go into his new business with the best wishes of many friends and undoubtedly will make things hum.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS BANQUET AND INSTAL

The Knights of Pythias had a very successful banquet on Wednesday night, following their annual installation of officers. There were many ladies present, more than ninety covers being laid. Frank Quick had charge of the catering and did the job to the repleted satisfaction of everyone. After the banquet there were interesting talks by R. G. Stevenson, C. B. Wilson and Rev. Luther Moore.

The new officers are: Robert G. Stevenson, chancellor commander; Jesse C. Clarke, vice chancellor; Rev. Luther Moore, prelate; J. L. Daugherty, master of work; Fred J. Lusk, master at arms; R. L. Neill, keeper of record and seals; Jno. Marshall, inside guard; F. A. Thies, outside guard.

SOME MILKING JOB

Fred J. Lusk, after unloading his carload of Klim, immediately shipped a large share of it away to his various sub-agents. Shipments went to Texas, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, New Mexico, California and four separate lots to Alaska.

A carload of Klim, assuming that it contains 50,000 pounds, contains the equivalent of a quarter of a million quarts of milk. It would take a cow giving 20 quarts a day, every day in the year, more than 34 years to produce as much; or it is equivalent to the milk for one day of 12,500 fresh milk cows.

Fred says he's glad he doesn't have to milk the cows.

JACK COSTIGAN BETTER

Jack Costigan is very much better and was able to sit up for a while yesterday. In a very few days he probably will be out on the streets; and then we can all begin talking about the weather again. That subject has been nearly lost in the shuffle for more than a week, and instead of "How do you like this weather?" or "Do you think we'll get a big storm this time?" the common query was, "Have you heard how Jack Costigan is today?"

JOHNNY LOVE TRUE TO NAME

Johnny Love, one of the pioneers of Flagstaff, who has always lived up to his last name and usually comes and goes with the robins from Flagstaff to his ranch on the Lower Oak creek, happened to run across a bunch of loose quail in his wanderings down among the warm hills and put our brand on them. While we did not know them by their first names, we took them close to our heart, or some place near there with a great deal of satisfaction.

Dr. Tom Manning, who has been in California for about two weeks, is expected home this week.

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED IN CENSUS

Dick Jones will be assisted in taking the census of Flagstaff by Mrs. Margaret Dixon. They are supposed to finish their work within two weeks from the time they started.

There are 28 questions to be asked by the enumerators of each person, and you are compelled, under fear of prosecution, to answer. Some waggish paragraph writer has warned us all to be deferential, saying that "twice is he armed who hath twice fourteen points to cover."

These are the questions: City, Street and number. Name in full. Relationship to head of family with which you live. (Boarder, lodger, or servant, or wife, son, daughter, or whatever word describes the relationship. If you are the head, write "Head.")

If you are the head of the family living in this home, state: Is the home owned by you, or rented?

If owned by you, is it mortgaged? Sex. Color, or race. Age at last birthday (in completed years.) For children not yet 5 years old give age in completed months, expressed as twelfths of a year, as 0-12, 5-12, 1 4-12, 4 9-12, etc.)

Marital condition (single, married, widowed, or divorced) at the present time. If of foreign birth: Give year of emigration to the United States.

Are you naturalized or alien? (If not fully naturalized, but have declared intention to become an American citizen by taking out first papers, write "First papers.")

If naturalized, give year of naturalization. (If naturalized through act of your father, give year of his naturalization.)

Have you attended school or any educational institution any time since Sept. 1, 1919?

Are you able to read? (Yes or no.) Are you able to write? (Yes or no.) Where were you born? (If born in the United States, give state of birth; if abroad, give country of birth and province, state, or region.)

If foreign born, what was your language of customary speech before coming to this country? Where was your father born? What was his native language? Where was your mother born? What was her native language? Can you speak English. (Yes or no.) What is your trade, profession, or usual occupation? (Indicate the kind of work you perform; as, spinner, salesman, laborer, stenographer, clerk, etc.)

In what industry or business are you engaged? (Indicate the general character of the industry or business in which you are employed or with which you are connected; as, cotton mill, dry goods store, on farm, insurance, in a bank, or whatever may be appropriate.)

Are you an employer or a worker for salary or wages, or are you working on your own account without employing others? (If you employ any persons in your own business and are not working for a salary yourself, write "Employer"; if working for wages or a salary, write "Worker"; if engaged in any business or occupation without being either an employer or a salary or wage worker, write "Own account.")

Are you deaf and dumb? (Yes or no.) Is this person blind (both eyes)? (If a person cannot see to read with the aid of glasses, write "Yes"; otherwise write "No.")

ANNUAL MEETING OF COUNTY SUPERVISORS

At the annual meeting of the county board of supervisors the report of County Assessor J. D. Dunn showed his collection of taxes for 1919 to have been: Personal property taxes, $4,762.47; road tax, $1,682.00; school or poll taxes, $3,652.50; total, $10,097.97.

Treasurer M. A. Murphy's report for December showed receipts of $24,207.07; disbursements of $102,079.87; balance on hand, $146,557.81.

ADJUTANT GENERAL INGALLS VISITS FLAGSTAFF

Captain Walter Ingalls, adjutant general of Arizona, stopped off in Flagstaff Wednesday on his way home to Phoenix from Navajo and Apache counties, where he had been inspecting high school cadets.

Adjutant General Ingalls is much interested in the reorganization of the national guard again and interviewed Captain E. M. Robison relative to a prospective organization here to take the place of old Co. I.

SOLD LEMON EXTRACT; AND PAID $50 FINE

Jenoro Torres, grocer at 201 South San Francisco street, alleged to be selling lemon extract in large quantities to customers who did not want it for food flavoring, was arrested the last of last week and Police Justice S. B. Gilliland, because it was so near the holiday season, let him off with a $50 fine.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at the court house next Tuesday night. Officers and a board of directors will be elected. The board will have charge of the business of the Chamber during the year. All members of the Chamber and the Boosters club are requested to attend.
