SURELY THE SLASHER.

And Many People Are Busy Identifying Everything but Overcoats. The work of identifying the property recovered from Jack the Slasher is still going on. A large number of persons whose houses had been robbed by him called yesterday at police headquarters and picked out their goods. A strange feature of the case is that, although a number of overcoats were stolen, not one was recovered. Enough clothing was found to stock a store, but no overcoats were among the stuff.

Joseph Rountree Missing.

On last Wednesday morning Joseph Rountree, a school teacher, disappeared from his school at the corner of Sixth and F streets southwest, and has not since been heard of. He lives with his grandmother, Mrs. O. M. Rountree, at 559 C street northeast, and was accustomed to stopping to see his uncle, Mr. Hamet Rountree, of 717 F street southwest, at the corner of school, but upon inquiry he had not been there. Young Rountree was a frail, delicate youth, with dark eyes and dark hair, and wore a neat dark suit when he left home last week. The case has been referred to the police and they are looking for him.

He took the oath of office several weeks ago. Dr. Shadd is acting surgeon-in-chief in the absence of Dr. Williams, who is now in Chicago settling his business affairs.

No Executive Avenue.

HORSEMEN WILL BE PLEASED

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS IT

Bill Will be Reported Allowing Bookmaking at Benning's and Ivy City Tracks—Spring and Fall Meetings of Eighteen Days Each Permitted at Both Courses. The Senate District Committee yesterday in agreeing to favorably report a bill allowing Spring and Fall meetings of eighteen days each at the two tracks mentioned. It is expected that it is now only a question of a few days before the bill will become a law, and the officials of the Washington Jockey Club say they will immediately make preparations for a meeting to commence about April 15. This will be good news to the horsemen already at the local tracks as well as many others who are located at Gloucester and other Jersey courses.

Prospects for Spring racing at Benning's and Ivy City tracks are brightened considerably by the action of the Senate District Committee yesterday in agreeing to favorably report a bill allowing Spring and Fall meetings of eighteen days each at the two tracks mentioned.

It is expected that it is now only a question of a few days before the bill will become a law, and the officials of the Washington Jockey Club say they will immediately make preparations for a meeting to commence about April 15. This will be good news to the horsemen already at the local tracks as well as many others who are located at Gloucester and other Jersey courses.

Provided George Engeman comes to an amicable arrangement with the Washington Jockey Club, there will be thirty-six days of continuous racing here, and both tracks will make money.

As there is hardly a hope of racing being resumed in New Jersey, there will be no opposition to the Washington races, and the sports will naturally come here. It is not altogether unlikely that Hill's track, at Ivy City, will be the only one to be kept open during the summer months after the racing is finished in the District. This will very likely be done unless Governor O'Ferrall should insist on a law which would prohibit bookmaking at a chartered race track.

MORE TROUBLE IS FEARED

A Day of Rioting and Excitement at Buda Pesth. During the invasion of the theaters by the students who drove the actors and audiences from the buildings, and as a result of the conflicts which took place between the students and the police later, when the former dispersed the audience in the concert halls, over twenty people were more seriously injured than a matter of pre-emption there is a great ameliorated display of mourning emblems to-day, as the citizens who do not make such an exhibition of respect to the memory of Kossuth, are almost certain to have their windows smashed by the students this evening.

PARLIAMENT HOUSE ATTACK

Students and Citizens Renew Their Assault Upon the Opera House—Fiery Language from the Admirers of Hungary's Dead Patriot and Soldier—Sympathy Expressed. BUDA PESTH, March 23.—There is still considerable excitement to-day among the students and others who took part in the riotous demonstrations last night against those citizens who had not displayed emblems of mourning in honor of Louis Kossuth.

During the invasion of the theaters by the students who drove the actors and audiences from the buildings, and as a result of the conflicts which took place between the students and the police later, when the former dispersed the audience in the concert halls, over twenty people were more seriously injured than a matter of pre-emption there is a great ameliorated display of mourning emblems to-day, as the citizens who do not make such an exhibition of respect to the memory of Kossuth, are almost certain to have their windows smashed by the students this evening.

The students have announced their determination to compel people of all classes to show respect to the memory of the general and opposition to the will of the students, backed up as they are by crowds of sympathizers among the masses, is liable to cause serious disorder.
