

SANTO REFUSES TO TALK

Only Before a Regular Tribunal Will He Disclose His Motive.

VOWS HIMSELF AN ANARCHIST

Killed Carnot Because He Was a Tyrant. Rioting Against Italians Continues All Over France—Mrs. Carnot Had Received Warnings Which Were Left Unheeded.

LYONS, June 26.—Santo was again examined by the magistrate to-day. He stated he had no personal grievance against President Carnot. He killed him because he was a tyrant.

The magistrate asked: "Are you an anarchist?" Santo replied: "Yes, and I am proud of it."

"Why did you kill the President?" "I will tell a jury, they shall know the motive that prompted my action."

"I pushed aside a carriage's horse. I had the driver consoled in my sleeve, and I had only to raise my arm. I aimed at his stomach and brought my hand down sharply, at the same time shouting, 'Vive l'anarchie.' The crowd rushed at and prostrated me, and I was beaten mercilessly."

"You persist in affirming that you did not have accomplices?" "Yes, but is the President dead?"

Santo gathered from the magistrate's silence that his story had been effective, and he smiled with satisfaction, and raising his hand imitated the stabbing. The examination lasted four hours, and the magistrate was convinced that Santo acted alone.

THREE RIOTERS BURNED TO DEATH. At 7 o'clock this evening a riotous mob gathered and marched upon the northern district of the city. Upon arriving there the rioters attacked and looted a number of stores owned by Italians. During the pillaging a barrel of petroleum exploded and burned three of the rioters to death. The rioting continues and troops have been hastily dispatched to the northern district. In addition, all the shops, hotels, and cafes in the district have been occupied by the military, and most serious trouble is apprehended.

APPEALING TO THE PEOPLE'S PATRIOTISM. LYONS, June 26.—The mayor has issued a proclamation denouncing as criminal the pillaging of Italian stores, and calling upon all honest citizens to assist in preserving order.

The archbishop has issued a letter asking the prayers of the faithful for the soul of M. Carnot, and announcing that a requiem service will be held in the cathedral. The press denounces the excesses and appeals to the people's patriotism. All the shops, hotels, and cafes in the district have been occupied by the military, and most serious trouble is apprehended.

CARNOT'S BODY IN PARIS. Met by a Mourning Multitude and Taken to the Palace.

PARIS, June 26.—The funeral train, bearing the remains of M. Carnot, arrived here at 3 a. m. The prefect of the Seine, M. Foubelle, and his staff, the prefect of police, M. Loze, and his staff, the railroad officials, and Gen. Sausser, the military governor of Paris, with his staff, met the train at the station, which was heavily draped with crepe and other emblems of mourning.

The ceremonies at the railroad terminus, however, were private, and consisted only of the formal transfer of the remains to the prefect of the Seine. The casket, soon after its arrival at the depot, was placed in a hearse in the presence of the officials mentioned above, and the officers of the late President's military household, headed by Gen. Borius, chief of the staff, and Gen. de la Motte, chief of the staff, and Col. Chalmers.

The hearse was then escorted to the Elisee palace, followed by five carriages, including a hearse, a carriage for the prefect of the Seine, and three sons.

Among those who witnessed the arrival of the body at the Elisee palace were the prefect of the Seine, M. Foubelle, and his staff, the prefect of police, M. Loze, and his staff, the railroad officials, and Gen. Sausser, the military governor of Paris, with his staff, met the train at the station, which was heavily draped with crepe and other emblems of mourning.

SYMPATHY OF THE AMERICAN COLONY. An address of condolence and sympathy with Mrs. Carnot and the government has been drawn up by the American colony in this city and is to be presented to Mrs. Carnot by Ambassador Evitts. The meeting then opened subscriptions for the purchase of a wreath which is to be laid in the name of the American colony upon the casket containing the remains of the late president. A committee was also appointed to arrange, through the United States ambassador, for the participation of the American colony in the funeral ceremonies.

REPEATED WARNINGS UNHEEDED. Madame Carnot has piles of letters threatening her husband and sons received before and after the execution of the late President. Not long ago M. Carnot, when walking the Bois with Gen. Boyon, chief of his military household, was shadowed by a sinister-looking fellow of whom he could only rid himself by retreating to his carriage. He had been warned from Brussels to beware of the Grand Prix on June 17. In December 800,000 francs were voted to increase the police force, but M. Carnot was left practically unguarded. During five years the prefecture of police was charged to secure his safety, and it will, according to the sharpest detectives to watch over him.

When M. Carnot was going to Toulon to visit the Russian squadron a warning was received from Scotland Yard that an attempt was paid to it. On June 30 the prefect of Paris telegraphed to the minister of the interior that a dangerous man named Santo had arrived at Lyons. This information was also ignored, with the Lyons tragedy as a consequence.

USE OF SANTO'S ACCOMPLICES ARRESTED. Paris, June 27.—An anarchist named Laborie, who is supposed to have been an accomplice of Santo, has been arrested at Montpellier, capital of the department of Hérault. The dispatch further says that an attempt has been made to blow up the railway bridge near Montpellier, and that a man named Laborie, who was arrested on suspicion of being the author of the outrage was found to have dynamite cartridges in his possession. This is the first instance of anarchist activity in France at the present juncture.

IN A STATE OF SIEGE. Italian Consulate at Genoa Sacked by a Mob of Hoodlums.

GENOA, June 26.—There has been serious rioting here, and all trouble does not seem to be ended. The disturbance commenced on Sunday night and continued until early this morning. A riotous French mob formed on the Avenue Thiers at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The police were unable to disperse the rioters, and several Italians were wounded. Later in the street were beaten and kicked. The mob was re-formed and proceeded shooting and firing vengeance upon the Italians, to the Rue Gambetta. There somebody cried: "To the Italian consulate."

The populace caught up the cry and a number of excited people ran down a narrow street where the consulate is situated, shouting "Death to the assassins! Down with Italy!" The police in vain tried to check the mob,

SAILING MIDST ICEBERGS

Thrilling Experience of the Bark Salina in Arctic Seas.

ICY WAVES LEAPING HIGH

Under Bare Poles the Vessel Was Driven Through the Waters by Howling Storms. A Week of Intense Anxiety—Finally 120 Miles North from Where She Started.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—After weathering terrific gales, furious snowstorms, and mountain seas, the British bark Salina, Capt. Salter, arrived here to-day from the ice-belt coast of Greenland. Her crew endured great hardships from exposure to the chilly blasts of the Arctic regions. Such weather was never experienced before by any of the crew.

The Salina left New York, March 20, for Ivigtut, Greenland, and reached there some little difficulty May 1. She was later and sailed for this port May 13. For the first few days she experienced ordinary weather and got to the southward in latitude 63, when there arose a terrific gale, a gale peculiar to her remote arctic regions. Although the wind howled from the south it was intensely cold, and rain, hail, and sleet added to the dangers. Every stitch of canvas was taken in and under bare poles the Salina was driven with remarkable force through the icy sea.

All on board were engaged in making things secure about the decks, as the seas were now leaping mast-high high over the ship's bows, and the vessel was being driven to and fro by the waves. The Salina sustained no damage whatever.

Nothing was heard or seen of the Peary expedition. Capt. Salter said that the prevailing southerly winds have rendered the approach to Greenland almost impossible, as the entire coast is now being hidden by huge icebergs. The Salina sustained no damage whatever.

The measure is very brief, the complete text being as follows: "That the first Monday of September in each year, being the day celebrated and known as Labor Day, is hereby made a national holiday, and the day of the month of September, the thirtieth of the month of July, and the fourth day of July are now made by law public holidays."

INSANE ASYLUM HORRORS. Patients with Skin Diseases Compelled to Bathe in the Same Water.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Some sensational evidence was given before the state lunacy commission to-day which is examining the management of the city asylums for the insane poor. Henry P. Bradley, who has been the manager of a grocery business for twenty-one years, with the exception of an interval from November, 1891, to March, 1892, when he was in the employ of the asylum on Ward's Island, said that raw material used in preparing the food at the asylum was the worst rubbish to be found in the market.
