COMING TO THE THEATERS.

The farcical bills that have been presented for the past two weeks at the New National Theater will be followed this week by a work on more serious lines. This in accordance with the policy already outlined in these columns. Henry J. Byron's comedy drama "Married in Haste" is the play chosen and will call for dramatic work of a high order from the members of the stock company, for which they are in every way capable. While this play is essentially serious, it contains a vein of pure comedy that brightens it. Full of humor and a performance that will entertain as well as amuse is promised. The cast has been arranged as follows: Josiah Grainger, Alfred Hudson; Percy Pennington, Charles Gibson Greene, Charles Bowers; Augustus Vere, Charles Mackay; Mr. Munchance, James Wheeler; Mr. Butler, Percy Winter; "Rackham," Charles Gibson Greene; Francis Giddie; Ethel Grainger, Miss Lillian Lawrence; Mrs. Grainger, Mrs. Fanny Addison Pitt; Pritchard, Miss Francis Blaine; Miss, Mrs. Mary Didden. The scene is laid in England at the present time.

"Married in Haste" will be preceded at each performance by "A Happy Pair," one of last season's successes, presented by Miss Sanders and Mr. Wheeler. Numerous requests have been made for the revival of "On an Island," which has been so popular in past seasons. The management of the New National Stock Company promises its production at an early date.

The seventh week of successful stock productions at the Grand Opera House, beginning to-morrow evening, will be devoted to a revival of that favorite comic play, "My Awful Dad." The previous presentation of this laughable piece, during the past two summer seasons broke all records in the way of summer stock productions and the coming revival will undoubtedly be a repetition of the "Dad's" former successes. Mr. Bond, Mr. Findlay and Mrs. Findlay will be seen in the same characters as played by them before. The cast includes Mr. Walsh as the charming widow, Mrs. Wedgman, and Mr. Able as the young lawyer, Richard Evergreen, the performance will undoubtedly exceed all former ones. For the entire play an actual novelty will be presented, entitled, "Romeo's First Love," written by that celebrated English writer, A. E. Lanchester. The play is an exquisite trifle in blank verse and treats of Romeo's love for Rosaline before his tragic meeting with Juliet. The first character in the character of "Romeo" will be one of the attractive features of the performance.

The marked enthusiasm with which the boxing contests have been received at the Lyceum during the past two weeks has encouraged Manager Kernan to continue the sports series of contests. Mr. Bond, Mr. Findlay and Mrs. Findlay will be seen in the same characters as played by them before. The cast includes Mr. Walsh as the charming widow, Mrs. Wedgman, and Mr. Able as the young lawyer, Richard Evergreen, the performance will undoubtedly exceed all former ones. For the entire play an actual novelty will be presented, entitled, "Romeo's First Love," written by that celebrated English writer, A. E. Lanchester. The play is an exquisite trifle in blank verse and treats of Romeo's love for Rosaline before his tragic meeting with Juliet. The first character in the character of "Romeo" will be one of the attractive features of the performance.

The marked enthusiasm with which the boxing contests have been received at the Lyceum during the past two weeks has encouraged Manager Kernan to continue the sports series of contests. The last two summer seasons broke all records in the way of summer stock productions and the coming revival will undoubtedly be a repetition of the "Dad's" former successes.
