

GOVERNOR YATES.

Endorsement of Paine's Celery Compound

Attracts the Attention of Medical Journals.

Thousands of Such Cases—Mr. Storms' Letter.

A medical journal, says a writer in the "Boston Traveler," has the names and addresses and full histories of hundreds of cases of chronic and acute rheumatism that have been permanently cured by the wonderful remedy which has recently been attracting wide attention since Governor Yates of Illinois publicly endorsed it.

Nothing else has ever been known to cure like obstinate cases. When all others have failed this marvelous remedy for blood and nerves has made sick people well.

Paine's Celery Compound corrects unhealthy nerve action and feeds the nerve centres with the elements needed to build them up again into healthy tissues. It cleanses the blood of every trace of poisonous humor and encourages a rapid growth of the red corpuscles, upon which the vigor of the entire body depends.

Its action is perfectly intelligible to every able physician.

Diseases of the nervous system do not come without warning. Rheumatism, dyspepsia, insomnia, and diseases of the liver and kidneys are but loud cries for a prompt increase of nourishment for the brain and nerve centres. Paine's Celery

A WESTERN CATTLE KING.

Compound feeds these vital parts, and it is upon its marvelous power of nourishing all the nerve tissue and purifying the blood that its remarkable cures depend.

Weariness, lack of energy, and despondency are more a matter of nerves and brain than of the muscles. At this season of the year when thousands of overworking people are entering upon the dreariest that will have no cessation for nearly a year to come, many are already showing the symptoms that sooner or later result from hurry, care, anxiety, and haste without the amount of rest and recreation that nature intended.

Thousands of tired mothers, school teachers, and too ambitious scholars will reveal the strain before the winter is over.

It is high time for all to strike at the root of the trouble. Begin the work of recuperation and cure at the earliest moment.

All who try it will find strength and freedom from disease in Paine's Celery Compound, which corrects an unhealthy nerve action, and supplies the veins with pure, more abundant, more vigorous blood. Paine's Celery Compound is almost universally prescribed by physicians—no matter on many other things, but who estimate at its proper worth this greatest of all remedies for the prevention and cure of disease. It is no exaggeration to say that every week brings hundreds of letters from those who have used Paine's Celery Compound and have been benefited by it. Above is the picture of Representative G. H. Storms, one of the cattle kings of Kansas, who says: "I regard Paine's Celery Compound as the most beneficial and valuable of remedies, especially during the fall months." He writes as he has many thousands of others of the good the remedy has done in his own case. Let the reader try it and prove for himself the abundant truth of all that has been said.

THE BRONSON ROBBERY.

Police Expect to Apprehend the Thieves Without Delay.

The police believe that they are on the track of the thieves who entered the house of W. S. Bronson, 1254 Roanoke Street northeast, Sunday night and secured nearly $15 worth of property, and that their arrest is a matter of a few hours. Detective Sergeant Bauer and Lacy and Patrol Detective O'Brien, of the Sixth precinct, who were specially detailed on the case by order of Major Sylvester, have been working hard to unravel the mystery, and did not return to their homes until nearly daylight this morning. They were very much embarrassed at what they had accomplished, and even earlier in the evening Major Sylvester seemed confident that arrests would soon be made and the criminal caught.

Mr. Bronson is the assistant general passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, and is reported to be one of the brightest and best-known railroad men in the country. Sunday night the servants in the household were called away, as all members of the family were also going out. The house was locked up by Mr. Bronson, who was the last to leave. About 9:30 o'clock the servants returned, but finding the house still locked and having no key they took a sabbath walk.

Mr. and Mrs. Bronson returned and on searching the house found that the window had been forced open and that a number of articles had been taken from the bureau in their room.

Major Sylvester, the Superintendent of Police, whose home is but a few doors removed from that of the Bronsons, and who is an intimate friend of Mr. Bronson, was notified and police went from the Bronson's to the police station. Detective Sergeants Bauer and Lacy later made a careful examination of the premises, but the thieves had not been interrupted and had not completed their work.

The missing articles consist of a lady's hunting case gold watch with chain attached, valued at $90; a pair of pearl opera glasses, valued at $15; a plain gold gentleman's watch chain, worth $10; a pocket-book containing some visiting cards and $25 in money; a bracelet set with pearls and other stones, valued at $25; a gold dollar and a Columbian half dollar.

THE BAKERS' STRIKE IN ROME.

Labor Troubles Said to Have Reached a Serious Stage.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—A despatch from Rome, which the Government censor would not pass, and which had to be mailed to the frontier, describes the strike of the bakers as a serious affair.

RECORDS OF LAW BREAKERS.

National Criminal Identification Bureau to Be Moved Here.

Board of Governors Meet Tomorrow to Arrange Transfer—Contemplated Legislation to Place Institution Under Government Control.

The meeting of the board of governors of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification will be held at the Ebbitt House beginning tomorrow morning, and the various chiefs of police that constitute the board are expected in this city this evening. Chief of Police Detisch, the President of the board, will not leave Cincinnati, however, until this afternoon, and consequently will not arrive until the morning of the meeting. It is possible that Chief Devery, of New York, and William Pinkerton, of the famous detective agency of that name, will also delay their arrival until Wednesday morning.

The immediate purpose of the meeting, and that which most interests the people of this city, is the prearranged determination of the board to remove the offices of the bureau from Chicago to this city. Outside of police circles the importance of this move cannot be appreciated. While in the local gallery of criminals is complete in its way, and contains the records and photographs of all criminals that have been caught here, it is lacking in the records of those who have operated in other cities.

This has long been a well recognized defect, and it has always been the out-of-town men that the detectives have feared. The securing of the photographs and records of any persons that might be suspected has been attended with delay that in many cases was vital.

The transfer of the bureau to this city means the placing at the immediate disposal of its law officers all known information concerning any criminal that has ever been arrested in any of the cities that contribute to the support of the bureau, which includes practically every city of any importance in the country. With the bureau located here, it is believed that this city will prove the most dangerous city in the country for criminals to operate in.

The zeal with which law-breakers are pursued by the local authorities, even to foreign countries, as in the case of Hawkins and Morgan, to bring back whom Detectives Weedon and Howlett sail for London tomorrow, is sufficient to appall the most experienced professional who, even now, shows an inclination to give Washington a wide berth. Another cause contributing to this is the franking postal privilege, which permits the Washington police to send circulars and all communications concerning police business through the mails without cost. It is considered that circulars, describing criminals wanted, are often sent out by thousands, and in one instance the distribution approached the million mark before the man was caught, the advantage can be realized, and the saving appreciated.

But even this advantage will fall into insignificance when compared with the presence here of the Bureau of Identification, which Major Sylvester recognized the value of the bureau shortly after it was organized, and has been striving ever since to bring it to this city. It is due almost entirely to his efforts that the transfer has been accomplished. It was through the efforts of Major Sylvester, of national assistance to bear that he finally succeeded in obtaining the promise of all the members of the board to vote for the transfer, and the present meeting was called by President Detisch to formally consummate the act.

Major Sylvester has contended that the work accomplished by the bureau has been so enormously successful, and has so thoroughly justified the claims of its friends, as to what could be accomplished by means of such an establishment, that the members of the board are thoroughly justified in asking Congress at the coming session to provide such legislation as will place the bureau under the control of the United States.

A bill to this effect has been introduced in the House, and it will be presented as soon as Congress meets. It is contended that despite the exceptional results that have been attained by the bureau, its sphere must be "nationally defined" as a part of the Department of Justice. STILL IN OFFICIAL MOURNING.

Thirty Days' Period Does Not Expire Until Saturday.

Considerable confusion resulted yesterday from ignorance on the part of many respecting the expiration of the thirty days' period of official mourning, ordered as a mark of respect to the memory of President McKinley, it was just thirty days yesterday since President McKinley died, and on several Government buildings the flags were displayed at topmast.

Col. Theodore Bingham, Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, then notified all the departments that the period of mourning will not expire until next Saturday, October 19, thirty days from the date of the President's death. Flags will be raised to topmast on that day throughout the entire country, in many business blocks the flags were flown at topmast today.

NEWS FROM ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 14.—James E. Clements, acting Commonwealth attorney of Alexandria County, and James W. Yates, editor of the weekly "Panopticon," published in that county, came to blows this morning in the court house on Fort Myer Heights. The difference arose in regard to an article alleged to have been written by Yates, which, it is said, viciously attacked Mr. Clements. This was the first time the men had met since the appearance of the article in print, and after some preliminary remarks the blows were passed. The men were at once separated and proceedings continued, as if nothing out of the usual had happened.

When the affair occurred the regular monthly meeting of the supervisors was in session. Both men were in the room of the supervisors and there were about twenty-seven present. Mr. Clements and Yates were seen in down conversation, and a by-stander heard Mr. Clements ask Mr. Yates, if he was the author of the article which recently appeared in his paper. He also heard Yates reply in the affirmative. No answer had been given to Mr. Clements' question, but Mr. Clements asked Mr. Yates if he was the author of the article which recently appeared in his paper. COUNTY LAWS CONSIDERED.

The Virginia Convention Discusses the Legislative Report.

Questions of Representation Sent to the Suffrage Committee—The Creation of Offices—An Adjournment Over Election Day Talked Of.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—The Constitutional Convention met at noon today, in accordance with the adjournment taken on Sunday. Fifty-six members answered to their names.

President Goode presided, prayer being offered by Delegate Dunaway, of Lancaster. Three memorials endorsing the Harbour resolution were presented—two by Delegate Furnish, of Brantock, and one by Delegate Lincoln, of Smyth.

Leaves of absence were granted to several members for short periods, except in case of Delegate Gwyn, who has gone home on account of illness.

On motion of Mr. Moore, of Fairfax, the convention resolved itself into a committee of the Whole, consideration of the report of the legislative department being resumed. Section 22, regarding the formation of counties, was taken up. The section provides that no new county shall be formed with an area of less than 600 square miles, nor shall any counties be reduced below that area. The report of the committee was adopted.

Mr. Thomas, of Norfolk, offered the following substitute for the report of the committee in reference to elections in counties:

In general elections, no county not entitled to representation shall be divided as to cause one part of said county to be represented by a person different from the person who represents another part of the same county. Mr. Dunaway, of Lancaster, proposed an amendment that in no election should a county be divided.

At Mr. Thomas' suggestion, the amendment was withdrawn, and referred to the Suffrage Committee.

The amendment of Mr. Brown was accepted, and as amended the section was agreed to.

This completed the report, with the exception of the question of quadrennial sessions, which comes up Thursday on the motion of Delegate Flood to reconsider.

The report of the minority—Messrs. Turnbull, Richmond, Carter, Vessett, and Gwyn—was read. The report prohibits any appropriation by any county or the State to any institution not wholly under the control of the State.

The purpose of the report was talked over for a short while, and at 2 o'clock the committee adjourned until 8 o'clock.

Judge Robertson, of Rockbridge, said today he had had some conversation with Mr. Brown, of Bedford, who would be represented as to the purpose and intent of his resolution in the Constitutional Convention, in the report of the committee.

Members of the convention are discussing the advisability of adjournment within the next two weeks for a period of ten days in order to allow the members to get home to their families before the election for the purpose of informing the voters of the status of the work of the convention.

The ninth annual convention of the National Spiritualists' Association will be formally opened at 2:30 o'clock this morning at Masonic Temple, Ninth and F Streets. A MYSTERY IN RICHMOND.

Second Man Was Wounded in the Locomotive Works.

Bullet Hit Manny Parker a Minute Before the Superintendent of the Shop Was Killed—Nature of the Injury Not Known Until Yesterday.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 14.—The mystery surrounding the instant killing of John T. O'Brien at the Richmond Locomotive Works on Saturday morning intensified today with the discovery that hardly a minute before he was shot through the heart, Manny Parker, one of his machine-shop men who was standing about fifteen feet behind him, inside the erecting shop, was shot in the back of the head.

Parker is at his home, 207 Venable Street, conscious and complaining of nothing more than a dimness of vision, but there is a hole in the back of his skull and no one knows whether the bullet is inside or where it is.

If the killing of O'Brien was done with deliberation, the first shot missed, and that was the one Parker received in the back of his head. The second shot could not have been better aimed, for it pierced the right ventricle of the heart, ranged through the lungs, and curved back to the ribs.

Parker was in the line of the rifle, for there is every reason to believe that a rifle was used. O'Brien had gone to the entrance of the shop to answer the application of George Myers, a stranger machinist, for a chance to work. The stranger, who was standing about three feet to one side of the superintendent, and the watchman, A. J. Williams was about three feet to the other side. Back in the shop at work was Parker—a distance of about fifteen feet.

The shot in the back of his head did not send him to the ground. He felt the jar and the sting and then the gush of blood, and believing that a piece of flying metal had struck him, he went into the storeroom. He was not there a minute when the superintendent's corpse was brought into the room, and in the excitement he and his wound were forgotten.

After a examination of the body the ambulance surgeon dressed Parker's head. He did not know until Saturday night that he had been shot and found it out when Dr. W. H. Parker, the well-known Church Hill physician, was called in and examined the wound, and then called for Parker's working cap. In the back of the cap was a neat hole in the fabric, and a bullet could have gone through it.

It seems a miracle that both men were not killed. Instead of only one, Parker says that the bullet is in his head. He is the only physician who has every trace of the wound having been made by a bullet, but the only effect he has so far felt has been a slight dimming of the eyesight.

When seen by a reporter the wounded man said that the shooting of himself and O'Brien was a mystery, and he cannot imagine how it was done or by whom.

The instant death of O'Brien and the death of the man who was standing only a few feet away from him, is a mystery that has not been explained. The superintendent's death was held this morning at the Henrico County Courthouse. The result was a verdict that he had been killed by a bullet which had entered through the window of the erecting shop, and had struck him in the back of the head.

W. W. Dunn testified that the bullet had pierced coat, waistcoat, linen shirt, a red flannel undershirt, a white flannel undershirt, and a red flannel pad used as a chest protector. The hole through this mass of clothing was clean and straight, and Dr. Lorrimer James, who studied the case and made the post mortem examination, with Dr. Dunn, said that the bullet came in a straight line, could not have been a spent bullet, and came with a great momentum.

PRACTICE AT GEORGETOWN.

A Scoring by Couch Church Followed by Good Work.

After a severe working by Couch Church, the Georgetown football squad, numbering twenty-eight men, went on the field yesterday afternoon determined to eliminate from their play that quality of timidity which was so manifestly displayed in their game with St. John's on Saturday last.

They succeeded in doing this more or less by the fact that they made several touchdowns, there being none to the credit of the scrubs.

The only very severe fumble, every man being on his mettle to do his best. The same was the fastest seen on Georgetown Field this year, and may be attributed to the fact that the coach kept the men hard at work, allowing them not even a breathing spell.

After the practice was over the team and students were much encouraged, and no feel confident that when Georgetown meets the Georgetown football team next Saturday, the local team will finish in the lead. The game that was to have been played on Wednesday with Western Maryland University was canceled by the latter.

The first touch-down yesterday's game was made in about twenty-five minutes' play. The scrubs made the team fight for every inch, but their centre was not as heavy, and consequently most of the gains were made through the line.
