MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 29.-Reidy's pitching was too much for the Senators this afternoon and they dropped the last game of the series to the Brewers, giving the Milwaukee team three out of the fo games. It was a runaway race, as the Brewers batted Carrick hard enough during the first four innings to win twice

The Senators were not able to do any thing with Reidy's delivery and appeared outclassed. The intense heat took a great deal of the life out of the players and after the game had been practically won by the home team, the men became list-less and did not put the ginger into their work that they would if the score had been close. The fielding was clean and some pretty catches were made on each

Anderson's batting was a feature of th game, the big first baseman getting two singles and two doubles out of four times at bat. Clingman also batted well for the Senators, having three hits out of four times up. The Brewers started pounding Carrick from the jump. Three successive singles in the first inning gave them one run. In the second inning the home team scored five runs on a base on balls, three singles, and a double, and an error by Clarke, who dropped an easy thrown ball at-the plate. Carrick also forced in a run by giving a base on balls.

In the fourth inning singles by Conro and Hogriever and doubles by Anderson and Duffy gave the Brewers three more runs. That was the end of the scoring for the home team, as Carrick braceed up and pitched better ball.

The lone run scored by Washington was in the third inning. Clingman made a two-base hit and scored on Farrell's single. In the fourth the Senators had two men on bases, but could not get them around. The same thing happened in the eighth. The score:

BALTIMORE BRACES UP

After Losing Two Games to Detroi the Visitors Win.

DETROIT, July 28.-After losing two games to Detroit the Baltimores went in today determined to win. They did. Cronin, never effective against McGraw's crew, had to pitch because Miller was ill. The visitors picked out hits and runs by doubles and triples, and though the home team tied the score in the third inning. after the sixth it was all Baltimore. The R H. PO. A. E.

MANNING AFTER PLAYERS. He Has Practically Secured Atherton, of the Buffalon.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 29,-It is understood that Manager Manning, of Washington, has practically secured Charlie Atherton, second baseman of the Buffalo club, who was suspended last week. He is also after First Baseman Carey, of the Buffalo club. Pitcher Mercer will join the Washington club Mercer will join the Washington club again at Baltimore.

Manager Duffy today secured Third Baseman Root, of Kaiamazoo, Mich, on trial, but he will not fill the bill. The Washington club offered Geier a trial, but the latter wanted 1400 a month, and Clarke refused to pay it. Geier's notice of release expires tomorrow.

BASEBALL RUMORS REVIVED. Report of the Dropping of Brooklyn

Still Discussed. NEW YORK, July 29. The report that Brooklyn will be dropped from the National League circuit and Washington taken on instead, is still a matter of dis-cussion. Hanlon and Charles Ebbetts, the Brooklyn president, have made frequent and vigorous denials that such a thing is on the tapis, pointing for one thing to the fact that the rivalry between the New York and Brooklyn teams is a good thing for the game. It is also said that the American League is about ready to give up the ghost—that is about ready to give up the ghost—that it is losing money in several cities, and that McGraw and the American League promoters are at loggerheads. The helief is that if the American League does throw up the sponge, Brobklyn is to go into the Eastern League, with Manning, of Washington, or McGraw in charge.

One reason assigned for the reported withdrawal of Brooklyn from the big league is that Freedman has so decreed. There is talk of Hanlon taking charge of the Washington, or possibly the New of the Washington, or possibly the New Yorks, if Brooklyn is dropped.

High temperatures characterized the entire day. The morning was scarcely an hour old before it was realized that the mercury was once more rising. At midnight Sunday the thermometer stood at $2 degrees, and because of the humidity the suffering was, while not unendurable, very considerable. By $6 clock yesterday morning the mercury had dropped to 18, the lowest point reached during the twenty-four hours, and by $6 clock, with a fierce sun shining, it had risen $6 degrees and gave strong indications of soaring to much greater allitudes.

The omen was a good one, and at 16 o'clock in the morning coatiess Washington was going about its usual occupations with haggard faces with the thermometer at 99 degrees at the Weather Bureau. On the Avenue and in the business portions of the city the heat was much more intense, and 109 degrees was reached between the scorching heat from above and the stored up torridity from the asphalt pavements. Though July of last year was one of the hottest in the history of Washington, yet the thermometer yesterday was 14 degrees higher, at the maximum reading, than for the same duy twelve months ago. Scarcely a cloud in the sky served to temper the birraing rays of the sun and a breeze was not felt at any time. The day was one of the most exhausting which the city has ever experienced and load waits of complaint arose from every side as the day 'wore on and no showers came to break the heat.

Washington was the hottest city on the Atlantic Seaboard yesterday. New York Philadelphin, and the New England cities were cool by comparison. The highest official point reached on the Weather Bureau thermometer during the day was $6 degrees at a o'clock in the afternoon.

The following are the temperatures for the day. Midnight, $2, 2 a. m., $9, 4 a. m., $1, 6 a. m., 76 8 a. m., $8, 10 m., $5, 4 p. m., $6, 6 p. m., $2, 5 p. n., $6, 10 p. m., $2, 4 p. m., $6, 6 p. m., $7, 2 p. m., $8, 10 p. m., $7, 4 p. m., $6, 6 p. m., $6, 2 p. n., $8, 10 p. m., $7, 4 p. m., $6, 6 p. m., $6, 2 p. n., $8, 10 p. m., $

Mr. Voor, in his letter of complaint, tells able Days of the Season-This the Mr. Vous, in his letter of complaint, tells Hottest City on the Atlantic Sea- a tale of over-officiousness, indifference ack of sympathy, inhospitality, man's inhumanity to man. The letter is written on the note paper of the steam ship Mesaba, upon which Mr. Voos sumably returned to his Jersey City he The temperature took a sudden it jump of seven degrees over Sunon April 27. He went to a hotel and battled with insomnia until 3 o'clock in the morning. Insomnia won and Mr. Voos started to leave the hotel for a walk. But a waiter wouldn't permit him to leave until he had paid his bill. Mr. Voos rotested that his trunk was in the hoel and that he had arrived only that night. His pointblank refusal to pay caused the waiter to summon a policeman, who arrested Mr. Voos. "I was taken to jall and kept there for three weeks and two days for examination. On May 21 I was discharged-no case." But the subsequent experience of Mr. Voos was more interesting, and forms the chie, subject of his complaint. From Munster he went to Hamburg, where he visited, le says, a certain house. while the e was made drunk and robbed. The losses sustained by Mr. Voos are enumerated as follows: Two pawn tickets, one for a diamond pin worth $200 and the other for a gold watch valued at $46; a meerschaum eigar holder, a silverplated cornet mouthpiece, and a passport. From other statements in his letter he apparently lost $75 at the same time. What happened when Mr. Voos woke up is told my him in short, crisp sentences that show the indignation he felt when "I went to notify the police. I was laughed at. Then I went to the American Consul. I told him my tale of woe, He merely said, 'Pshaw!' and turned his back to me. I was indignant and expressed myself accordingly, when another German gentleman (presumably the Vice Consul) said: 'Do not make any kicks here or we will have you arrested.'

I left and went to see a lawyer."

It cost Mr. Voos 20 marks to see the lawyer. The lawyer told him that his money, $75, was lost, as the police would keep it for their trouble, but the pawn tickets would be returned to him in six months. It is an outrage, Mr. Voos says, the sale of refreshments. The money will that the police should keep his pawn be devoted to the ladles' society of the tickets and "thereby compel me to pay church, which will use it for charitable interest for six months."

Just what Mr. Voos wants the State Department to do is not explained in the etter. He closes with the hope, expressletter. He closes with the hope, expresscd to Secretary Hay "that you will intercede for me," but does not say whether he wants redress or only the pawn tickets.
The matter of bir. Voos arrest and imprisonment at Munster will not be taken up by the department, which holds that Mr. Voos remedy lay in the courts there.
A copy of Mr. Voos letter has been sent to the Consul at Hamburg. With the letter Mr. Voos sent his certificate of naturalization to show that he is an American citizen.

HARD LUCK OF A LIFE SAVER. While Rescuing a Negro, His Clothes and Money Are Stolen.

While Charles P. Buckley, of 744 Sixth Street northwest, was engaged in fishing Charlie Johnson, a negro, out of the river at the Bathing Beach last night some rude person took possession of the former's clothing and made off. Buckley pulled Johnson out of the water more dead than alive, and was then compelled to go home indignant because, he says, a watchman from a porch two stories high about a at the beach gave slight attention to his week ago. Thid you lose your coat and pants? is what Buckley says the guardian of life and property asked him.

As Buckley was wearing both coat and trousers he became irritated, and he says he told the watchman something. There he left the beach with his friends. Buckley states that he has been robbed at the beach before. Clothing and valuables, he says, are not at all safe there.

Brown, the neero, whose rescue was effected by Buckley, is eighteen years of age. His home is in the northwest section not far from Rock Creek.
