

COPPER THE MAIN FACTOR

The Stock Market Movements Dominated by These Stocks.

London and New York Affected by Break in the Amalgamated and Anaconda Issues—General Liquidation Shown by the Day's Dealings.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The stock market continued to be dominated to-day almost exclusively by the movements in the so-called copper stocks, together with the trade conditions, which are generally credited as being responsible for the failure of the directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company to declare the 1/2 per cent extra dividend heretofore ordered on the quarterly.

Both Amalgamated and Anaconda scored further exceedingly sharp declines on the opening of business, and the general influence of the break in these stocks extended even to the foreign stock exchanges, where all copper securities were notably weak. Rio Tinto shares declined nearly 3 points in the London market, and, in addition, the metal market, at that point showed a very sharp shrinkage in the quotations for spot copper.

It might be said, indeed, that speculative interest centered almost exclusively around the conditions prevailing in this important industry, and Wall Street was flooded with despatches from the various points of production setting forth all manner of untoward developments.

It seems scarcely probable that there should have been at this particular time such a remarkable combination of unfavorable developments in the copper trade, but at all events Wall Street is now learning of them virtually for the first time, now that Amalgamated Copper has declined some 20 points within a fortnight.

It might be added with propriety that a further sinister influence bearing upon the dealings at large today was furnished by reports that a large financial institution which had been closely identified with the promotion of the Amalgamated Copper Company was discriminating against the stock as collateral.

So far as could be ascertained these statements were misleading, and the fact was said to be that the institution had refused to accept the collateral in a loan on an undue proportion of which was made up of Amalgamated stock. Probably any other bank would have followed the same course, but the identity of the institution in question has not been observed in a long time.

This liquidation was not confined to any particular stocks or special quarters of the market, but on the contrary, was fairly general. A few stocks of the general class of C. C. and S. L. C. C. Canada Southern, and Lake Erie, and Western were comparatively firm on light dealings, but otherwise market movements were more or less uniform.

The optimistic view of this condition of things was that the decline in copper was not to be succeeded by another good advance. It was pointed out that the market had acted very much as it had done heretofore during recent months on a break. As soon as the professional selling stopped in other words the decline has stopped, or so said the bulls at least. The argument from this is that those who wish to sell stocks at the present level, neither the public nor the big people.

The other view taken of the situation is that the Standard Oil people are the sellers of the market, and that they believe it will go much lower. People holding this view said that the temporary rally at the close yesterday was simply due to the covering of shorts to take profits, and that there will be a renewal of the attack all over the market this morning and later in the week.

The gossip of the street, aside from the copper talk, was not important. The directors of the United States Steel Company will hold a meeting next Tuesday to take up the question of dividends. It is generally believed that the dividends on both classes of stock will be declared. The outlook for business for the coming six months is excellent, and at the same time it is said that the strike of the dividend on the common stock was earned. This is a very good showing, if it was earned. The steel securities held their own well during the break in the market.

In yesterday's bulge, was very slow. Country acceptances were somewhat larger. Contract stock for the week in-creased 7,000 bushels and are now 5,541,000 bushels. Car lots were 453 with 135 estimated.

THE CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET. Easier Tone in Corn Responsible for Declines in Wheat. CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The easier corn market led to a corresponding receipts of 1,224 cars, were responsible for the lower prices in wheat.

There was a moderate reaction in corn. After opening steady on the half-price advance at Liverpool, the market turned easier on selling for the account of leading London interests in which local traders joined. Shorts were buyers and the bull crowd took back some of their earlier sales. This caused a fair reaction, closing with a rather firm tone. The cash demand, which was the principal factor
