

MAIL CARS TO CONTINUE.

The Order Terminating Part of the Service Suspended.

The F and Ninth Street Routes to Have Been Abandoned Today—No Official Explanation Given for the Change of Orders—Postmaster Merritt's Views.

The Postoffice Department yesterday held up an order about to be issued to discontinue the mail car service on the street car lines operated by the Washington Traction Company.

It is understood, however, that the two mail cars now operated by the Postoffice Department on F and Ninth Streets will be removed some time in October.

Just why the Second Assistant Postmaster General should have changed his mind is not known.

Considerable pressure is said to have been brought to bear upon the department for the continuation of the service.

Whether the extension of the time until October is in the nature of a few days of grace is not known.

City Postmaster John A. Merritt has been in regard to the matter last night.

By reason of the fact that France and Germany are to have warships at the isthmus, it has been under advisement for some time.

Mr. Merritt thought that the mail car system in use on the Ninth Street line might not be discontinued in October next.

TO PROTECT OUR INTERESTS.

Three Warships Expected to Soon Arrive at the Isthmus.

Within about ten days the United States will have a formidable fleet of vessels in the vicinity of Panama for the purpose of protecting American interests in the isthmus and ensuring free transit in accordance with the treaty agreement with New Granada.

Orders were issued yesterday by the Navy Department directing the Iowa, which came into port at San Francisco yesterday morning, to proceed at once to Panama.

With her on the western side of the isthmus will be the Raleigh, which is supposed to have sailed yesterday for Panama from San Diego.

The Raleigh is, however, a slow-going ship, while the Iowa is also a slow-going ship, while the Iowa is also a slow-going ship.

It is also said upon good authority that one or two other ships on the Atlantic side have been told to hold themselves ready to sail for the isthmus.

Notwithstanding the fact that all of the vessels are to be stationed at the isthmus, the statement is persistently made at the State Department that no news has been received from the Venetian.

The opinion prevails that the department is unwilling to make public at this time.

By reason of the fact that France and Germany are to have warships at the isthmus, it has been under advisement for some time.

Mr. Merritt thought that the mail car system in use on the Ninth Street line might not be discontinued in October next.

A Prisoner Escapes From the First Precinct Station.

The Police Seize $5 Colateral by a Great Stroke of Luck—Six Bottles of Beer Abandoned in District Messenger Boy the Only Loser.

A prisoner giving the name of Andrew J. Miltstead, aged thirty-two years, escaped from the First precinct station last night.

From start to finish unusual features appear in the case, for Miltstead is credited with having nearly run over an aged woman at Eighth Street and Market Space yesterday morning.

Seated at the table, Miltstead appeared very busy writing a letter to his mother, looking at his several times from his desk.

There are several policemen who saw the messenger hurry out of the station by the front door, but none would say last night that he had seen the prisoner.

A HUSBAND'S DISAPPEARANCE.

No Likely Explanation of a Paper-hanger's Absence.

The mysterious disappearance of Anthony Moore, 212 F Street northwest, from his home, 28 L Street northwest, is still unexplained.

Moore is about thirty-three years old and has been married for a number of years. He has hitherto enjoyed the reputation of being an industrious, thrifty man and a model husband.

James B. Henderson, the paperhanger, gave Moore employment. It was his custom to ride on a bicycle from his home to the shop at 212 F Street northwest, arriving there at 7:30 each morning.

Moore did not appear at his work yesterday morning. His wife, Mrs. Moore, declared that she had not seen him since.

Yesterday Mrs. Moore notified the Second precinct police station of the case, and the officer, after a short search, endeavoring to solve the difficulty.

The Anthony Photo Goods Store

Leaders Since 1867.

The Anthony Photo Goods Store Goes on Sale Tomorrow.

Recall the fire of 60 days ago in the extensive New York warerooms of Messrs. E. and H. T. Anthony & Co., 122-124 Fifth Avenue, the largest manufacturers and wholesalers of professional and amateur photographic supplies.

Last week the final adjustments with the insurance companies were made—and to us was extended the privilege of first selection of the stock.

The Anthony sacrifice enables us to announce the greatest sale of highest-grade photographic goods that has ever been held.

Smoke and water did the worst of the damage. The fire itself scarcely scorched a single camera or a sundry item of our choosing. So while the boxes and wrappers are disfigured—the stock is practically unharmed.

Both the professional and the amateur will find it an event alike interesting and profitable. The selections we made include the Standard Plates, the leading cameras, dark-room lamps, tripods, photographic mounts, printing frames, fibre trays, etc.

15,000 Photographic Plates of Well-known Brands.

We will not guarantee the Plates, though we have made random tests and proved them to be in perfect condition. But they are sold to you in original packages, and we cannot assume any responsibility.

The Plates include New York Standard, Seeds 26 Extra, Seeds 27 Gilt Edge, Cramer Crown, Banner, Stanley, and Carbutt.
