  - "My Tribute"—Sung by Audience

Reservations for banquet tickets and accommodations during the conference, for out of town delegates, should be made at once through Mrs. Ethel Sutherland, 1214 W. Jefferson, Phoenix.

At 9:30 Friday morning, Feb. 25th, there will be an important business meeting in the west wing of the High School auditorium. Reports of officers and of department and local associations will be read, annual election held, and a number of amendments to the constitution acted upon. Luncheon will be served at High School cafeteria.

The afternoon session will be given over to round table discussion. Ways and Means by Mrs. M. T. Phelps; Legislation, by Mrs. J. L. B. Alexander; Home Economics by Miss Flossie Wills; Evolution of Films, by Mrs. J. E. Rickards; Publicity, by Mrs. F. A. Beane.

A full representation of delegates from all associations in the state is desired.

MRS. J. C. NORTON, State President.
MRS. HOWARD B. CLOFLIN, Publicity.

Mr. Lampland Will Lecture at Normal.

The subject of the next Lowell lecture on astronomy at the Normal school will be "Astronomy in the Service of Man," by Mr. C. O. Lampland. The lecture will be given at Ashurst auditorium, Wednesday evening, February 23. The speaker will describe in popular language the important applications of astronomy to the practical affairs of life and will also give some account of the influence this science has exerted on the spiritual and intellectual life of man. The lecture will be illustrated with models and many interesting lantern slides.

Open Meeting of Woman's Club.

An evening long to be remembered was that of last Saturday when the Woman's club held open house in honor of the birthday of our own fair state—Arizona. It was most fitting that not only club members, but guests as well were privileged to hear the splendid program. At eight-thirty the Elks' hall was comfortably filled. The hall itself took on gala colors for the occasion. Flags of the nations were in evidence, though the stars and stripes predominated; but most prominent of all was the state flag showing in glowing colors at the center of the platform. Mrs. C. O. Lampland gave a heartfelt address of welcome, outlining briefly the various good measures that Arizona since her statehood, upholds; reminding us, too, that Lincoln's birthday fell on the evening the club had chosen to celebrate, which should make it doubly a memorable one. Mrs. R. G. Stevenson and Miss Mildred Hornbein played a lively duet.

Mrs. Ray Babbitt, in a most finished manner, gave Ida Tarbell's "Did I Know Lincoln?" One had only to close the eyes to be carried back to Illinois and in that little country store live over again those scenes in Lincoln's earlier life, so realistic was it all!

Mrs. Charlebois sang our state song, the chorus by the audience. Miss Mary Boyer followed with incidents and anecdotes of early Arizona and more intimate touches of our own Flagstaff. This proved intensely interesting, for a great many personal touches were given.

Mrs. Fay played two dainty selections on the piano, after which social groups were formed and delicious refreshments served—dainty ices in handpainted favors and cakes.

Shakespeare Club.

Miss Mary Costigan was hostess Monday night at the Orpheum to the members of the Shakespeare club.

These evenings are always a pleasure and the guests were profuse in their thanks to Miss Costigan for a pleasant evening.

New Library Board Meets.

Business pertaining to the library was transacted Saturday afternoon when the board met. That this is an enthusiastic board is proven by the way it is taking up new matters. Some day Flagstaff will awaken and find a real public library here and we'll all benefit thereby. Watch for it and boost whenever you can.

Action Taken by Former Library Board.

While the Woman's club is delighted over the shift of responsibility in regard to the public library, yet it is with regret that some of the members give up their pet project. Through the vicissitudes of some eight years a number of faithful sponsors have watched both its growth and oftimes seeming decline. However discouraging the outlook has been at times few knew of it outside the immediate members of the board; so we say again it is with a feeling of regret that it is turned over to even so prosperous a body as the city council. At the meeting it was unanimously voted that the club express its thanks to all those who so heartily upheld it during its incipency. All will recall "Merchants' Day"—when the merchants of Flagstaff rallied to the support of the library and generously donated a certain per cent of cash receipts.

To all these merchants the club extends thanks. Again, in December of each year the various lodges and organizations of the town contributed freely for the upkeep of the magazines for the library; to these the club again extends its thanks and what must we say of the various individuals who gave loyally from time to time, some of their private store of books, some of their money and many of their time. Citizens all, we count them—good American citizens.

Music Department Meets.

Tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. G. Stevenson the music department of the Woman's club will give another interesting review of opera. This meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Herbert B. Fay and Mrs. Charles Isham. The opera for study will be "Sampson and Delilah."

Valentine Party As a Farewell.

Mrs. A. J. Mitchell gave a most delightful little affair last Saturday afternoon complimenting Miss Zephena Perkins, who leaves shortly for Kansas City. It was truly a valentine party for the rooms were daintily decorated with hearts galore and the luncheon table held a most attractive valentine box which held favors for all the guests.

The afternoon was given over to sewing and the making of dainty messages to be later used as place cards. About the table sat Miss Perkins, Mrs. Warren Perkins, Mrs. Jack Wilson, Mrs. W. Thompson, Miss Flora Jensen, Mrs. Baty, Mrs. Pulliam, Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Rudd, Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. Milligan, Miss Mabel Milligan, Mrs. Costigan and Miss Mary Costigan.

Lenten Tea.

Last Wednesday afternoon between the hours of two and five at the home of Mrs. R. G. Stevenson on North Leroux street, a delightful Lenten tea was given by the ladies of St. Margaret's Guild of the Church of the Epiphany. Several enjoyable musical selections rendered during the afternoon added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The tea table was appropriately decorated in very pretty Valentine's Day style. A silver offering made during the afternoon added a tidy little sum to the treasury of

CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

"Why don't the churches settle things?" is the title of a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post. The author, in commenting on the indifference toward the church, blames the clergy, charging that their sermons are either dull treatments of ancient doings of the dead past or else shallow sensational outbursts that have no real weight. In his opinion, church attendance will increase, when preachers learn how to preach vital religious truth and relate it to practical life.

Do you share the author's criticism? If you do so conscientiously, you will be on the lookout for any preaching here or there which does successfully measure up to this standard. Be honest with yourself. Make a sincere investigation. We cordially invite you to begin at the Church of the Epiphany. Remember, however, that the sermon is only one element of the hour of worship, and perhaps not the most important, no matter how good it may be.

"The Pure in Heart" will be the theme of the sermon at the 11 o'clock hour of morning worship at this church. Other services of the morning will be Holy communion at 8 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

All who come are made to feel welcome at this church. It would be hard for you to find a more cordial social spirit than you will find right here. Come Sunday morning.

THE PHILANTHROPIST

Customer—"Why, you've put your prices up again!"
Fishmonger—"Well, mum, I ask yer, 'ow else are we to fight the profiteer at 'is own game?"

The Guild. The entire occasion was only another evidence of the fine spirit of good cheer and helpfulness with which the Guild has entered upon its work for 1921.

Women's Club.

The February session of the Woman's club convened last Saturday afternoon at Elks' hall. It was only a short business session. Matters pertaining to the library, new members and the Near East Relief were discussed. The club again pledged its $180 to the cause of relief; it also went on record as favoring unanimously a new measure for the relief of widows and dependent children in this state. This is a new bill to be introduced into the legislature and all members seemed tremendously interested.

GOOD ROADS MEN TO MEET AT NOGALES NEXT YEAR

With the passage of a number of important resolutions, the election of new officers and directors for the coming year, a trip over the road system of Maricopa county, and a general feeling of justification after the work of the convention had been ended, the Arizona Good Roads association closed its annual meeting Saturday. Dwight B. Heard, who had directed the destinies of the organization for three years, was succeeded as president by O. C. Parker, mayor of Tucson.

The chief business of the convention centered in the consideration of a resolution in favor of the so-called omnibus bill, in which $975,000 is to be appropriated for the construction of certain designated highway projects.

The session was opened by a short address by Thomas G. Norris, of Yavapai county, former president of the association, after which W. G. Keating, mayor of Florence, spoke on the national highway situation and declared that the Bankhead Highway association means business in getting the first through transcontinental road in the United States.

The committee on credentials then made its report through its chairman, H. R. Batterson, after which the committee on state and national policies introduced its resolutions through W. W. Pickrell, chairman, and then the general committee on resolutions, of which J. C. Dobbins, of Phoenix, was chairman, made its report.

Nogales was then chosen as the place of the next annual meeting of the association, and then the election of officers was held, O. C. Parker, of Tucson, being elected unanimously to the position of president. He made a short speech of acceptance, assuring the delegates that they could rely upon his using every effort in behalf of the association and asking them in turn for their support.

New Officers Named. The vice-presidents were then chosen. These are Gus Becker, of Apache county, first vice-president; A. J. Eddy, of Yuma, second vice-president, and Thomas G. Norris, of Yavapai, third vice president.

Directors representing each county were named as follows: Apache, Gus Becker; Coconino, Fred Garing; Cochise, C. M. Roberts; Gila, L. D. Van Dyke; Greenlee, Norman Carmichael; Maricopa, A. J. Chandler; Mohave, W. A. Stevens; Navajo, James Scott; Pima, O. C. Parker; Pinal, J. G. Keating; Yavapai, C. C. Stuke; Yuma, G. A. Marsh; Santa Cruz, I. P. Frazier, and Graham, W. W. Pace.

Following the adjournment, about 50 of the delegates entered automobiles and were taken over part of the Maricopa county highway system to Fowler, where they were entertained at lunch by the Twoby Brothers' Construction company. A feature of this part of the convention proceedings was the attendance of Miss Joyce Adams, of Cochise county, as mascot for the delegates under the designation of "Cactus Blossom," the state flower.

Addresses were made during the luncheon by O. C. Parker, newly elected president of the association; Dwight B. Heard, retiring president;

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

The basketball tournament of the Northern Arizona Athletic association, at which the championship teams of the north will be determined, will be held in Ashurst auditorium Friday and Saturday of this week. The elimination games will be played Friday afternoon, beginning at 2:00 p. m. The semi-finals will be played Friday night, and the finals Saturday night, beginning at 8:00 p. m. A silver loving cup, given by M. I. Powers, will be presented to the girls' team winning the championship. T. E. Pollock has also given a similar cup to be presented to the winning boys' team. The boys' team winning the championship of the north will also have the honor of going to Tucson to take part in the state tournament, where the championship team of the state will be picked. Should the Normal boys succeed in winning the northern championship, the next best team will be sent to Tucson, as the two Normal schools are not permitted to take part in the state tournament. Our boys and girls are working hard that they may be able to keep both cups as well as the titles at the Normal school. The public is cordially invited to all games. The admission on Friday and Saturday nights will be fifty cents.

On Friday of last week a special Lincoln's Day program was given in assembly under the supervision of Miss Hornbein. The program was as follows:

- Mr. Walton Armstrong, presiding.
- The Life of Lincoln—Miss Gladys Vorce
- Gettysburg Address—Miss Ethel Holsinger
- Solo, "The Last Rose of Summer"—Miss Ella Peterson
- O Captain, My Captain—Miss Mildred Dimmick
- Selections by the Orchestra.
- Reading—"He Knew Lincoln"—Mrs. Ray Babbitt

On Monday an Admission Day program was given in assembly under the supervision of Miss Mildred Hornbein. Mr. Paul Glassey presided over the program, which was as follows:

- Solo—Arizona—Miss Gladys McPhaul
  - Normal Glee Club.
  - Papers on Arizona, read by Misses Ruby Lovitski, Madeline Fairchild, Emily Patterson.
  - Solo—Song of Arizona—Miss Dorothy Griffith
- In Tuesday's assembly Mr. F. M. Gold talked on the subject, "Corporations, Partnerships, and the Individual." His talk was both interesting and instructive, and the students hope that we may have him with us again soon.

Wednesday's assembly was turned over to the student body for a "pep" meeting. Songs and yells were practiced for the coming basketball tournament.

President L. B. McMullen returned from Phoenix Tuesday morning where he attended a state board meeting Saturday. Sunday he spent fishing at Roosevelt Lake. Some doubt is being expressed in regard to the veracity of the wonderful fish stories he is now spreading abroad.

Prof. Eastburn returned Sunday morning with his basketball team. The team played Williams high school on Friday night, where the basket artists simply outclassed the dribblers.

—the score being 18 to 33 in favor of Williams. From Williams the team went to Kingman Saturday morning. At Kingman the boys had better luck, piling up a score of 34 to 18 in their favor. The team was badly handicapped on this trip, due to the fact that three of their best players, Etter, Heckethorne and Barrett, were on the sick list. The rest of the team are hoping that these boys will be ready to help them win the cup at the tournament. All the boys returned praising both Williams and Kingman for their true sportsmanship, and for the very courteous treatment and entertainment they were given at both places.

To celebrate a saint's birthday We'll gather Friday night. In honor, too, we wish to say, Of a bright and shining light Who went and gave her heart away About last Christmas night. Tho' no clouds be with at eight, Prepare for a shower and don't be late. (Signed) SIX OF THE "ALLEY."

This was that called a number of people to Taylor Hall on Friday night. The test of getting in was to crawl through a large red heart hung in the hall of the second floor. From the heart the guests were led to attractive candle-lighted rooms, decorated in innumerable tiny hearts. The evening was spent in various contests. Perhaps the most entertaining was the "slang" contest. Each player was given a pencil and piece of paper and five minutes, in which she attempted to write all the slang words and expressions she knew. Mrs. Knapp and Miss Boyer were best versed in this form of literature and were voted the "slangiest couple" present. After a delicious three course lunch the guests attended a mock wedding. Miss Kelley acted beautifully the part of officiating rector; Miss Hornbein the blushing bride; Miss Bush the happy groom; Miss Sandon the pretty train-bearer; Miss Payne the dignified ring-bearer; Miss Latimer the lovely flower girl, and Miss Lintz the important usher. After rice had been showered upon the happy pair, valentines were distributed. Miss Hornbein received some very lovely presents, one of which was a beautiful electric percolator. At a very late hour the following guests: Misses Gertrude Kellogg, Agnes Dodson, Wilmyth Case, Clara Wheeler, Elkhorn, Alberta Platz, Margaret Walsh, Mary Boyer, Dockstader, Hornbein, Mesdames Keuzenkamp, Walker, Beckwith, Knapp, McMullen and Eastburn, departed, voting the Misses Latimer, Lintz, Sandon, Payne, Bush and Kelley most entertaining hostesses.

There will be no school on Friday afternoon on account of the tournament. Neither will there be school on Tuesday, Washington's birthday. However, a special Washington program is being prepared for Friday morning. The program will begin at ten o'clock in the morning. It is under the direction of Miss Hornbein and promises to be a good one. Everyone is invited.

Miss Blanche Gardener and Miss Gladys McPhaul were the dinner guests of Mrs. L. A. Eastburn Saturday evening.

There will be an invitation dance at Ashurst auditorium on Saturday night, following the finals of the basketball tournament.

KANSAS CITY WEEKLY LIVE STOCK LETTER

Kansas City Stock Yards, February 14th, 1921.

Demand for fat cattle today was fairly active at strong to 25 cents higher prices, mostly 15 cents higher than the advance reported late last week. Killers held fairly good order. Receipts were about normal for this season of the year. Hogs rallied 15 to 25 cents and were fully 50 cents above the low point last week. Sheep and lambs sold slowly at 25 cents lower prices.

Today's Receipts. Receipts today were 9,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, compared with 7,500 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 10,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle. Though rather slow at the start trade in fat cattle finally became active with prices strong to 25 cents higher. Medium weight fat steers predominated and they were well suited to killers' orders. The beef situation throughout the east showed a moderate improvement, but outlet channels are still small owing to the Lenten season. Lower beef prices are bringing some increase in demand from other sources. Feeders are showing a disposition to nurse the market with lighter receipts. The bulk of the fat steers today sold at $7.50 to $8.25, fat cows $5.25 to $6.25, and heifers $5.50 to $6.50. Veal calves were higher.

Stockers and Feeders. Demand for stock and feeding cattle was about normal for this season of the year. The best outlet is for cattle suitable for roughing through to grass. Some fleshy feeders are selling up to $8.00 and choice stockers as high as $7.50.

Hogs. Hog prices after falling to new low levels last Thursday strengthened again on Friday and gained 15 to 25 cents today, taking the price level, 50 cents above last Thursday. Receipts were moderate. Shipping demand is active and packers are buying freely, so that the market is in a strong position. The top price was $9.55, bulk of sale $8.50 to $9.50. Pigs sold up to $10.00.

LIVESTOCK AND RANGES IN ARIZONA

Nearly an inch of snow falling on the northern ranges early Tuesday morning was of considerable benefit to stock pasturing far from established water holes. Recent snows in the northern section have increased the water supply generally, but a few spots where the deficiency had been marked are still short, noticeably Williams, where very little improvement is reported. Over the northeast plateau where lack of winter rains had caused much discouragement among stockmen recent snows have caused a reversal of feeling, water is reported as plentiful and stock looking well. While a few nights during the week were cold most of the daytime temperatures were high, resulting in the almost complete denudation of snow from the ranges. The reporter at Ft. Apache states that the weather has been warm and the only snow visible is on the mountains. Unusually high winds prevailed over the state Monday, but fortunately the weather was warm. The forest service ranger at Ryan, in the Arizona Strip, states that conditions in that section during January were greatly helped by the presence of light snow throughout most of the month. Forest Ranger Kartchner at Heber, states that the snow in his section ranges from one to ten inches in depth and unlike most of the snow now on the ground is moist. More moisture is greatly needed in southwestern New Mexico where the range continues poor. Droughty conditions of range and stock prevail in the vicinity of Douglas and Nogales and very little planting is being done in the section about Nogales owing to lack of moisture. Only patches of snow are now visible about the Grand Canyon.

Sheep and Lambs. Further declines developed in the sheep division and prices reached new low levels for several years past. In most cases prices were down 25 cents. The top price for lambs was $8.00, and ewes $4.25. Heavy lambs sold at $6.50 to $7.50.

Horses and Mules. Demand for horses and mules showed a further moderate improvement today. Prices were quoted stronger. Farm demand is increasing. Charles M. Pipkin, Market Cor.
