GOOD BERTH FOR AN ARMY OFFICER.

THE QUEST OF MAYOR-ELECT LOW. Seeking the Right Man for New York Police Commissioner—General Corbin Declined to Accept the Position.

That Mayor-elect Low is endeavoring to secure an energetic, capable military officer for the position of Police Commissioner of New York is indicated by the fact that several efforts have been made to ascertain whether certain army officers would likely accept such an appointment.

Adjutant General Corbin, whose name has been mentioned, denied yesterday afternoon that he had agreed to accept the position. He refused to make any definite statement as to how it had been offered to him except to say that he had been asked if such an appointment would be agreeable to him.

General Corbin declined to say who had made the enquiry of him, but indicated plainly that it was not Mayor Low. He said he understood that several other army officers' names were being considered, among them Gen. Wesley Merritt and Gen. Fred Grant.

"As to General Grant," he remarked, "I guess he is in the same position as myself. I do not think he would care to leave a career in the army for the position. A retired army officer would be more likely to take it, though there is a resolution permitting an officer on the active list to hold a civil position, he, of course, relinquishing his military pay during that period."

General Corbin also mentioned the name of Gen. J. Ford Kent, retired, as an excellent man for the office. General Kent is well known to President Roosevelt, having participated in the San Diego campaign together.

PEARY'S PROGRESS TO POLE. Explorer Bridgman to Lecture Before Geographic Society.

"Peary's Progress to the Pole." The lecture which Secretary Herbert L. Bridgman, editor of the "Brooklyn Standard Union," of the Peary Arctic Club, and in command of the Diana, 1899, and Erik, 1901, expeditions, will deliver in the National Rifle Armory in G Street tomorrow evening before the National Geographic Society, is in its earlier portions a narrative of the northern voyage of the Erik from Sydney, July 14, to its junction with Peary at Etah, August 1, 1901.

The story of Peary's wonderful work along the northern coast of Greenland in the spring of 1900, completing the outline of the arctic circle unknown for a thousand years, is given with considerable detail, together with a map from Peary's field notes, and the story of the following winter at Fort Conger, in the Lake Hazen region, briefly told. An account is also given of Mrs. Peary's winter in the ice on the Windward at Fayer Harbor, near Cape Sabine.

The summer cruise of the Erik and the Windward in the north water, in Inglefield Gulf, the final crossing of Smith Sound by the Erik under exceptional difficulties, and the landing of Peary and his temporary camp on the south shores of Herschel Bay, are also described, accompanied by excellent illustrations taken during the cruise.

The lecture, as a whole, will be a thorough and adequate review of the work which Mr. Peary has accomplished during the three years of his arctic expeditions. A clear statement is given of his plans and expectations for his final campaign in the spring of 1902.

Interesting souvenirs, Lockwood's original record, his "Farthest North" claim, longitude 24, latitude 83, May 4, 1882, for eighteen years the most northerly point known, and the self-registering thermometer from the expedition will also be shown at the close of the lecture.

BLUE RIBBONERS TO MEET. Preparing for the Sixth National Anti-Saloon Convention.

Preparations are rapidly being perfected for holding the Sixth National Anti-Saloon Convention in this city December 2, 4 and 5 next. The sessions will begin Tuesday, December 2, in one of the most commodious buildings in the city, and will conclude the following Thursday. The call for the convention, as it is now being disseminated, is signed by Rev. Dr. Luther B. Wilson, pastor of Poultry Methodist Episcopal Church, who has been acting president of the Anti-Saloon League since the death, on May 30 last, of Hiram Price, its original president.

The local committee on promotion, including men and women prominent in the religious, temperance, educational, and business interests of the city, in endorsing the call, states that, among other inducements, Congress will then be in session, and the President of the United States and his cabinet, together with Senators and Representatives, will be among those who from day to day will be advised of the proceedings of the convention by the local press.

The committee of promotion will give an informal reception to the members of the convention the evening of Monday, December 3. A reception will also be given by Mrs. Henderson, wife of Hon. J. Henderson, ex-Senator from Missouri. A reception by President Roosevelt is in contemplation.

The First National Anti-Saloon Convention met in Washington December 17, 1895, pursuant to a call issued by the Anti-Saloon League of the District of Columbia, and signed on its invitation by representatives of thirty-two bodies. The convention assembled in Calvary Baptist Sunday School House, with Dr. Wilson as temporary chairman.

The American Anti-Saloon League was organized in the same place by the delegates present the next day, with forty-seven affiliated bodies represented in its original board of directors, including representatives of thirty-two bodies. The convention assembled in Calvary Baptist Sunday School House, with Dr. Wilson as temporary chairman.

The second convention was held at Washington in December, 1898; the third at Columbus, Ohio, in January, 1900; the fourth at Cleveland, Ohio, in December of the same year, and the fifth at Chicago in May, 1900.

The movement has now extended to thirty-six States and Territories, and over 200 bodies, many of them national and international, are included in the national federation.

SISTER LOUISE'S DEATH MOURNED. SINCERE EXPRESSIONS OF SORROW

Funeral Services Over Remains of Beloved Nurse to Be Held Tomorrow—Sister Regis Regarded as Her Successor.

Deep regret was expressed on every hand over the news of the death of Sister Louise, who, since the death of Sister Beatrice, September 25, 1900, had been the sister in charge at Providence Hospital. Her loss will be mourned by thousands to whom she had ministered in times of illness, and to whom her gentleness and life of self-sacrifice had brought relief.

Sister Louise passed away a few minutes before 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, surrounded by six of the faithful members of the order who had claimed the privilege of caring for her ever since she was taken ill, five weeks ago, with typhoid fever.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 8:45 o'clock in the chapel attached to the hospital. The interment will be at Mount Olivet. Fathers O'Brien and McGuire, of St. Peter's Church, will officiate, celebrating high mass. The pallbearers, selected from among the medical staff of the hospital, will be as follows:

Honorary—Drs. Bayne, Mallon, Bulky, Reburn, Sowers, Newman, Magruder, Cook, Elliot, Kerr, H. Kes, Burnett, Johnston, and Dr. W. H. W. Ross. Frank Hume, Joseph L. Norris; Drs. Richardson, Sternberg, Wynnan, Parker, Gray, Bowie, Repetti; George Repetti, Mr. Harbison; Mr. Robert, Mr. Butler, Richard Johnson, General Hays, Dr. Walden. Active—Drs. Cuthbert, Vincent, Marbury, Wall, Luce, Hammond, O'Donoghue. Took a Serious Turn.

Sister Louise's condition was most serious from the beginning, and at intervals Dr. John W. Bayne, who was in charge of the case, called in consultation some of the leading practitioners of the city. About two weeks ago there was a slight rally, but it was of short duration, and was followed by a turn for the worse, which continued until death claimed her. Hope had been abandoned since last Friday. Sister Louise had been the close companion of Sister Beatrice, to whom she was secretary, and, schooled under that gentle and devoted nurse, she had inherited her noble predecessor's characteristics.

Sister Louise was formerly Miss Mary Carey, of New York City. At an early age she became a nun, and was assigned to her work with the Sisters of St. Francis, which she followed for many years. She was forty-six years old at the time of her death.

The mother of the deceased, Mrs. Mary Lawler, has been in the city for over a week, and has spent many hours at the bedside of her daughter. She was not present when the end came. Two brothers and a sister also survive. Sister Louise, Sister Martha, a sister of charity in Troy, N. Y., while the two brothers, James and William, are engaged in business in New York City.

Newly Prominent Men. In her position as sister in charge of the alcoholic ward, Sister Louise became personally acquainted with many men of prominence in the affairs of the nation. This acquaintance was most valuable to her after she succeeded to the control of the institution.

Sister Regis, who has been in charge since Sister Louise became ill, is mentioned as the probable successor to the position made vacant. She has seen many years' service at the hospital, and is said to be fully equipped for the position. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war she volunteered for service in Cuba. At the close of the war she returned to the hospital, and was again placed in charge of the male free ward.

MUST GIVE TEN DAYS' NOTICE. Resignations of Teachers to Take Immediate Effect Unpermissible.

As a result of a practice which has become too common in the eyes of the members of the Board of Education, teachers who wish to resign hereafter will be required to submit their resignations at least ten days before they are to take effect.

Several times recently teachers have applied for leave of absence in order to get married and then have submitted their resignations, to take effect immediately, a day or so before their leave of absence expires. Consequently for that time they have received salaries and substitutes have been paid by the board for filling their places in the meantime.

The amendment to the rules which makes this provision was adopted at the meeting of the board last night at Franklin School. It reads as follows: "Every resignation of any teacher or other employee of the public schools of the District of Columbia must be submitted to a Board of Education at least ten days before the same is intended to take effect; otherwise the person so resigning the service shall forfeit his pay for ten days next preceding, as well as for the day wherein said resignation is intended to take effect."

Matters of great business importance was transacted. A number of resignations were accepted, promotion made, and Mabel D. Williamson was appointed substitute kindergarten teacher in the colored schools.

Wedded in Baltimore. Miss Margaret C. McCarthy, of Georgetown, and Michael J. Gorman, of this city, were married yesterday morning in Baltimore by Rev. Father Chester, of St. Ignace Church. Friends and relatives accompanied them to the depot and bid them good-bye as they departed for the scene of the wedding.

After the ceremony they left for New York, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return to Washington they will reside at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Gorman is a son of N. B. Gorman, of the Police Department, and is employed in the Navy Department.

Chase—Vaudeville. Polite vaudeville will be resumed at Chase's Theatre Thursday evening, when a bill of some value will be given. Beginning with the matinee next Monday. The programme will be headed by the Japanese conjurer Ten-Ichi, and his troupe of seven Oriental wonder workers, who will make their first appearance in America at Chase's Theatre. It is claimed that Ten-Ichi has no equal in the field of magic art in the world. Some of his tricks are said to be so skilfully performed as to puzzle even magicians.

The Gainsborough Octette is another set that has made a success on the vaudeville stage this season. The octette is composed of four young men and a similar number of girls, all of whom are said to possess good voices. Their act is MALAHIA CAUSES BILIOUSNESS. Glay's Tasteless Chilli Tonic removes the cause.

COMING TO THE THEATRES.

The National—Bertha Galtand. Daniel Frohman will present Bertha Galtand as Iphigene in Desires in Maurice Hewitt's melodramatic romance, "The Forest Lovers," at the National next week. This is the play in which Miss Galtand recently appeared at the Lyceum Theatre, New York. The drama follows the story of the book closely, and is said to be one of the best plays so far made from a novel.

The company in support of Miss Galtand includes: Harry B. Stamford, formerly leading man of Sir Henry Irving's company; George W. Barber, Stephen Company; James Oley, William Sauter, Louis Harrington, Charles Tuttle, Rhoda Cameron, Margaret Bourne, Carrie Thibault, and Blanche MacFarland.

Mr. Daniel Frohman has given "The Forest Lovers" a scenic investiture of much beauty, and such as is seldom seen outside of New York. The costumes, too, are said to be very beautiful.

Miss Galtand's last appearance here was "The Morning After." These two entertainers are among the most noted in the vaudeville world, and their previous appearances in Washington in the sketch "Counsel for the Defence" won for them a very excellent reputation. Callahan and Mack, the clever Irish comedians, will provide a budget of new jokes and songs, and Girard Leona's troupe of singing and performing monkeys will be a decided novelty. Mabel Sisson and May Stewart will furnish some bright and lively songs, and Zavo and Milla Hilder will present an act quite out of the ordinary. Lenore White will again be seen in a series of living pictures, and the cinematograph will show some new moving pictures.

Kernan's—Bowers Burlesquers. The title of "The Bowers Burlesquers" is one well known to the patrons of Kernan's Lyceum and should be sufficient in itself to draw good-sized crowds to Kernan's next week. This season's production is said to surpass all former efforts. An entire new show has been furnished. The Bowers are headed by the sketch numbers include Hays and Suits, in a singing and dancing specialty; Taylor Trio; Frank Taylor, Ethel Gode, and Tom Carter, in a new sketch entitled "The Turn of the Minstrel"; Henshaw, Francis & Co., in "A Trial in Vaudeville"; Macfarlane and Midgets, in songs and acrobatic dancing. New songs are composed by Janson, in negro melodies; Gilbert and Goldie, comedy entertainers, and the Indian Princess Yutakumme.

The performance will conclude with a burlesque entitled "Stamming," introducing all the newest fads in burlesque.

Josef Hofmann's Concert. The coming of Josef Hofmann, who created a sensation as a juvenile pianist some fourteen years ago, is exciting much interest in musical circles because of the successes he has had in the past few years, both in this country and in Europe. He will be heard in this city next Tuesday, at 4:15 p. m., at the Columbia Theatre.

After Hofmann's retirement from the concert platform when a youth he was put under the charge of Rubinstein, with whom he studied for a number of years, and who took great interest in his artistic progress. Hofmann has a wonderful technique, great strength, and fine rhythm. His interpretation of the concertos of Beethoven, Chopin, and the other noted composers are those of a great artist and master. He has an abundance of temperament and a beautiful sympathetic touch, and his endurance is colossal.
