

HUNDREDS OF SHOTS FIRED

Illinois Strikers Attack Miners and Cage Three in a Town.

THEN THEY SET IT ON FIRE

Two are Killed and Several Wounded in the Battle—Deputies Unable to Cope With the Mob—The White Flag of Truce Not Respected.

PEKIN, Ill., June 6.—There was a bloody battle at Little's coal mine, five miles from the Illinois river at Pekin, today. A crowd of 500 miners from the west side of the river were about to attack the mine.

Sheriff Frederick swore in a posse and set out for the scene. The strikers assembled at Bentonville and crossed the Illinois by ferries. There were about 400 men and some women. The sheriff and posse remonstrated with the mob in vain.

The sheriff and posse remonstrated with the mob in vain. The leader of the strikers, with a revolver in each hand, cried out: "Follow me," and the crowd charged on the mine. The two Littles and their two sons and a colored man retreated to the tower above the shaft and opened fire. Some of them were seen to fall.

The fire was returned and hundreds of shots were fired into and through the tower. The Littles hoisted a white flag, but the firing did not cease. The tower was set on fire and up shot the flames. It was feared the powder would be reached, and the crowds retreated. The air shaft was kept closed.

The killed are: JAMES JACKSON, colored, a miner at Little's. E. BILLION, one of the strikers.

Wounded, Ed. Porter and Peter Little, of the besieged, the former shot in the breast, probably fatally, the latter in the arm. Half a dozen others were slightly hurt.

There are a number of miners in the shaft, who it is feared are suffocated. Among them are Gus Morris, Ed. Morris and John Hockley. The sheriff and posse have returned from the scene, unable to cope with the mob.

BLOODED IMMINENT

Reported Approach of Troops Lead to Activity by Strikers.

CLAY CITY, Ind., June 6.—United States Marshal Hawkins arrived here late this evening in response to instructions from Judge Baker, and is procuring names of all miners who assisted in holding the mixed train carrying coal and United States mail this morning.

After procuring the names of several of the leaders, Marshal Hawkins left on a special train for the coal fields. He is expected to arrive here today.

At 8.30 p. m. a force of miners were at work unloading the seven cars of coal on the side tracks. It is rumored that several companies are marching on the strikers today. Excitement is increasing, and there is a general belief to-morrow will witness bloodshed.

AN OUTBREAK EXPECTED

A Determined Effort by Operators to Break the Strike.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—The first determined effort of the coal operators in the Pittsburgh district to break the strike was made at several places to-day. At Manow the Youghiogheny Gas Coal Company put into their mines 300 deputies, heavily armed, to protect the non-union men who went to work.

An outbreak is expected in the morning, when the strike claimants will have at least 1,000 men on hand at daybreak. They have been thrown into the widest excitement by the arrival of imported men and deputies.

The operators at Youghiogheny and Greensburg will also make an attempt to operate their mines within the next forty-eight hours with imported men.

RESTLESS AT FROSTBURG

Militia Patrol the Town and Strikers are Equally Vigilant

FROSTBURG, Md., June 6.—Detachments from the Fourth and Fifth regiments are patrolling the little town in the neighborhood of the mines in the Maryland coal region to-night. The patrol is kept up in order to prevent, if possible, a repetition of the disastrous dynamite outrage which took place near the Eckhart mine at an early hour this morning.

It has been pretty well known for some time that a number of strikers were supplied with dynamite, and some of this from some other source was used on the house of Charles Lancaster, one of the miners who has stood by the company. The explosion at this place accepted by the miners as a warning of what would occur, and many stayed away from work on this occasion, although no shooting in their passage to the mine by the military.

To-morrow morning the troops will again guard the approaches to the mines to prevent intimidation on the part of the strikers. To-day, in spite of the protection at the five mines, only 125 men went to work.

READY TO FIGHT

Miners and Deputies Drawn Up in Line of Battle in Colorado

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 6, 2 p. m.—The deputies are in camp at Gillette, with American flags flying. The miners on Hill Hill are ready for an attack, and declare they will fight to the death rather than surrender any of their lives before the militia arrive.

One hundred mounted men on both sides are drawn up in battle array. The miners have offered to lay down their arms when the militia arrives to-morrow. If the sheriff agrees to this there will be no battle.

COAL FAMINE SPREADS

Lake Traffic Crippled—Railroads Reducing Trains to a Minimum

CLEVELAND, O., June 6.—The big passenger steamer City of Cleveland, of the Detroit and Cleveland line, was laid up to-day for an indefinite period owing to the coal famine. Numerous other one and freight vessels have been compelled to tie up for the lack of fuel, and the very few boats which remain in service are using hard coal.

The various railroads leading into the city are reducing the number of trains to the lowest possible limit, and the fuel question is becoming a most serious one on all sides.

Sheriff Bowers agreed to this, and there is every reason to believe that there will be no further hostilities.

Alexander McInchoss representing the miners was immediately on arrival of state troops. The deputies will follow the troops to the miners' camp and serve warrants which they are said to hold for 200 strikers.

Governor McKinley Orders Two Regiments Out in Eastern Ohio

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 6.—A telegram arrived at the Governor's office to-night from the officials of the Rock Island railway appealing for help to protect their property and the lives of their employees at Round Pond, O. T., where a mob has placed obstructions upon and torn up the tracks because the company would not stop trains there.

The people, it is said, are desperate and threaten to hang any employee who attempts to stop the train.

In the absence of the Governor, Lieut. Gov. Lowe called on United States Marshal Nix, and they left for the scene to-night with a large posse. The War Department will also be called on for troops.

Guns one and two are fifteen inches, smooth bore, and weigh twenty-two tons. They were cast in 1855. It required forty tons of gunpowder to charge them, and they carried a shot weighing 200 pounds a distance of 2,100 yards, to a target elevated two degrees above the horizon.

A Yelling Mob of Strikers Swarm Into the Duquesne Tube Works.

NON-UNION MEN DRIVEN OUT

Hot Metal Allowed to Run from the Furnaces and Fires Drawn—A Freight Train Nearly Derailed—Planning More Mischiefs—News from Other Points.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., June 6.—Notwithstanding that the mayor and chief of police claim to be able to control the riotous element here, it remains evident that what the crowd wishes to do is done without molestation from officers. The town to-day from daylight until midnight has been under practical control of an unorganized mob.

The first appearance of daylight brought the crowds from their element—some from their homes, but many from guard duty along the river and railroads, which were most thoroughly patrolled during the night because of the rumor that deputies were coming. By 8 o'clock large crowds had congregated at the Baltimore and Ohio depot and in front of the mill gates, ready for anything.

Nothing more serious than thrashing a Hun occurred until about 11 o'clock, when the mob, with whoops and yells, made a rush for the Davitt and McIntyre tipples across the river in Point View. Both of these tipples were destroyed and the slack piled fired, and six cars of slack were burned while the mob after accomplishing its mission returned to the works and depot area. During the afternoon and evening the crowd kept almost constantly on the go, sometimes on false alarms, but often for the purpose of carrying out some plan for the destruction of property.

Three barges of coal were sent loose at McIntyre's mine and floated down the river. Duquesne pipe works were visited, the men compelled to come out, and the mill closed down. Six cars of slack were burned while the McIntyre and Lake Erie yards became the strikers' thought they were intended for the mill gates, and they were for the purpose of carrying out some plan for the destruction of property.

A Move in the Presbyterian Church to Heal Differences. New York, June 6.—The movement of the liberal element in the Presbyterian Church has at last crystallized into a formal declaration of principles, which was privately circulated until a sufficient number of names endorsing it had been received to justify its publication.

HE MAY BE AN IMPOSTOR

Conflicting Accounts of A. C. Chewning's Starvation Story.

Statement That His Wife Wrote Him Letters Which Was False—He Is Known in Alexandria—Expert Medical Opinion of His Alleged Condition When Found.

Recent investigations have shown up Mr. A. C. Chewning, the alleged sufferer for food, in quite another light than that which sympathizing Washingtonians have shed upon him.

It appears that he has tried to work the same game before in Alexandria, and that his family is not in a destitute condition. It appears also that his wife was in with her husband on his scheme and wrote him letters, which she, and probably he, knew to be false.

There is a great danger to the really charitable people of Washington in the schemes of the alleged sufferer. There is greater danger to those who are actually in need, and whose representations are likely to be met coldly on account of the exploits of impostors.

Newspapers in the city have raised subscriptions for the man with good intent, but with little of that careful inquiry that is needed to protect those who are in actual want. Rev. J. C. Jones, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, of this city, was located in Basic City a few years ago, and naturally took much interest in the man who had been abandoned by his old home. He conferred with M. L. Welby, the real estate man, and the two made up a purse of $5 and telegraphed it to Dr. J. Chewning, and he is now in the city.

Yesterday morning Mr. Jones received a reply from Mr. Griffith, Basic City, Va., June 5.

Dear Mr. Jones: Your check for $5 is received. I hold it until I hear further from you. Mr. Chewning and I showed her a clipping from a Washington paper containing an account of the man who had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

The police of Washington have held many doubts in regard to the worthiness of Chewning, and have suggested that the money which has been sent to Chewning and his family has not been well bestowed.

Yesterday a clerk was accidentally stumbled upon by the police. The man who had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

Detective Boyd was in conversation with Mr. Smith, and he mentioned the name of Chewning's good fortune. Lieut. Smith then recalled the case of a man who came into the police station, and he mentioned the name of Chewning's good fortune. Lieut. Smith then recalled the case of a man who came into the police station, and he mentioned the name of Chewning's good fortune.

The lieutenant was much impressed with the man's tale, and told him to call again the next day, and by the time he would have the matter investigated and would have a collection taken up for his benefit.

Before the man left, however, the lieutenant asked him to give some names of any of the people in Alexandria City with whom he was acquainted, that he might be telegraphed for confirmation of the story.

The man seemed wary of giving names, and his peculiar actions caused the lieutenant to doubt the truthfulness of his story. Finally he gave the names of the man who had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

Lieutenant Smith met a man from Alexandria City that evening, and asked him what he knew of the man who had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

Chewning then admitted that he had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

Dr. Leonard Bell, at the Emergency hospital, who has had charge of Mr. Chewning since his arrival at the hospital on Sunday evening, said to the Times man last night that there were no symptoms of Chewning's sickness which could not have been affected if he wished to do so.

The doctor could not be expected to say, from his knowledge of the case, whether he believed the man to be shamming or not. He could only say that the man had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home. He had been abandoned by his old home.

Mr. Chewning, and she received it without a word of verbal thanks. She immediately left and did not return to the hospital during the evening.

Convict Labor Hearing. The subcommittee of the House Committee on Labor in charge of the bills bearing on convict labor legislation will give a public hearing at its room in the Capitol Thursday, June 7, 1894, at 7.30 p. m.

HON. D. H. MERCER WEDS. A Quiet Ceremony Yesterday at St. John's Episcopal Church.

Dr. Randolph McKim performing the ceremony. The bride is a sister-in-law of Judge Loehren, the Commissioner of Pensions, who escorted her to the altar and gave her hand in marriage. There were no sisters or bridesmaids. Representative Cousins, of Iowa, officiated as best man.

NINE SUBPOENAS ISSUED. Senate Investigating Committee Has Issued More Witnesses for Friday.

The cases of correspondents Edwards and Shriver have not been presented to the grand jury of the District, owing to the delay of the Senate in transmitting additional evidence for the consideration of that body. The cases will, however, be placed before the grand jury Friday morning, and until they have been presented no witnesses will be summoned. Senator Gray, the chairman of the select committee before which the correspondents were called, never questioned any of the witnesses.

The Senate committee will probably not hear further from Friday. Subpoenas have been issued for a half dozen or more witnesses, and for some of them it will probably be necessary to send away from the city. The committee has also issued subpoenas for the men who are to be summoned.

Representative Cadmus, of New Jersey, testified yesterday as to the circumstances under which the wire was connected. Mr. Gaston, who had related to him the details of the night conference at the Arlington hotel, Mr. Cadmus said that Mr. Gaston had met him in the hotel corridor on the morning following the night of the conference and had slipped him on the shoulder with an evident show of satisfaction, saying: "Cadmus, I don't believe that tariff bill is going to pass."

He then related to the Congressman how the loud discussion had continued throughout the foregoing night. The details as to the wire were given by Mr. Gaston. The main point of them was that they appeared to have led Mr. Cadmus to the conclusion, which he frequently repeated, that he felt satisfied the tariff bill would not pass.

The committee asked Mr. Cadmus to give the names of the persons who were present at the night conference. Mr. Cadmus said that he did not recall that Mr. Gaston mentioned the names of any public men or others present. Mr. Cadmus added with emphasis that if he recalled the names he would positively decline to give them to the committee.
