KIDS HIT THE BALL HARD

Maul and Petty Did Not Pitch With Very Much Effort. VETS MET WITH GRIM DEFEAT. Aided by the Poor Pitching of the Old Terrors, the Youngsters Succeeded in Battering Another Game—Brilliant Outfielding by Selbach and Abbey Believed the Monetary.

One of the principal features of the ball game yesterday afternoon was the failure of Maul and Petty to let themselves out, and they were contented to simply lob the ball up to the kids, who, as a natural consequence, drove out safe hits in profusion and won the game with ease. Egan pitched for the youngsters, and he tried to fool the Vets, succeeding to some extent in doing so. He was wild, giving five bases on balls and hitting three men, but he kept the hits fairly well scattered. His support, while not gilded, was good, the left field play of Selbach being particularly fine, he accepting all of his seven chances.

Stockdale made his initial appearance at second base, but had not much opportunity to show what he could do in the infield. Catcher McMahon put up a better game than either of his previous ones, and is rounding into condition. Abbey gave a really clever exhibition of fielding, capturing four flies and throwing out two runners at third. Ward put up a strong game at the bat and in running the bases, but marred his base play by a horrible throw over Cartwright's head, the ball going into the bleachers and letting lucky Paul Radford make the circuit of the bases, scoring the first run of the game for the Vets.

Only a handful of people saw the game, and these were leaving late in the shape of pedestrians. In doing so, the wind was chilly, and no pleasure was experienced in looking on at the walk-over of the kids. It would seem as if it proved better policy for the veterans to do nothing at all or to play in these exhibition games, so as to see how the youngsters would succeed in batting at something other than drop balls. In all likelihood their batting averages would be considerably lower than at present. If the Vets are not yet in shape to exert themselves a little, they could work their pitching arms in the morning, and so get in condition.

Maul certainly did not do himself proud by his performance yesterday, as in five innings he pitched on balls, hit one batsman, made a wild pitch, and was batted for six singles, three doubles, and a home run. He wore in addition to his regular uniform a stock smile, which played all over his countenance and struck there, no matter how lively his curves were touched up. There is one thing about Maul's smile, and that is it's a sickler and he knows it.

Manager Selbach is being urged to make up a first team to be formed of the men who will probably be permanent fixtures on the regular team. The players become accustomed to each other. The impression is general that by this arrangement much better results can be achieved. Mr. Selbach, however, is doing nothing at all, and is leaving the work of each man and will take action shortly. His principal task will be to locate the outfielders, as he has a surplus of good material to draw from. These players are: Abbey, Hassamer, Radford, Teban, and Selbach are all clever fielders, and the cranks are kept going on by the youngsters. Selbach is in the last two or three games, but he will find it rather a different matter to do this in the regular season. Twirling in earnest, Sullivan is putting up the same good and bad game as last season, and it may be that Selbach will be out both these candidates for the position. Joe Kelly has been showing in good shape, but he realizes that Joyce is a faster man and will most likely bug the position. Yesterday's score was as follows:

TO SECURE A QUORUM. Representative Springer Has a Plan to Count in Those Not Voting. Many plans have been suggested to secure a quorum of the House when a minority of members oppose any particular measure. Mr. Springer, of Illinois, has prepared a rule which he intends to offer at the first opportunity and endeavor to secure favorable action upon it. It is as follows: Whenever on a ye and no vote upon any question the record shows that no quorum has voted, the clerk shall again call the names of the members who are present. The Speaker shall state the question to him and ask him how he desires to vote. If he desires to vote "ye," he shall be entered on the Journal as "present and voting." In determining the result of the vote those present and not voting shall be counted with those voting "ye." If those voting and those present and not voting shall be a majority of the whole House, a quorum shall be deemed as constituted, and the question shall be decided by the record as thus ascertained. If those voting and those present not voting shall not constitute a quorum, the Speaker shall direct the yeas and nays to be taken, and the yeas and nays shall be taken by roll call. If a majority of the members present shall be in favor of the question, the yeas and nays shall be taken by roll call. If a majority of the members present shall be in favor of the question, the yeas and nays shall be taken by roll call.

The following unique invitation and notice has been sent out to all members of Almas Temple and Congressmen members of the order temporarily residing in the city: "On Monday evening, April 9, 1894 (Leylat al Talat, Fourth Day, Tenth Month, Hejra 1311), at the hour of 7 o'clock, the hosts will assemble at the armory, main hall, for the observance of the feast of the Shawaal. Joyful Ceremonial Celebration of the Feast of the Shawaal. Glad Salutations. Grand Receptions. In Festive and Joyous Manner. Beautiful Floral Displays. Refreshments. 'Kool Saahak Intajib.' The session of April 9 is expected to be the most notable in the history of Almas Temple. Put on your dress suit if you have one, the airing will do you good. If you have none, then come as you can; only remember to wear a clean shirt and a clean pair of trousers. A nice fat camel will be provided for every neophyte. The following notice has been made to all the nobles: 'The approach of balmy sunshine inclines the average stranger to visions of baseball, and those of other delicacies of the season. It has been proposed to organize a baseball nine of members of Almas Temple, and the matter will be considered at the meeting of April 7. If the noble residing in this city and not attending session of the Temple, let him send his name to the recorder, Noble George J. Kaiser, or to the noble, Noble George J. Kaiser, Lu Lu Temple, 1000 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W. A challenge has been received from that organization for two nobles of Almas Temple, Philadelphia and one of our own oasis. Let us put our nobles and pads, and with a plentiful supply of arnica and liniments, let us get ready to meet the challenge. Our Temple go forth to meet the bold, bad twirlers of the slippery sphere who hail from the oasis of the Quaker City. It is intended that the event of the Temple will be a sufficient service of ambulances and speedy communication with the Emergency hospital.'

ACROSS THE CONTINENT. Proposed Canal System from Ocean to Ocean Through the Lakes. Representative Simpson, of Kansas, is preparing a joint resolution, which he will soon submit to Congress, proposing an international commission between the United States and Canada with a view to their co-operation in a system of extensive canals and waterways connecting the great lakes with the Atlantic coast. At present the route from the upper lakes to the Atlantic is long and circuitous, passing through the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, Lake Erie, the locks of the Welland canal, Lake Ontario, and finally the St. Lawrence river. Mr. Simpson, who is familiar with the lakes, having sailed on them before the mast of the U. S. Fish Commission's steamer, claims that a canal which would connect the upper lakes with the Atlantic would be a great benefit to the country. He proposes a route from Georgian Bay, on the east shore of Lake Huron, through to Lake Ontario, and finally the St. Lawrence river. This cut could be made by way of Lake Simcoe and other small lakes, so that the actual cut would not be over 100 miles. It would be a great benefit to the country, and the route would be a great benefit to the country. It is also contemplated that joint action could be taken on improving the upper St. Lawrence river in order to open this lake and river route to the largest and most modern boats.

CHANGES TARIFF OUTLOOK. Senator Hill and Others May Turn Out to be Obstructionists Too. The close vote yesterday upon Senator Hill's motion to adjourn Monday, and the fact that he, a Democrat, whose position with reference to the bill is doubtful, offered the motion, and the additional fact that he was joined in the vote in his support of the motion by two other Democrats, and either raised for the motion, or paired at it, combined to render the proceeding significant, and some of the Democrat members of the Finance Committee evidently looked upon it as a sign of things to come. The Republicans present voted solidly for the motion to adjourn. Of the four Populists, Stewart alone voted in the affirmative. The Democrats who voted in the affirmative were Senators Hill, Irby, and Murphy voted with the Republicans and Senator Bruce was paired favorably for the bill. MEXICAN DOLLARS. Many Senators Urge that We Coin Such Silver for Eastern Trade. Senator Lodge delivered a ringing speech yesterday in support of Senator Wolcott's resolution to coin Mexican silver dollars, urging its passage because the experiment was worth trying, while it could do no harm. While disposing of a certain amount of our surplus silver it would have another effect not yet noted; it would throw into our hands a certain amount of silver, which would be passed by way of London. While there might be a difference of opinion in the country as regards silver, there was one thing all were agreed upon, and that was that England was the great enemy to the restoration of silver, and if there was any way of striking at England's trade or England's money it was our duty to do it. He thought it would be possible to strike at England through her eastern trade, but he would go further and strike her through her colonies, through her Cape diamonds, her Assam and Ceylon tea, and her Australian wool—he would strike her through her pockets. We wanted to force England to take the view of silver which we believed to be right and just, and there was only one way of dealing with her, and that was to make her feel it in her pocket, and that was to make her feel it in her pocket, and that was to make her feel it in her pocket.
