Work in the Gymnasium Until After the Holidays—Athletics at the Carroll Institute Are Booming—Y. M. C. A. Boys Are Preparing for a Dramatic Exhibition.

The week preceding the great holiday time is always a quiet one in athletic circles, and the past week was no exception. Many members of the several organizations leave town for their respective homes to spend the holidays, and the gymnasiums are consequently quiet to a noticeable degree. Those who remain put in some good hard practice and profit by it.

When all else is stopped and quiet, basketball continues the one feature which keeps the gymnasium in motion, and to this game must be attributed the fact that the men are at work in the gymnasium who never before come into it for exercise.

They see that the game not only gives them the much-needed exercise, but tends to increase their interest in the organizations to which they belong. Nothing tends so much to interest a member of a club as the fact that it will be represented in a contest of this or that nature, and if he is interested at all he strives at once to do all he can to better his chances for winning that contest. Mayhap he will be one of the contestants, and he will be glad he took the interest he did in the beginning.

As was first intimated in THE TIMES, the Basketball League will get to work in earnest after the holidays and play the League championship games, which will in the meantime be properly arranged in schedule form.

It has been published in this city that the game of basketball interferes with the regular gymnasium work, which statement must be contradicted. In a gymnasium the individual work, and certain of the exercises which the gymnasium is open to all, and upon these evenings at least three gymnasiums are taken up with the new popular game, and the rest of the evening is given to the regular exercises. There is always a large number of interested lookers-on.

As a rule, these men who do some special work, such as Jack Bumpus or academics, do not enter into the game for the reason that they do not care to be temporarily stilled, and thus break into their training and work.

SOME LETTERS OF THE GAME.

It is frequently asked by interested lookers-on as to what constitutes a foul, and for general information I will give the principal acts which make a foul.

Any persistent, intentional delay of the game will be counted a foul.

Following acts constitute a foul:

1. Striking the ball with the fist.
2. Kicking the ball.
3. Reaching with the ball.
4. Holding the ball with anything except the hands.
5. Holding, striking, tripping, pushing, or shoving an opponent.
6. Needless rough play.
7. Touching the ball when it is put in play before it has been touched by one of the contestants.

The penalty for all fouls is a free throw for goal. This is done under the nearest rules, and the free throw for goal is one at a distance of twenty feet from the basket, and directly in front of it. No player shall stand nearer than six feet to the thrower, nor must the thrower be interfered with while attempting the goal from a free throw.

If the goal is not made the ball is considered in play at once.

THE BOWLING LEAGUE.

The silken championship pennant which was offered by Thomas A. Gorman, manager of the Maryland Cigar Company, to the Bowling League, has been received, and it is a work of art.

It is made of blue and pink corded silk, with heavy gold fringe and tassels, and the words "Championship, 1895," stand out heavily from the center. On the left appear the monogram composed of the initials of District Amateur Bowling League.

It is a work of art, and it is well to say that the pennant was made by the hand of a woman who will claim the honor for the first year.

It may be seen at the McGill building.

COLUMBIA ATHLETIC CLUB.

Many of the members have given up regular class work, for a week or so, on account of the holidays, and in consequence there is comparatively little activity in the big gymnasium of the Columbia Athletic Club. The basketball players are the only ones at work on the work, and they propose to make their winning team of the league.

New tricks are being developed and those with the signals will be used by this team. As the regular season is drawing to a close, it is a good thing if other teams could work on signals for themselves. It would help team work.

It is such as to work practicing for his next effort to best five feet ten inches in the high jump.

Sewell and Ross are finishing off their new trick, the cocked-hat, and will begin soon after the holidays, so that it may be well under way before the club's top-guns begin.

It has been decided by the powers that be that there will not be another evening of boxing this season at all.

The football team is now in prime shape to play Union College on Christmas Day. The regular team will be minus the good services of Harder, whose collar-bone was broken; Adam Johnson, still lame; and Johnson, still suffering in the Thanksgiving Day game.

Frank Johnson will come home to help the team in his old place. The team will, no doubt, make a good showing against the visitors, who are the champions of the New York Intercollegiate Association, and are a good, strong, heavy lot of players. About fifty other students will accompany the team and spend several days here. They will be guests of the C. A. C.

CARROLL INSTITUTE ATHLETICS.

The classes in the gymnasium of the Carroll Institute are taking an unusual amount of interest in the preparation for the exhibition to begin next month.

Prof. Joyce and Bauby are working up some new tricks in the latter part of the year.

The professor will also present a strong and novel acrobatic act with some of his pupils.

On the parallel bars there is some good work being done by Downey, Bauby, Carl Mess, Ryan, Becker, Hickey, and Leclair.

The programme will be made up of the above together with fencing, wrestling, and scientific boxing, drills with dumb-bells, wauas, and pole, exercise on the German bars and flying rings, in which the following juniors will take part: H. Hickey, G. Becker, G. McCluskey, Leclair, Stewart, Woodward, Donohue, Skelly, Barrett, Cox, Home, and Spurrier.

The basketball team is taking lots of practice. The regular team practices every Wednesday and Saturday evenings, and consists of Capt. Howard, F. Saul, J. Daly, J. Pierson, W. O. Downey, J. Bauby, and C. Skelly.

The juniors have a strong team, which gives the regulars all the practice they want. The team consists of A. B. Keck, captain; B. Leclair, H. Fossell, G. McCluskey, J. Barrett, G. Donohue, and W. O. Downey. May and Skelly are substitutes.

The big team will play a game with the C. A. C. next week in the C. I. gymnasium; the date has not yet been fixed.

The bowling team continues its good work, of which the members of the institute are very proud. It pays.

YOUNG MEN'S GYMNASIUM CLUB.

The good showing made by the Y. M. C. C. bowling team during the past week is very encouraging to the members, who feel that now the team has struck its stride, and it plays with renewed energy. There is plenty of good material with which to strengthen the team, and every one has an opportunity to play. Joe Hill, Kennedy, and Abell are strong bowlers and make a good showing when called upon.

McGraw has greatly improved in his bowling and helps the team where it is most needed.

For several weeks the team has had no regular practice because the hall in which it is located is being used for recreation. When these are over the team will pick up its practice, and then continue to chase for a higher place in the League. Its record during the past week was 100 games from C. I. and three from E. V. C. is enough glory for any team.

The play, "Private Secretary," now near its end, will be given on Tuesday evening, January 2, 3, and 4, in the club hall, C. I. street northwest. An excellent performance is promised. President Van Renth hopes the members will aid in making it a financial success.

William McGraw is a great "roofer" for the bowlers.

The regular game scheduled for January 3 with W. A. C. will be postponed on account of the club being in the hall on that night.

There will be a meeting of the board of directors on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Recreation Society is a good thing and might with profit to the members be "pushed along."

WASHINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY ATHLETICS.

The Infantry boys who take an interest in athletics are among the most active in that line in this city. They practice regularly and earnestly and may yet show some of the older organizations a trick or two.

The committee having it in charge is not fully satisfied that it has gotten together the strongest team the corps is capable of furnishing. To give every man an opportunity to "stroke" the team and at the same time to get out the best man, Capt. Lee is giving the aspirants plenty of hard practice three times a week.

Among some of the new material taking practice may be found Duffy, Biggs, Leach and Bentley. All are doing well. Leach plays a good left forward, Biggs, Duffy, and Bentley are in good form, and playing their respective positions in good style.

Capt. Lee is anxious for a game with the National Rifle or the Carroll Institute, and is ready to play at any time a game can be arranged.

Bartholomew has joined the ranks of the Infantry. He has not given up his athletic work, however, but is perfecting his tricks on the horizontal bar.

Harry Lee, Waters and Schmitt are working on a bar act on the parallel bars. A novelty hereabouts.

James, of Company D, who was at one time an excellent amateur boxer in the heavy-weight class, has taken up boxing again. He and Waters would make a good match.

As there is a great quantity of good material in the corps there is talk of forming a side outfit.

On Friday next at 8 o'clock the gymnasium armory will be given up to the wives and children and sweethearts of the soldiers for the annual Christmas celebration. There will be a big tree and on it presents for all the little ones. A jolly good time and a collection for the soldier boys may be expected. A short program of entertainment will be given in aid of the attractive programme now being arranged.

OSCAR P. SCHMIDT.

LOCALS' MAKE-UP IN DOUBT

Several of the C. A. C. Reliably Will Probably Be Absent.

Indications Point to a Very Interesting Contest at National Park—Schenectady Boys Will Arrive To-morrow Evening, Accompanied by Many Friends—Police Arrangements Will Preclude Any Singing.

Great interest is being taken in the football game on Christmas day at National Park between the Columbia Athletic Club team and the Union College eleven of Schenectady, New York. Owing to injuries, absences and other causes the make-up of the Columbia team cannot yet be determined upon. Phil King, George Brooke, Will Church, and Hawley Tausig are all possible players, as they are eligible, being members of the C. A. C. Those who will be surely seen on the gridiron are:

At right tackle Pat Wells, with his 170 pounds, is sure to be on hand. Frank Johnson is now in Philadelphia, but will come to time at his own position of left tackle. Dickinson, with 195 pounds in his favor, will show up, as heretofore, at right guard, and a good show-up it will be. The corresponding position on the left of the line is doubtful, and the name of the person filling it will not probably be known until Monday. Gapsen will, of course, fill center and can certainly do it very easily. Brown is captain and quarterback. For the past three years he played a line game at tackle, but to better handle his men he has played at quarter this season. As captain he is active and prompt to see and take advantage of any weakness in the opponents' line. He is one of the best players in the football arena. Backer, left half back, and right half back, and the position for several years. He keeps well with his interference and has a good head on him. Myers will play right half back. He is a full-blooded and frequently makes a good play. Palmer, who will be found at left tackle, is quick to break through, and is excellent in leading the interferences. For two years he has played the position. Peters will play at right tackle, and no doubt in a manner to retain the reputation he gained with the Williams College team. Mallory plays an admirable game at right end. He is quick as a cat, and always follows the ball and tackles on the spot at which the ball may be caught. Outback, left end, is conversant with his duties and thoroughly capable of performing them. The substitutes who will accompany the team are Gordon, Glowe, and Cass.

EDWIN'S LINE UP.

Name	Position
Palmer	Left tackle
Palmer	Right tackle
Palmer	Center
Palmer	Quarterback
Palmer	Right guard
Palmer	Left guard
Palmer	Right half back

The game will be called at 12 m., and the gates at National Baseball Park opened an hour earlier. Seats can be reserved for the game at Metropolitan.

Bicycle Records Allowed.

New York, Dec. 22.—That the League of American Wheelmen racing board has accepted the records of John Johnson at Chillicothe, Ohio, will cause much surprise. The records of Calahan, Murphy, and Kennedy, made at the same place, has also been allowed. The following records have been approved:

Grave Problems of Sea Coast Defenses Happily Solved, Says Secretary Lamont.

The annual report of the board of ordnance and fortifications sent to Congress by Secretary Lamont says that the year has been one of positive and satisfactory advance.

The want of suitable carriage for 8-inch and 10-inch high power guns, which has so long retarded the completion of equipments is believed to have been obtained, so that we now have carriages of American invention, unequalled for rapidity of action by anything heretofore invented.

Nothing now stands in the way of immediate completion of the contemplated mortar batteries, which form so important a factor in the defense of seaports, but the want of appropriations.

DR. SHADE'S DISCOVERY.

Adopted by Physicians in Europe—Dr. Shade's Mineral Treatment In Demand at Home and Abroad.

Dr. J. B. Shade, of Lehigh county, Pa., visited Dr. Shade, having made arrangements to do so a few weeks ago, tracing a young man who had contracted the mineral treatment, as advocated by Dr. Shade's opinion. The treatment for tubercular and atrophy of the left shoulder, which he had contracted, was cured by the use of Dr. Shade's mineral treatment.

Dr. Shade consulted Dr. Shade while on a visit of eight months to Europe, and was told in Vienna that the mineral treatment, as advocated by Dr. Shade of the United States, was undoubtedly the best treatment for tubercular and atrophy of the left shoulder, and gave best results of any treatment.

He also visited Dr. Koch at Berlin, and made inquiry of him what he thought of Dr. Shade's mineral treatment.

Dr. Koch said he had not fully satisfied himself yet in regard to the mineral treatment, but having come to his notice but lately.

Dr. Brodet says Dr. Shade's plan of treatment is being rapidly adopted throughout Europe. He says many physicians are using it quietly in their own private practice.—The Washington Post.

WASHINGTON'S "HOBBO" CASES.

Police Make Another Raid on Tramps Near the Capital.

Tramps from all sections of the country are informed while on route to Washington of the existence of the "hobbo" caves or adobe which have been constructed heretofore by the "Wandering Willie" fraternity who have sojourned here while investigating the beauty of the Capital City, and incidentally by being the good houses for "hand-outs" of cold victuals.

One of these caves was situated in the rear of the Washington Monument; another is on the Potomac as beyond the bridge. Bridge, while the one most often populated by "hard-up" waylifers is situated near the Anacostia freight yards.

These caves are rudely constructed, but warm on the inside, as they are fitted with fire-pipes and rude benches which are used as beds.

They are illuminated at night by lanterns, which were no doubt stolen from brick piles or other street structures.

The police raid these caves regularly, and on the last night a procession of the "hobbo" cavemen, yesterday night, of the mounted men, and some of his officers had a detachment of seven tough looking men, and a detachment of seven men, to investigate the caves, and to see if there were any more of the good houses for "hand-outs" of cold victuals.

They are illuminated at night by lanterns, which were no doubt stolen from brick piles or other street structures.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK FEARED.

Latest Smallpox Patients Lived in Thickly Settled Sections of the City.

As there were at least fifty children present at the funeral of Mary Taylor, at No. 16 Stone's Row, on December 10, much apprehension is felt that there may be another outbreak of smallpox in this city. Health officials are anxious to see that the Taylor woman died from smallpox, and not from the disease of Dr. J. N. Johnson, colored, at the time of her death, which gave her what was called a childbed fever.

She was removed to the pesthouse Friday, lived in the thickly populated byway known as Maroon court, in rear of Seventh street, and died there on Christmas Day. It is believed the disease may spread through that locality as well as through the tenements near North Capitol and First streets northwest, where the Taylor woman lived.

No new cases were reported yesterday, but the health officers are keeping a sharp watch on the infected localities, and will act promptly should another outbreak occur. Since Green colored, the last victim of the contagion, was reported from the pesthouse at a late hour last night to be in a serious condition.

CHARGES FALL TO THE GROUND

Friends of Judge Clarke Claim He Has Successfully Cleared Himself.

A delegation from Chattanooga, Tenn., headed by Congressman-elect Brown, is in the city in the interest of the confirmation of C. D. Clarke, as judge of the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee. The delegation had conferences to-day with Attorney General Olney and many members of the Senate.

Their statements will have much to do toward hastening action by the Judiciary Committee, which, however, will not be able to reach a decision until after the holiday recess, as no meeting can be held until Congress re-convenes. The assertions of those who are in a position to know that the charges against Judge Clarke have been fully refuted are of great value.

It is also shown that the most rigid inspection as to labor, material and method of building is necessary. For this force of the inspector of buildings, it is claimed, has been entirely inadequate, while the receipts of the office are estimated to be less than expenditures; hence the additional force and appropriation will entail no extra expense, either on the taxpayers or on the Treasury.

As an exhibit of its record, it is shown that in 1902 the receipts from the fees of the building inspector's office were $5,561 in excess of the expenses. There was also a saving of $19,000 in the architectural work, making a total saving of $24,561 in one year. Since 1883 the fees from building permits were $17,328,45, and the saving in the architect's services $24,561, making a total to the credit of the office of $112,817.75 in excess of its expenses.

MORE BUILDING INSPECTORS. I

Federation of Labor Committee Asks for Increase of the Force.

At a meeting of the Federation of Labor on Tuesday evening last the legislative committee, consisting of George O. Cook, and M. P. Cauty, were directed to appear before the Senate committee on Appropriations for the District, and to urge that committee to report favorably an appropriation for four additional assistant inspectors of buildings, asked by the Commissioners and the Inspector of Buildings.

The committee obtained a hearing on Wednesday. They presented a statement showing the absolute necessity of the appointment of the additional inspectors.

The committee also pointed out the fact that there has been a radical change in the method of building, and in the character of buildings, in recent years, and that this change requires a more stringent enforcement of building regulations in order to insure good and substantial construction, and to protect life and property.

It was also shown that the most rigid inspection as to labor, material and method of building is necessary. For this force of the inspector of buildings, it is claimed, has been entirely inadequate, while the receipts of the office are estimated to be less than expenditures; hence the additional force and appropriation will entail no extra expense, either on the taxpayers or on the Treasury.

As an exhibit of its record, it is shown that in 1902 the receipts from the fees of the building inspector's office were $5,561 in excess of the expenses. There was also a saving of $19,000 in the architectural work, making a total saving of $24,561 in one year.
