

JUDGING

By the advertisements the clothing trade is very much worried over our $8.50 and $12.50 sale of Men's Suits, and well they might be. Just think of getting such garments as WE sell at $10, $12, $15, $16.50 and $18 for $8.50, and the $20, $22.50, $25, $27.50, and $30 for $12.50. Styles and qualities that they can't equal at any price. The very best of the products of such world-renowned firms as Rogers, Peet & Co., and Brokaw Bros., of New York. The same sterling qualities and perfect fitting garments that have always been characteristic of OUR house. Come in to-morrow if you haven't been in yet. There's no doubt of your being suited and fitted, for we have added several more lots of our best sellers that have become broken in sizes, and remember at the reduced prices as well as the original. OUR unqualified guarantee is back of every garment, and you know what that means.

See our Selection of 50c. NECKWEAR. It Beats the world at that price. Others ask 75c. and $1.00 for the same qualities.

Wright, to be assistant surgeon, with the rank of colonel; Major Alfred A. Woodruff, to be deputy surgeon general, with the rank of lieutenant colonel; Capt. William R. Hall, assistant surgeon, to be surgeon; Second Lieut. Charles C. Gallup, Fifth artillery, to be first lieutenant; First Lieut. William F. Evans, Nineteenth infantry, to be captain; First Lieut. Robert J. C. Irvine, Eleventh infantry, to be captain; Second Lieut. T. G. Hanson, Nineteenth infantry, to be first lieutenant; Second Lieut. Herman Hall, Fourth infantry, to be first lieutenant.

R. H. TAYLOR IS MISSING.

Customers of the Stock Broker Anxious to Learn His Whereabouts
R. H. Taylor, a stock broker doing business on the second floor of 1423 F street northwest, suddenly left the city yesterday, presumably on a wedding trip.
It transpires that some of his customers asked for money Friday, and he put them off until yesterday, saying he was preparing for a wedding tour, and was too busy to attend their wants until the next day.
Morning came, and according to promise Taylor's customers were on hand, but that gentleman had left town without saying where he was going or when he would return. The amount of money due his customers is not definitely known, but is mostly in small amounts which were invested in Chicago gas stocks.

Cox-Hogan.

The many friends of Adelbert W. Cox will be surprised to learn of his marriage to Miss Georgiana Hogan, of Washington, D. C., by the Rev. Watson Case, on June 13. The couple, after a short trip, returned to their future home, No. 448 New York avenue northwest, where they will be pleased to receive their friends.

Five Dollars Reward

Will be given for the arrest and conviction of any parties stealing Tax Tickets from the houses of subscribers.

LIVELY TIME IN PROSPECT.

John McGowan Will Carry His Fight Against the New Sewer Plan Before the District Committee.

There will be a lively time at the hearing which is to come off on Tuesday morning before the House Committee on the District of Columbia. Gen. W. W. Dudley will be there as the representative of John McGowan, the engineer and contractor of this city.
Gen. Dudley will again tell the committee what his client proposes to do in providing the District with a system of sewerage at an expense of $1,000,000, and in view of what he has to say he will ask them, by inference if not in plain words, why it is that the Commissioners endorse a scheme of sewerage which will cost $4,000,000 and which he will claim is inferior to Mr. McGowan's plan.

Gen. Dudley has had the entire scheme, generally known as the sewerage plan of 1890, prepared by the sanitary engineer, analyzed, and will point out what his client considers its weak points. He will show, it is claimed, that the plan proposes to destroy sewers valued at $1,000,000, or to make them useless by diverting the sewers into the new channels which are contemplated by the plan of 1890.

Some time ago Mr. McGowan had a hearing before the District Commissioners, when he outlined his scheme for constructing intersecting sewers around the city along the water's edge, but there has been no inclination on the part of the committee to recommend his plan to Congress for adoption. Now that the bond issue is being pressed upon Congress Mr. McGowan will make every effort to show that his scheme is cheaper and more advantageous than that which the Commissioners have recommended.

Night Have Caused Much Damage.
An alarm of fire was turned in last night for a slight blaze in a four-story office building at No. 519 Seventh street. But for the prompt action of the fire department it might have led to serious results.
The blaze originated from a lamp burning in the tailor shop of William Apperson. The rooms were slightly damaged, principally by water. The roof of the building was drenched with water, but no serious damage was done.

Lord Lansdale's Yacht First.

SOUTHAMPTON, June 16.—At the royal Southampton regatta, for twenty raters, over 100 yachts, including the yacht "Deirdre," owned by Lord Lansdale, was first, Dragon was second, and Luna was third.

THE BITTER END!

In the center of this advertisement you will see the reproduction of a letter which we have received from the man to whom we are responsible for this stock of Boston tailor-made clothing. His instructions are brief and to the point. A mighty effort was made to close this stock out and make full returns by June 15—but it has been impossible to do so. The fact of the matter is the FINEST GRADES of this stock of tailor-made clothing are still here—but now they have got to MOVE—no matter what the loss is. Creditors are exasperated by the long delay—and nothing but cash will put an end to their clamoring.

THIS LETTER SETTLES IT!

BOSTON, MASS., June 15, 1894.
MESSRS. PRICE & LONG,
803 Penn. Ave. N. W., Washington, D. C.
Gentlemen: Return nothing. Sell the remaining stock of Boston Tailor-made Clothing at any price. Close it out at once.
Yours, &c.,
F. DONNELL, Assignee.

Here's a "pointer" for you. We are going to start in to-morrow morning and SELL this stock—half-price sales will be tame affairs as compared with our prices. We are going to clear out this stock of Summer Clothing in a hurry. Remember this is a stock of Boston Tailor-made Clothing—every suit and pair of trousers is of this season's manufacture. If our prices are not at least ONE-HALF lower than those of any of the alleged "half-price sales"—come back and we will make you a present of the best suit of clothes in the house. Don't get side-tracked—come straight to

CAPITOL ETCHINGS DRAWN ON THE SPOT.

The favorite Senatorial toga just now is a sackcoat.
Senator Bruce has more hair on his head than any of his colleagues.
Senator Hawley goes in for comfort in a compound suit—black alpaca sack coat, dark silk vest, and light serge trousers.

Senator Hill wears his Prince Albert tightly buttoned in all sorts of weather.
Folks have been trying to think whom Senator Proctor resembles with his whiskers gone. It is really old Smith Russell in "The Poor Relations."
Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is wearing the neither Fahrenheit in a dark suit, sack coat, and goes out of doors under a grey felt hat.

Senator Hill is conspicuous for lack of hair on his chin.
Senator Hoar is a member, sometimes known by their objects of concern as a "weed."
Senator Patton, sitting resolutely in his seat, appears quite studious as he turns the leaves of a publication. Some one says something about, and his face is really catching.

There is an old Scotch proverb enjoining caution of fooling with folks the skin of whose faces appears smooth and slightly drawn. The facial outline of Senator Hill is the faintest in the Senate.
Senator Sherman, Bruce, Power, Allison, and Fry appear to have a change in white teeth.
Senator Hoar wears a light-weight mouseline-colored suit, sack coat and vest, that accurately fits the neatly shaven skin of his chin.

The bottled sack coat is worn by Senator Manderson.
Representative Champ Clark walked into the Senate chamber yesterday with an effect that was absolutely startling. His ruddy face was clean shaven, and he wore an after-dinner smile which enhanced the homeliness of a soft, brown-colored sack suit. The collar of the coat was tan-colored, corresponding with the color of his hair. His hair is a splendid sandy, and the lines of his features form the photograph of a kind heart.

Senator Merrill is the oldest Senator, but he is wearing the newest and gayest thing out in pants, which with the correct crease and cool cream tint would be a perennial joy to a summer girl.
Photographing in colors. Considerable attention is being paid in Paris to the new method originated by a member of the National Academy of France for photographing in colors, the process being pronounced, from a scientific point of view, the most interesting ever invented in this line. Briefly, the operator lays upon a sheet of glass a very delicate, translucent film of chloride of silver, and against this film is placed a vessel containing mercury, so that the latter is in contact with the film. Thus arranged, the glass and mercury are placed in the camera like an ordinary sensitive plate, and, exposure being made, the image of the object to be photographed is projected upon the glass, passes through the glass, on through the translucent film, and is reflected back by the mercury behind. The action of the light splits the silver in the film into thin layers, which breaks up the light rays into their component colors. As the play of colors in an object is due to that object being composed of layers of quartz superposed one upon another—these layers breaking up the light into different hues—a similar result follows the placing of the layers of silver in the film, which, through the operation of a various law, reproduces the tints of the object photographed.

The Army and Navy FOREVER.

A pictorial history of the soldiers in our Civil War, with nearly 1,000 illustrations, issued in portfolio form, illustrating all of our greatest generals of the late war, both Federal and Confederate, including Grant, Lee, Sherman, Sheridan, Jackson, McClellan, Johnson, and many others too numerous to mention.
The thrilling experiences and hardships of our private soldiers is vividly illustrated, which portrays the story of camp life, eventful marches, and many daring skirmishes.
Frank Leslie's sketches and portraits of the Civil War is a work which inspires national pride and patriotism in the heart of every true American.
Of all historical works this should be in every family. Part four contains the following full and double page illustrations of our Great Revolution:

CONTENTS OF PART 4

1. Portrait of Gen. Robert E. Lee.
2. The Fourth New Hampshire Volunteers proceeding to construct fortifications at Hilton Hill.
3. Bombardment of Fort Walker at Hilton Head, Port Royal Harbor, S. C., by the United States Fleet.
4. Clinch rifles on review at United States Arsenal.
5. Capture of the Propeller Fannie by a Confederate steamer in Pamlico Sound.
6. Portrait of Brigadier-General Louis Blenker.
7. Portrait of Brigadier-General William S. Harney.
8. Capt. Wilson's Company, New York Volunteers, bearing Lieut. Greble's body from the battlefield of Big Bethel.
9. Death of Gen. Lyon at Wilson's Creek, Springfield, Mo.
10. Battle of Wilson's Creek near Springfield, Mo., under Gen. Lyon and Sigel.
11. Return of wounded soldiers from the battle of Bull Run, under a flag of truce, and transfer to the United States Arsenal, Louisiana.
12. March from Tipson to Warsaw, Gen. Fremont's army.
13. Fording Orange river by the Fremont Hussars.
14. Gen. Steven's Brigade entering Beaufort, S. C.
15. Arrival of Federal troops at Philadelphia on their way to the front.
16. Draining up recruits for New York Harke's Cavalry.
17. Watervliet Arsenal, West Troy, N. Y., at work forging guns.
18. The Eleventh Indiana Zouaves in Camp Meigs the day after Romney.
19. Bureau of Ordnance, Charleston.
20. Character sketches in Military Market, Beaufort, S. C.
