THE PAPERHANGERS' STRIKE.

Both Sides to the Controversy Concedent of Winning. The situation in the strike of the local paperhangers for an increase of wages was unchanged yesterday. As on each day since the strike was inaugurated both the workmen and their employers expressed themselves as confident of winning in the end. It was stated by a member of the Master Paperhangers' Association that three members of the Master Paperhangers' Association in Philadelphia were expected to arrive in the city last night. Besides there it is expected, it is said, that a large number of their workmen will come here tomorrow. As against these statements the members of the local organizations of paperhangers declare that three paperhangers arrived in the city yesterday from Rochester, N. Y.; that they are members of the Brotherhood of Paperhangers and Decorators' Union and that they were offered by the members of the Master Paperhangers' Association. The members of Assembly No. 27, K of L, held a meeting yesterday and the Strike Committee reported that the concession made by the employers was not what they would win out within the next week. It was also reported that there are ample funds in the treasury to give financial assistance to the members who are sent for a physician. It was reported, it is growing less day by day, and for this reason it was said last night that there is a balance in the strike fund treasury. In this connection it was stated that the members of the Knights of Labor have been called to the attention of the organizations who are employed at the Capitol, it was stated last night, paid $25 as their share of the assessment. The amounts paid by other members, it was stated, ranged from that amount down to 5c.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED.

Found in the House of a Woman, Who Is Arrested. John Francis Campbell, alias "Bull" Campbell, colored, who was arrested Friday night by Detective Sergeants Baur and Muller, on a charge of housebreaking, now has three similar charges booked against him, and Sarah J. Hicks, colored, 25-cent Chamber Pails, Souvenir Price, 79c. 30-inch Wash Basins, Souvenir Price, 12c. When taken to Police Headquarters the woman said Campbell had given her the property, and that he had told her that he had been given a portion of it and had bought the rest. A gold watch and chain and other jewelry, valued at $25, that had been stolen from Ames H. Print, whose house, 159 Seventh Street southeast, was entered May 23, was identified, as was also a gold watch and chain, and a silver chateleine bag that were stolen from the residence of Richard L. Morrison, 394 Massachusetts Avenue, northwest, on the night of August 11. Later in the day, through the efforts of Detective Sergeants Browne and Lay, it was found that a handsome black fur, which was recovered in the morning at the residence of Mrs. Caroline Mack, of 24 A Street southeast, while she was in Europe. Her daughter, Miss Nellie M. Mack, also identified a number of rare coins that had been stolen from her. These had been entered by cutting a panel out of a cellar door on the night of July 15. Charges of housebreaking have been preferred against the man in each of these instances, and there is additional property that the police recovered that they are trying to find the owners of. General Convention, Episcopal Church, San Francisco, Cal., October 2, 1901. On account of the above occasion the Southern Railway will sell tickets to San Francisco, Cal., and return as follows: Tickets on sale September 15 to 25 inclusive, final limit November 15, 1901.

A DEATH DUE TO NEGLECT.

Grand Jury Asked to Enquire Into (Christian Science Practices).

The Coroner's Investigation Into Lila Belle Walker's Case Results in a Plain Recommendation---Healers Admit Receiving Payments.

The Coroner's jury yesterday waived responsibility in the case of Mrs. Lila Belle Walker, colored, who died while under the treatment of the Christian Scientists at her home, 62 Fenton Place northeast, Wednesday night, and recommended that the matter be thoroughly investigated by the grand jury. The inquest was held at the New Jersey Avenue police station, and was presided over by Coroner J. Ramsey Nevitt, assisted by Deputy Coroner Glazebrook. A small following of the believers in the faith were present and intently followed the entire proceedings. The evidence adduced showed that the woman had been attended by Christian Science "healers" who testified that they would refuse to have anything to do with a patient who was attended by a physician or who partook of medicines of any kind. In the face of this Dr. Glazebrook, who performed the autopsy, testified that death was due to peritonitis, superinduced by the bursting of a tumor in the abdomen that could have been removed by a simple surgical operation, in the like of which the mortality is extremely low. After reciting the time and place of death the verdict reads: "We believe that Mrs. Walker's death was due to a lack of proper and prescribed medical treatment. We refer to the grand jury for its investigation of the practices of Christian Science as a healing art in this case."

As it was necessary to take the jurors to 62 Fenton Place northeast, to swear them over the woman's body, it was nearly noon before the first witness of the inquest was called. The witness was Frank Gray Johnson, of 641 Second Street northeast, who was called to attend Lila Belle Walker about 7 o'clock last Wednesday night. She was lying on the bed in apparently an exhausted condition. Her answers to his questions were not satisfactory and he told her husband that she was beyond his aid. He examined her and found a distention of the abdomen, due, as he thought, to the presence of fluid. She apparently had no fever but did not seem to realize her condition. The husband told the witness that his wife had been ill for some time and that upon her request and that of her mother, she had been under the care of the Christian Scientists. Later he determined to have a physician. He told the witness that he was paying the Christian Scientists. The witness remembered that Miss Minke's name was one of those mentioned, together with another woman and a man who works in the branch postoffice in the Union Building. The names of the latter he could not recall.

Wm. H. Walker, colored, who is a waiter in a barroom, testified that he was in the house with his wife, but that owing to the serious condition of her health he had not called in, but quite her wishes to call in Dr. Johnson. He said that Miss Minke was at the house twice and prayed for Mrs. Walker, but that she was much better as a result of the prayers. He had started her three times to call in a doctor, but his wife had objected, and he had therefore refrained from doing so. A Mr. Post and a Mrs. Walsh had also called in, but the witness did not know that any of them had ever received any compensation. He said that his wife told him that Miss Minke had suggested that he secure a doctor. His wife had also suggested, he said, that she should get something for the cause of Christian Science.

Wm. L. Post, who lives at the Driscoll Hotel, testified that he was called upon by the woman's mother and asked to call on her daughter as a Christian Scientist. He was told that Mrs. Walker was suffering from nervous prostration. The witness has been in the city for two years and receives compensation for his work. He has no knowledge of medicine, as the Christian Science doctrine is that the diagnosis of symptoms, but with what the patient believes. Witness stated that he would not be making a medical diagnosis, but was set or not; that the prayers were all that were necessary. Witness said he had received nothing from Mrs. Walker on previous occasions.

Have you ever recommended the discontinuance of the medical services of a physician? Coroner Nevitt asked.

"We never treat cases where a physician is employed," was the response. The witness said that he was a graduate of the Massachusetts Medical College. He stated that he was unable to serve one on Mrs. Walsh, who was out of the city, and that he employed at the same office, where she is employed, refused to accept the summons for her. Mrs. Lucinda Robinson, colored, Mrs. Walker's mother, told of her daughter being taken ill on Monday and of her death on Wednesday night. Miss Robinson was known to be a witness as a "healer" and was called in at the request of the sick woman. Miss Robinson had called the witness to her home once thereafter. She told the witness that she, Miss Minke, had not the time to attend to the case. She did not know of Miss Minke or Mr. Post receiving any compensation for their services. Miss Emma Minke, a music teacher of 1115 Ninth Street northwest, stated that she had been acquainted with Mrs. Walker since last February. Witness had on several occasions advised Mrs. Walker to seek for a physician. Mrs. Walker had refused to do so. Witness was and is a Christian Science healer, and Mrs. Walker had asked him to come and pray for her. In the last illness witness was sent for to pray for Mrs. Walker, but did not take the case. She did not "take cases," and only prayed for the recovery of the sick. In response to a question from Dr. Nevitt, Miss Minke testified that there was no difference between that which she had done and that which she would have done as a "healer." Witness had never received any compensation for her services. If anything had been given her it would have been on a friendly act and not as compensation. She had received car tickets from Mrs. Walker on several occasions. Witness always advised that a physician be called in every case, but it would be inconsistent with her belief to treat a patient who was under the care of a physician, and she would refuse if a physician was in attendance. She also believed that physicians are the body of the devil, and she would not "take cases," God is the healer.

Deputy Coroner Glazebrook told of having performed the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Walker, and said that death was due to peritonitis, which followed the bursting of an ovarian cyst. Death was due therefrom. The case was a simple one, and such as is handled every day by surgeons with an extremely small mortality. In the opinion of the witness proper surgical care would have saved her life. This concluded the testimony, and the jury's verdict, as stated, was rendered.

SADIE STEWART ARRESTED.

Charged With Being Implicated in the Theft of Jewelry. Sadie Stewart, alias Sadie Samuels, was arrested in Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday afternoon and is held for the Washington authorities on a charge of grand larceny. Detective Sergeant James H. Browne left for the Smoky City last night to appear against her at the preliminary hearing before the United States Commissioner. The woman is charged with being a party to the theft of $2,000 worth of jewelry and nearly $100 in cash from Hazel Saunders at 128 C Street northwest on the morning of August 13. The youngest woman was an inmate of her home at the time and on account of her intimacy with Ward Stewart, who traveled under many aliases, she was arrested and taken before the Police Court, but was released by Judge O'Donnell on an extraordinary hearing. Stewart was held for the action of the grand jury and is now in the District jail. The stolen property was found in his possession and he was arrested in Baltimore the day of the robbery. An intimacy was shown to exist between the two people and it was shown that the woman had telegraphed for Stewart to come over from Baltimore the morning of the robbery and that they had been seen talking together just before the robbery. An indictment charging the two jointly was returned Friday and the woman's arrest followed yesterday.
